Applegate Dairy Maintains High Standard Output

APPLEGATE, June 21.—(Sp.)—The "Clover Leaf" is the name of the new dairy on the E. H. Taylor ranch on Elk Applegate. Mr. Taylor recently started a milk route to about 70 Jacksonville and Medford customers.

A large refrigeration plant and aerator has been installed, making it possible to start the milk ice cold on the route. Mr. Taylor announces that he will maintain clean competition and not cut prices.

The Clover Leaf will be stamped on the bottle caps.

The Clover Leaf is said to be one of the finest dairies in southern Oregon, having complete modern equipment, a large cooling plant where cases of milk are kept until time for delivery, hot and cold water system, bottling room and aerator where milk is cooled to freezing point in a few seconds.

The barn where the 25 head of Jersey and Guernsey cows are milked has cement floor. The cows are all tuberculin tested and a health certificate from the health department allows the dairy produce grade A milk.

R. A. Brown, experienced dairyman from Eugene, has charge of all the milking, bottling and preparation for delivery.

All those who come in contact with handling of the milk wear white uniforms with the clover leaf design. In addition to selling milk, Mr. Taylor sells whipping cream, coffee cream and Bulgarian buttermilk made by Mr. Brown.

Bible School at Phenix Enrolls Many Youngsters

PHOENIX, June 21.—(Sp.)—The daily vacation Bible school which opened at the Presbyterian church here last week has been very successful and will draw to a close this week.

The school has been under the leadership of Miss Winifred Anderson of Grants Pass, with a corps of teachers and helpers from the local community.

Mr. Eldridge and Earl Courtney will be unable to be here and their places as teachers will be filled by the young people putting on special duty services at the church. Miss Eving will preside at the piano, taking the place of Marjorie Poling, who has been doing this the past week.

The enrollment of the school on the opening day and before the end of the first week had reached the 50 mark with average attendance of 40 each day. Larger enrollment is looked for this week.

JACKSONVILLE GRANGE WILL VISIT ROXY ANN

JACKSONVILLE Grange has been invited to hold its regular meeting with Roxy Ann Grange next Friday evening, June 24. The local Grange will conduct the meeting and furnish the program. A musical and literary program has been arranged with other surprise features. A large delegation from Jacksonville is expected to attend.

The home economics club covered dish supper which had been planned for next Saturday evening has been postponed for the time being. Further announcements will be made at the next Grange meeting.

FARMER KILLS WIFE AND FOUR CHILDREN

CANTON, Ga., June 21.—(AP)—Paul Hardin, 30-year-old farmer living ten miles southwest of here, shot his wife and four small children to death last night and committed suicide.

The tragedy was discovered today by Hardin's father. The elder Hardin said he thought his son's mind had been deranged by brooding over his recent arrest on a federal liquor charge.

BUTLER BRANDS G. O. P. PLANK AS GRAVE BLUNDER

NEW YORK, June 21.—(AP)—Branding the Republican prohibition plank as a "political blunder of the first magnitude," Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler today in an interview with the World Telegram predicted the party will "go over the dam" in November unless state conventions in wet, industrialized New England and Middle Atlantic states repudiate the plank.

The article stated that Dr. Butler would cut short his annual trip to Europe as head of the Carnegie Peace foundation and return home in less than a month to lead a campaign to bring about repudiation of the plank by the state conventions.

Dr. Butler is to sail for Europe Tuesday. He said today he would make a formal statement before his left.

Reaction in several eastern states to the idea of repudiating the plank was not particularly favorable today, Republican leaders in Vermont, New Hampshire, and Connecticut indicated they would stand by the plank as adopted by the national convention.

The Republican state convention of Maryland, which met in Baltimore late in May, refused to adopt a resolution committing itself to a repeal plank.

Dr. Butler described the plank on prohibition adopted in Chicago as having been "stirred by middleheads out of cowardice" and as "the most shocking exhibition of patronage politics since the convention of 1872, when Ulysses S. Grant won his second nomination."

MEIER ORGANIZES RELIEF PROGRAM

PORTLAND, Ore., June 21.—(AP)—Gov. Julius L. Meier yesterday personally began organization of the state-wide relief program he has suggested as a means of caring for the unemployed and the needy.

County officials and others, who came as delegates to the conference, met with the governor and discussed the situation.

Governor Meier named an executive committee to analyze all relief plans and co-ordinate them.

The committee members are Raymond B. Wilcox, president of the Portland community chest; County Judge Victor F. Moses, of Benton county; Ray Gill, mayor of Beaverton; state grange; Ben T. Osburn, secretary of the Oregon state federation of labor; Mrs. W. W. Gabriel, leader in relief work among women's organizations; and Alex J. Barry, state commander of the American Legion.

PROSPECTOR DIES ON UMPQUA TRAIL

ROSEBURG, June 21.—(AP)—Marty Gillispie, aged about 60, a well known prospector of the Glendale district, died suddenly Sunday afternoon while on the way to Grassy ranch in the heart of the Umpqua national forest, according to word received here today over the forest service telephone line. Perry Wright and W. F. Hopkins, packers, were transporting Gillispie's supplies to the ranch and they report that he became exhausted on the trail, instructing them to continue to camp, stating that he would follow after a short rest. When he failed to arrive in camp they started back along the trail and found that he had died at the spot where they had left him.

SANDBLAST SAYS DRY PLANK OKEH

PORTLAND, Ore., June 21.—(AP)—Satisfaction with the prohibition plank in the republican platform was expressed by L. B. Sandblast upon his arrival home here yesterday.

Sandblast, Floyd J. Cook and Jack L. Day, all of Portland, were the first of Oregon's 18 delegates to the national convention in Chicago to return.

Sandblast, Oregon campaign manager for Senator Joseph I. France, and a repealist when he left for Chicago, also expressed himself in harmony with President Hoover's nomination.

Discussing the liquor question, Sandblast said:

"I went to the convention an out and out wet. There wasn't any mistake about that. I urged for repeal, but I see now that the present plank meets the situation better."

Phoenix Endeavor Meetings Attract

PHOENIX, June 21.—(Sp.)—Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church here met Sunday night with Miss Winifred Inman. Forty-four young people and several adult members of the church were present.

A vocal solo was given by Miss Alton Lovell, accompanied by Miss Eleanor Swisher. All young people in the community are invited and good meetings are planned for each Sunday evening.
