

ENEMIES ADMIT MAJOR VICTORY FOR ROOSEVELT

everywhere, the Louisiana contest was the victory with almost the solid support of the New York convention majority, plus a few who broke over from the opposition ranks of the favorite sons.

With whatever effect it may have eventually on his bid for the presidential nomination, the run of the tide appeared rather impressive too, toward the selection of Senator Walsh over Jettett of Kansas, the choice of the opposition.

The roll call on the Louisiana contest developed several angry arguments, particularly in the delegations from Iowa and the District of Columbia. When Pennsylvania finally tipped the balancing scales with the needed votes, Senator Long jumped to his feet on his chair and waved the Louisiana state standard high at the center of a near-riotous celebration.

Roosevelt Test
"This is a Roosevelt test," said Long, "this means Walsh's election and Roosevelt's nomination. Roosevelt will get at least 50 more than we did."

Immediately behind the Louisiana contest came one from Minnesota and then the battle over the chairmanship.

Iowa cast a split vote and a delegate shouted "what about the unit rule?"

The delegates then became engaged in a squabble over whether they were required to vote under the unit rule and the vote was passed until they could attempt to reach an agreement.

Iowans in Squabble
The Iowa delegates got so warmed up that guards rushed to their sector as delegates began waving arms, shaking fists and yelling to each other.

To a question the chairman announced the Iowa vote had not been recorded.

"And how," he yelled to the laughter of the crowd.

The Iowa chairman then announced they stood 13 aye and 12½ nay but that under the unit rule they had to vote 25 aye.

When the Iowa disturbance started Long's delegates were within 17 votes of a majority.

SNOOK BOY SHOT THROUGH FOOT BY BROTHER'S RIFLE

Still another accident was added to the long list realized in Jackson county during the past year when the handling of guns by boys, when Lewis Snook, 11, son of Walter C. Snook of Cascade Gorge, was shot through the left foot by a 30-30 rifle in the hands of his 16-year-old brother this morning.

The bullet passed through his foot near the instep, tearing a hole four or five inches across, the shot traveling in a very short range, according to the attending physician.

The boy was brought to the Community hospital suffering from a great loss of blood and in intense pain. Shortly after noon he underwent an operation which it is hoped will save his foot.

The boys were "playing around" with the gun at their home at Cascade Gorge when the accident occurred, according to the report told the physicians.

MAY LEND VETS FUNDS TO MAKE RETURN JOURNEY

who has been acting commander-in-chief of the latter was a veteran since the resignation of Walter W. Waters of Portland, Ore., vacated his post, and was succeeded by George Kleinholz of Portland, Ore.

A steady downpour of rain aggravated the temper of the rank and file, now facing a food shortage. Stocks now on hand were sufficient for only a few hours.

With the expenditure of the last of the bonus marchers' benefits fund, police withdrew from the veterans' financial administration and left them to solve their own problems.

Metropolitan police also followed Maryland state police in refusing further transportation from the city.

To forestall actual hunger among the men, police requisitioned approximately 8000 pounds of flour from the Red Cross, part of that turned over from farm board stocks. A local bakery has offered to bake 500 loaves of bread daily for the veterans.

START SELECTION CITY DEAD TONIGHT

All residents of the first ward are urged to be at the city hall tonight for the special meeting of the city council called for selection of a nominating committee from the first ward which will recommend nominees for the position of the council recently

The residents of the ward will select the committee which will be asked to recommend two or three persons for the position. The council will then choose the member from the list.

The particular sale, which was the subject of the controversy, was made in October. Notis operates a used-car lot in Talent.

Truck Drivers To Show New Badge
The state police announced today that, effective July 1, all truck operators and chauffeurs will be required to have new driving licenses as required by state law. Captain Lee M. Bown said a close check would be made.

State examiners will be here July 9 to July 11 for examinations of all chauffeurs and truck operators who have not complied with the law. Renewals of drivers' licenses cost 30 cents for truck operators and for chauffeurs $1, the fee also covering a chauffeur's license.

Mr. Mann Declares Clearance Sale On Saturday, Success
With the announcement that merchandise prices had struck a new low, the July clearance sale conducted by Mann's department store Saturday was the outstanding store-wide removal sale ever conducted by them, according to John C. Mann.

When speaking of the clearance sale today, Mr. Mann was quite enthusiastic over the success, when practically every article in every department was offered at reduced prices for the event.

Many women from not only Medford, but the entire valley visited the store Saturday, when every dress and coat in the establishment was shown as a new low.

Work started on Umatilla county section of Tigin-Weston road.

RADICALLY NEW! Phantom Kotex

SANITARY NAPKINS (U. S. Pat. No. 1,857,854)

AT LAST! A radically new design in Kotex sanitary protection. It is called PHANTOM KOTEX. Why? Because the ends are so flattened and tapered that it leaves no outlines even under the closest fitting gowns.

Kotex features retained. It is soft and comfortable, even after hours of use; wonderfully absorbent; treated to deodorize; can be worn, with equal protection, on either side; disposable, easily.

Insist upon getting genuine Kotex, when you buy it already wrapped. Each tapered end of the new pad is stamped "Kotex" now—so you can't get inferior substitutes. And this new improvement comes to you at no increase in price!

NOTE: Kotex—now at your dealer's—marked "Form-Fitting" is the new Phantom Kotex

SPIDER MITES IN PEAR TREES CALL FOR CONTROL OIL

Spider mites have made their appearance in a small number of pear orchards of the valley during the last few days. Growers are advised by L. P. Wilcox, county agent, and L. G. Center of the Southern Oregon Experiment station to be on the watch from now on and apply control measures when their pear trees first show signs of infestation.

The mites, commonly called red spiders, make their appearance earlier in some orchards than in others, therefore, the grower must watch his particular trees for signs of infestation and time his spray accordingly.

This insect may well be classed as a major pest to fruit trees and growers should be able to recognize the symptoms of infestation and be prepared to apply control measures immediately.

The insects work on the under side of the leaves, causing such leaves to turn brown and black and later to fall off. Such a defoliation is harmful to the present crop of fruit in that the leaves are necessary to make plant foods and anything affecting leaves will also affect fruits, resulting in small sizes. Defoliation also results in weakened fruit buds thus affecting next season's crop. With these dangers in mind, growers should not hesitate in applying control measures, for the spider mite when the first sign of injured leaves appears. The D'Anjou and Boac varieties will probably show first, so watch these trees closely.

Recommended control is as follows: On pear use medium summer oil emulsion at the rate of 1½ gallons to the one hundred gallons of water.

On apples, use 1½ gallons of light summer oil emulsion to the one hundred gallons of water. Apply the spray so that the under sides of all leaves are thoroughly drenched, paying particular attention to the centers of the trees.

BANWELL TAKING INDUSTRY CENSUS
A. H. Banwell, formerly secretary of the Northern California-Southern Oregon Development association, today announced that he has been appointed to compile an industrial census for the department of commerce, division of the census.

Numerations will be compiled by Banwell in Jackson, Josephine, Klamath and Curry counties, for 1931. The check is made every two years, Mr. Banwell said today.

Work on the census was started in Jackson county today, where Mr. Banwell will make his headquarters. He received his appointments through the recommendations of the Medford Chamber of Commerce.

BAKER UNDERGOES RARE OPERATION

C. T. Baker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, underwent an operation last night for removal of a stone, formed in the salivary gland of his jaw, and is reported very uncomfortable, but getting along satisfactorily today. The stone was removed through the mouth and was described today by Dr. J. J. Emmens as an unusual formation, similar to stones more frequently found in other regions of the body.

Its location in the salivary gland had interrupted the natural flow of saliva and proved exceedingly painful, especially at meal time.

Funeral Tomorrow For Mrs. F. Maxson

Funeral services for Mrs. Frank Maxson, who was killed in an auto wreck on the Greenspring Mountain road Saturday, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Stock parlor in Ashland. Interment will be in the Mountain View cemetery.

ATTORNEY SEES HOLES IN VAL FISCHER'S FISH YARN, UPHELD BY WAHL

To all persons doubting that Val Fischer and family landed 40 fine silverides and perch from Lake o' the Woods yesterday, Mr. Fischer offers an invitation to view the photographs. Pictures were taken of the string soon after the fish were taken from the lake. At least that's his story, and he has the photographs.

Whether or not he caught the fish in the picture, took the picture of the fish he caught, or took a picture of another angler's catch, is something for his fellow fishermen to decide. "And do affair for an attorney to mix into." So Fred Wahl of the Lake o' the Woods Told Gus Newbury this morning, while the latter's mind was rambling skeptically over the fishing news to propound the opinion that: The fish were undoubtedly caught, the picture undoubtedly taken, and both perhaps bought by the Medford anglers. At least he's asking someone to prove that such was not the case.

MEDFORD ROTARIANS HOME FROM CONFAB
