The day was climaxed with swimming and serving of ice cream.

Many Go Swimming—The Central swimming hole in the Applegate river was the gathering place yesterday of many Medford people, who report the swimming better than it has been in many years, because of the abundance of water. Among those from this city enjoying the sport were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Laing and party.

SCANDINAVIANS OF REGION IN PICNIC

Members of the Kiwanis club interested themselves in the problems of the unemployed again today, when addressed at the regular luncheon at the Hotel Medford by J. C. Barnes, spokesman of the Medford Association of the Unemployed, which is attempting a program to keep the jobless in their homes.

Mr. Barnes outlined again the plan to exchange labor for food, lights, water and shelter and asked for the appointment of a committee from the Kiwanis club to assist in the shelter problem. A meeting of the board of directors was called by President Olin Armpfister to follow the luncheon, at which time appointment of such a committee will be considered.

Insisting that immediate action be taken to keep out of state labor from harvesting and eating this year's fruit crop, Dr. Dan E. Standard of Phoenix, joined the discussion, which followed Mr. Barnes' address.

"Companies should be notified that southern Oregonians will not stand for the usual line-up of California cars at our packing houses this year," Dr. Standard stated, "and through a message more effective than a letter with a blue ribbon about it."

In answer to his stand, Mr. Barnes assured the club that the fruit packing problem was one of the first considered by the unemployed association, and that a letter will be received by each orchardist requesting co-operation in efforts to keep the work at home this year.

Assurance has been given the unemployed association that every effort will be made to accomplish a satisfactory solution to the fruit problem, he stated.

KIWANIS GIVEN GIST OF PLANS FOR JOB RELIEF

You'd be startled by the sight—

EVERY oil forms some carbon when it burns inside your motor. What you can avoid is hard carbon, the kind that builds up in brittle, coke-like layers.

Don't pay 30¢ or 35¢ for oil that may have a hard carbon base! Use Shell Motor Oil. It will cost you only 25¢ a quart. You'll get much less carbon. And none of it will be hard carbon!

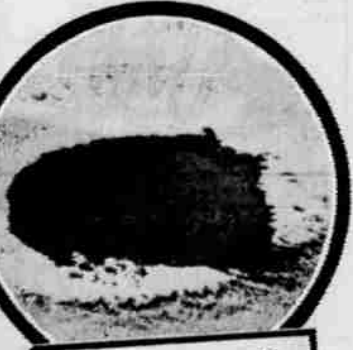

Furthermore: You are guaranteed that the proper grade of Shell Motor Oil for your car will lubricate as well and last as long under equal driving conditions as any other correct grade oil costing 30¢ or 35¢. What's the sense in paying that extra 5¢ or 10¢ for every quart?

of hard carbon scratching your engine's polished cylinders... pitting the valves... cutting its way around and around the bearing surfaces

From a 35c oil—hardfules of hard carbon formed in a few thousand miles

Only 1/3 to 1/5 as much carbon—harmless fluffy soot—formed by Shell Motor Oil
