

MELLON ENJOYS QUIET COMFORT AS AMBASSADOR

LONDON (AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, new American ambassador to the Court of St. James, has settled down to quiet comfort in the embassy home at Prince's Gate, facing the green of Hyde park.

Despite his 77 years, his health is good and the rigors of an unusually ill-tempered English spring have not disturbed him.

With his art collection, his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, Ambassador Mellon finds the London he has known for 50 years much like home.

He was busy, but perhaps a little lonely, in the big official residence until Mrs. Bruce arrived. A staff of 18 servants was on duty when he got here.

Simplicity and quiet dignity characterize the days at the embassy home. British newspapers insist on heralding the return of lavish social affairs, as in the days of the late Whitehall Reid.

The new ambassador's recreation has been arranging the paintings he brought from Washington. The walls of the large reception rooms have been done over from white to soft grey to make a suitable background.

Only paintings on canvas were brought to London. Those backed by wood panels and likely to warp in the damp climate were left in America.

The ballroom has been hung with English works, Gainsboroughs and Romneys; the library with Dutch pictures, including Mr. Mellon's Rembrandts.

The ambassador spends his evenings mostly at home. Theaters and concerts haven't attracted him as yet. He hasn't made definite plans for the summer, but he may take a country place. It's one of the things to do in England.

Japanese slay German priest. PEIPING, China, June 23.—(AP)—British nationals were advised today to evacuate the territory around Chientso, on the Korean border in Kirin province, Manchuria, following the alleged slaying of a German Catholic missionary, Father Conrad Rapp, by Japanese soldiers.

Missionary reports received here said Father Rapp was hurrying on horseback to the deathbed of a colleague when he was halted at night by a Japanese military picket.

When he produced his identity card, the report said, the Japanese pulled him from the saddle, declaring he insulted the Imperial Japanese army by falling to dismount. The soldiers beat him until he was unconscious, the reports said, then shot him.

Photographs of the body showed that the priest was shot through the heart and abdomen and bayoneted in thirty places.

DANGER OF FEUD AVOIDED BY MILD WHITE SOX FINES

CLEVELAND.—(AP)—Perhaps another famous baseball feud, such as the Ban Johnson-Comiskey affair has been averted.

It looked like the makings of a first class row when four Chicago White Sox players engaged in an umpire-the-bleachers brawl with umpire George Moriarty in Cleveland.

William Harridge, president of the league, came from Chicago to investigate. With a rule permitting a 9-day suspension to almost half the Chicago team on club house walls, it was recalled how the late Ban Johnson, then league head, incurred the lasting enmity of the late Charles Comiskey, White Sox owner, over an adverse ruling in favoring of a player.

Would the new league head have a "run in" with the new White Sox owner, Louis Comiskey, son of the "Old Roman"?

The elder Comiskey was a friend of Harridge. But so was a friend of Johnson until the two had their difference.

But it all blew over when Harridge assessed fines upon Manager Lew Fonseca, Coach John Butler, Pitcher Milton Gaston and Catchers Charles Berry and Frank Grube, with brief suspensions to Gaston and Butler.

This Game of GOLF

Golfing history has it that "par" was invented in Scotland the night before the British open championship of 1870.

All handicapping systems since then, so far as I know, have been based on the discrepancy between a player's best rounds on a course, averaged, and either par or "bogey" of that course; a hypothetical figure not quite as good as par; about what a good, substantial golfer is expected to score.

That is, all systems were so based until Mr. Max Behr, a couple or three years ago tried out another idea at the Lakeside club near Los Angeles, in which Bobby Jones became interested last Spring. The Atlanta Golf Association lately has recommended it to its member clubs, most of which now are trying it out.

The old system, based as it was on the average of completed rounds—or proficiency as medal scoring—always has been unsatisfactory in match competition, which constitutes the majority of play in club memberships. It is well known that most golfers play the majority of a round with a fair consistency and run their scores up on two or three or four holes.

The new plan takes cognizance of this, just as, under the old system, a player was allowed only a fraction of his full margin of handicap in a match.

Shows Strength Match. As in the old system, a specified number of "best" cards is required of a club player—but where, in the old plan, these "best" total scores were averaged, and the par of the course deducted, the result being his handicap, in the new plan the member's play against par is the factor, or against an arbitrary "bogey."

Either method works out to the same result mathematically. In the par method, a player receives a credit of one point for every hole played in par, and two points for every birdie. On a par 72 course, for instance, if he does 12 holes in par, with no birdies, his handicap based on that round would be 12 deducted from 72, which is 60, no matter if he collected a couple of 8s and a 7 or two in the other holes.

This handicap represents accurately the player's force in a match. If he scores all 15 holes in par he is a scratch competitor. If he does six holes in par, one birdie, and the others all above par, his handicap is 18 minus 6, or 12 strokes.

How Bogey Works. In the other method, suggested as suitable for clubs with all kinds of players, bogey is a stroke above par on each hole. The member gets one credit for every hole done in bogey, two credits for a birdie (a stroke under bogey), and the total of credits is deducted from 36. This works out just the same for the good player, who of course turns in a card with a lot of two-point birdies along with his bogey scores.

A sample card of a hypothetical course, played by a reasonably capable golfer, and showing the bogey system, is appended:

Table with columns: Hole, Distance, Bogey, Score, Credit. Rows 1-9 showing scores and credits.

Table with columns: Hole, Distance, Bogey, Score, Credit. Rows 10-18 showing scores and credits.

—A STATEMENT BY THE GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR COMPANY

In its recent confession the Gillette Safety Razor Company told you that, under the stress of introducing a new razor and blade, uniformity had suffered; and told you how our efforts to correct the trouble had resulted in the development of a far superior product. Several readers have asked us how we can make the bold, positive statement that today's Gillette blades are the sharpest, smoothest-shaving blades we have ever produced. This is a fair question, and here is our reply: A marvelous new testing machine, recently developed, scientifically proves that these blades have never before been approached in keenness.

We cannot discuss the nature or details of this machine because it is being patented. But we can tell you that it measures microscopic dimensions with unflinching accuracy—revealing with mathematic exactness, actual degrees of razor-blade sharpness. So when we state that today's Gillette blades are the sharpest we have ever made we are basing our assertion upon fact. We know we are right and can prove it. Further than this—everyone knows that a razor blade must be able to bend without cracking when tightened in the holder. This requires steel of a certain temper not suitable for a keen cutting edge. The problem is to permit flexing and yet have a hard edge that can be ground and stropped for proper shaving performance. Gillette has achieved the solution of this problem in the manufacture of its slotted blades.* These blades are made by a special tempering process that makes the edges exceptionally hard, while the center, of a different temper, flexes easily.

We urge you to try today's Gillette blades—the regular blade in the familiar green package or the BLUE SUPER-BLADE in its blue package. Cellophane wrapped. Do so without risking a cent. If you don't agree they are the sharpest, smoothest-shaving blades you have ever used, return the package and your dealer will refund your money.

The Gillette Blue Super-Blade. The $2 Kroman De Luxe blade has been withdrawn from production. We offer the Blue Super-Blade as its successor. This sensational blade is far superior to the Kroman and costs considerably less. You pay only a few cents more than for the regular blade and get unmatched shaving comfort. Its extraordinary shaving performance will convince you that the Blue Blade is the sharpest ever produced. A blue color has been applied to the blade for easy identification. It is contained in a blue package, Cellophane wrapped.
