Valente And Band To Play Thursday For Shriner Dance

The last day of the month will be marked by Medford folk, for that is the date on the calendar set aside for the arrival here of Val Valente and his famous roof-garden orchestra of San Francisco. They will furnish the music for the dance June 30 at the fairgrounds pavilion, under the sponsorship of the members of Hillah Shrine's patrol.

Tickets for the big event are now on sale by members of the patrol, and a record crowd is expected. The well-known jazz-minded musician will make a personal appearance, and the 13 members of his dance band have prepared a group of skits and novelty numbers for the evening.

The Medford dance fans are quite familiar with the Valente music as the orchestra presents programs regularly over KGO and KFBC, Columbia broadcasting.

A separate program of numbers has been arranged for presentation at the Holly theater also Thursday evening.

VALLEY VIEW—Mrs. Everett Bostwick had a party for her children, Junior and Vivian in Little Park Saturday afternoon. Those present were: Mrs. H. Weagant, Mrs. Kenneth McWilliams and children, Mrs. Walsh and children, Mrs. J. Lowe, Mrs. D. Lowe and Jackie Don, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Earl Bostwick and sons and Mrs. W. A. Stratton and Albert Stratton.

Methodist Classes Plan Picnic Supper The adult classes of the First M. E. church will hold picnic, Monday night, the 27th, at the Ever Shady Auto Park.

Missionary Society JACKSONVILLE—Missions society of the Presbyterian church met in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. Roll call was answered with songs about the West Indies and the Philippine Islands. Devotions were led by Mrs. Bixby. Nine ladies were present. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. James Forbes.

Daughters, Union Veterans to Meet Owing to the absence of the president and delegates, who attended the convention in Corvallis, no meeting of the Daughters of Union Veterans was held Friday evening. But by special dispensation a meeting will be held Wednesday, June 29. All Daughters are urged to attend.

Pocahontas Party Successful Event There was a good attendance at the regular card party of the Pocahontas lodge Friday evening, where bridge and 50 were played. Prizes at bridge went to Norma Martin, Ed Shuckel, Fidelis Platt and Bud Lawrence, and honors in 500 to Evelyn Stagg, Carry Milnes and Hign Harvie.

What the Girl Scouts Are Doing By Mrs. D. G. Wilson. Every Girl Scout should thrill with pride when she sees the true-to-life painting by Frank Bensing, used as cover for the July issue of the Country Gentleman. Think of it! More than 1,700,000 copies of the Country Gentleman will carry this pictorial message of the Girl Scouts into homes all over the country! Do you know, too, that the Country Gentleman runs a page each month called Girl's Life on which Girl Scout short stories and articles appear quite frequently? This periodical is now on sale, and keep in mind that the cover is suitable for framing!

Activities of Legion Auxiliary A large attendance is expected at the regular business meeting of the American Legion auxiliary Monday evening, June 27th. The meeting will be held in the Armory club rooms at eight o'clock.

Repairs from all committees will be a part of the evening's program. The election of delegates to the convention at Portland will take place at this meeting.

Twelve new members have been added to the Auxiliary roll during the year. These members will be initiated Monday evening.

New Club President Welcomed

Mrs. H. E. Maltby (left) of Seattle and past president of the Washington State Federation of Women's Clubs greets Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Brockton, Mass., at the national meeting in the northwest. Mrs. Poole was unopposed as presidential candidate of the General Federation of Women's Clubs daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Leach. The Auxiliary observed flag day by requesting through the local papers that every one display at flag, also the origin of the flag was explained. This was arranged by Miss Margaret Kerr, Americanism chairman.

Montanans Elect Harwood Head At Annual Gathering

The Montana picnic club held their annual picnic June 19. Our permanent meeting place is Ever Shady Auto park, three miles south of Medford on the Pacific highway. Over two hundred attended the picnic, with friends from Klamath Falls, Ashland, Grants Pass, Murphy, Central Point, Phoenix, Jacksonville, Eagle Point and Medford. Guests from the farthest away were Mrs. and Mrs. McCaden, of 954 Polk street, Eugene. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wright of Brownboro. Mr. and Mrs. McCaden were formerly of Astoria, Mont.

All brought a picnic lunch which was served at 12:30. Delicious coffee was made by Mrs. Miller of Phoenix. The committee also had ice cream to serve with the dinner. President Mrs. Fiske called the short business meeting, after which the secretary, Mrs. Hoffman, had prepared a very interesting program. Lem Wilson told some very interesting stories of the frontier days in Montana. Other features included: Singing of the Montana Song. Selections by the orchestra of Central Point, led by Ralph Botto; violin ensemble, by Nola Harwood, Olive Eldridge, Evelyn Harwood, accompanied by Corrine Harwood; tap dance by Ruth Harwood; ukulele quartet by Eldridge and Harwood girls.

Election of officers for the coming year was as follows: President, B. R. Harwood; vice-president, John James; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Botto, all of Medford. This picnic was one of the best we have had, and all one time Montanans sure miss a lot not to attend these picnics.

1000 CHILDREN TO PARADE FOR PRIZE

The Lithia city is planning for a "great big celebration" to honor the Fourth of July this year, all reports from Ashland indicate. One of the outstanding features of the day will be the kid parade in which 1000 children of Jackson county are expected to participate. Fifty cash prizes will be offered the winners in this event and a miniature float, to be entered by the merchants, will pay further tribute to young America.

The afternoon of the holiday will be devoted to a sports program and contests in the manner of the good old-fashioned celebration of the Fourth of July. A pie eating contest will be one of the headlines. The city of Ashland is preparing for a record crowd to join the observance of the nation's birthday.

MEDFORD GUARDS ENJOY PRANKS IN CLATSOP BIVOUAC

Calesthenics Hard Dish for 'Doc' Garman - Private Smith Routs Buddies in Early Morning Hours

By Staff Sergeant Philip H. Lounsberry) CAMP CLATSOP, June 26—Casualties at camp to date in Headquarters company have been few. Private Charles A. Ritter contracted a slight ache in the region of his solar plexus. Private Robert B. Hurd intercepted some loose cold germs, and Private Warren A. Liggett must have been doing some light stepping, as the cords in one knee are slightly out of place.

All the boys are in good spirits and feel that the day for returning home is approaching all too fast. One of the high lights of fun for the boys comes early each morning. During the daily setting-up exercises, there is a certain co-ordination exercise which requires simultaneous swinging of arms and legs in a side movement from the body. The soldier is obliged to jump and throw his legs about 18 inches in each direction. One of the boys, Darold (Doc) Garman, is stiff legged and his efforts to do this exercise cause shouts of hilarious amusement from his companions.

We now call the exercise the German special and it is looked forward to each morning. "Doc" is good natured about his failure to perform this exercise and sets as big a kick out of it as anyone. The coming week end is filled with events of interest to visitors as well as guardsmen. Friday there is the annual field meet in which the different regiments vie with one another for honors. There are some regular track events but the main part is the performing of regular training duties in competition, such as tent pitching, manual of arms, saddling and running of horses, setting up of field telephone sets and many others.

Last year the meet was won by the 186th Infantry, of which this unit is a part, by a very small margin. This year rivalry is intense and visitors will have ample opportunity to see things soldiers do every day done in rapid time. Sham Battle Feature Then there is the big sham battle scheduled for Saturday afternoon. Attendance if visitors is expected to not be less than 35,000. In this battle the riflemen, machine gun crews, communications platoons, medical corps, heavy artillery, and airplanes all set together in one grand maneuver. There will doubtless be many from Medford to see this demonstration. Headquarters Co. 3d Battalion invites all visiting Medford folks to come to their quarters after the battle and see for themselves just how the boys live.

Our company street is near the road leading into camp from the outside. All the company streets face on one side of the street up a slight hill is the first tent of every company. On the other side of the street are all the company kitchens. These are all wooden buildings painted white with green composition roofs. A blue and white sign is near the first tent of each company telling what unit it is and what city it is from. Visitors should have little difficulty in finding the location of this company.

Friday night after dark there was a big machine gun demonstration in which tracer bullets flew thick and fast. Cook Routs Buddies Private first class Mark N. Smith, our company kitchen assistant will not guarantee that he will arrive home in one piece. Smith, because of his culinary connections is obliged to get up in the morning a full hour before other members of the company. He takes particular delight in thoroughly arousing the rest of the boys by pulling the sleeping eye hair, pouring cold water on the face, pulling off covers, awaiting them with sticks in the usual place. This morning the writer was awakened from a sound sleep in which dreams of an inch-thick steak buried in mushrooms was the chief component, to find this fiend hammering on his pillow with a hand axe. Needless to say he finally was persuaded to forego his threatening gestures.

Yesterday morning a thoroughly enraged sleeper, who had been suddenly aroused, jumped out of bed and chased Smith some distance, the marathon coming to a sudden end when the chaser discovered that he was improperly clothed and that the very cold air was being freely admitted to his immediate person. Friends of Private Charles A. Ritter may ask him, when he arrives to his home in Gold Hill, just what he thinks of early morning breezes. Grigsby Subdues Sabre Persons who stood near the newly appointed 2nd Lieutenant James W. Grigsby the first few days did so at their peril. Lt. Grigsby's brand new sabre had a way of traveling to the most unexpected places. The sabre is now under perfect control, so the members of the company now consider themselves safe.

Both National Guard units of Medford participated in the war problem held at Camp Clatsop Wednesday. Just Like Battle The problem was a "battle" between the two regiments stationed at Clatsop. After marching several miles during the early morning hours the 186th regiment, whose job it was to repel the attack of the 162nd, began to near the enemy. The advance was slow, taking up nearly the whole forenoon, but when the opposing forces met things began to pick up. Machine gun and rifle fire soon routed the 162nd. Both Medford units are in the victorious 186th.

Thursday morning the howitzer companies went into action with one-ponies in preparation for the big sham battle Saturday. Medford lads who participated in Wednesday's skirmish were: Lieutenants Baucum and Grigsby; Sergeants Conrad, Porman, Schank, Lemmon; Corporals Nicholas, Giem, Christian, Herriott; Privates Ritter, Teyovac, Lewis, Hurd, Garman, Greave, Ligtent. CROP LOAN HEAD VIEWS SECURITY IN LOCAL REGION

John F. Davies of Spokane, regional director of the Federal Crop Production Loan association of the northwest district, was in Medford Saturday, in company with George Hillen, field inspector. They were looking over this section of the state and visiting some of the farms on which loans were made. Mr. Davies says there was 75 million dollars loaned to 600,000 farmers all over the United States by the association, the average loan being $140 and the maximum fixed by law was $400.

Mr. Davies says this assistance in purchasing seed and fertilizer and other expenses, not including labor for crop production, has enabled hundreds of families to remain on the farms and will produce crops that otherwise would have been listed with the unemployed and would have been forced to move to the cities. He also stated that in the district he represents—the old Oregon territory, comprising Oregon, Washington, northern Idaho and western Montana—the amount borrowed by the people of the district is very small in comparison to other sections of the United States, there being $1,000,000 loaned to 5000 farmers.

STAGE DRIVER IS GIVEN JAIL TERM

Lewis Doolittle, warned Monday by state police officers that he could not conduct a "wildcat stage" through here, was arrested Friday evening by state police officers, and sentenced to five days in the county jail yesterday by Justice Glenn O. Taylor, on a charge of improper license plates. State officers testified that Doolittle, driving a seven-passenger Studebaker, was stopped June 20 enroute south with seven people in the car. He told the police that they were all seamen, and were enroute to San Francisco where they were to ship out. One of the passengers with Doolittle last night, enroute north, appeared in court this morning and told Judge Taylor that he had purchased his tickets from a booking agent in Los Angeles, and had transferred cars at San Francisco. The driver of the stage between Los Angeles and San Francisco, was arrested by officers here in April, the records revealed.
