Bridge Group Has Delightful Party At Clarmae Lodge

A no-hostess bridge luncheon, with three tables in play, was enjoyed by a group of Medford ladies Thursday at Clarmae lodge, summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence T. Noe on Rogue river.

The rooms were attractively decorated in roses, sweet peas, and snapdragons.

Prizes at bridge were awarded Mrs. L. Bundy, traveling prize; Mrs. Anna Gilbert, for high; and Mrs. G. H. Masadam, low.

During the afternoon, the group visited the lovely rock garden and pools in front of the cabin, where little walks of stone, bordered with woolly thyme and rose moss leads to gay beds of pinks, and many-colored sweetpeas climbing the fence. The sweetpeas, the seed of which were imported from London, aroused much comment, due to the size of the blossoms.

Geums in vermilion and bright yellow laddly nod to an exceptionally large goldfish cavorting in a nearby rock pond, and a stone, resembling a little kitten, sits on the ledge.

Behind the circular garden seat designed of rocks, towering butterfly bushes grow, concealing the nook from the little lawn of clover at the top of the garden terrace. Along another portion of the fence, stalks of bronze-colored snapdragons are growing.

The driveway down to the riverbank is bordered with roses and a variety of tiny blossoms.

The ladies who were guests of Mrs. Noe for the afternoon were Mrs. Minnie Bellinger, Mrs. L. Bundy, Mrs. M. M. Herman, Mrs. A. F. Stennett, Mrs. Anna Gilbert, Mrs. G. H. Masadam, Mrs. G. H. West, Mrs. A. C. Hubbard, Mrs. G. B. Alden, Mrs. John Butler, and Mrs. E. D. Elwood.
