Medford Girl Bridesmaid At Klamath Falls Wedding

Members of the local younger set will read with interest the following account of a recent Klamath Falls wedding, carried in the society column of yesterday's Oregonian, for it includes the names of several persons well known here, reading as follows: "Miss Frances Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Palmer, became the bride of Frank Hall at 10 o'clock in the morning of June 26. The ceremony was read by Archdeacon J. Henry Thomas of the Episcopal church in the chapel of his home. Only the immediate families of the young couple and a few close friends were present at the wedding.

"Maid of honor were the Misses Maxine Hearhart of Ashland and Jean Weston of Medford. Clarence Hill acted as best man. Mrs. Hall recently graduated from the Southern Oregon Normal School at Ashland. Mr. Hall attended the University of Oregon, where he was affiliated with Beta Theta Pi. They will reside in Klamath Falls."

Jenkins-Coe Wedding Solemnized at Bend

In the Klamath Falls Evening Herald is carried announcement of the marriage of Miss Eva Jenkins of that city to Dr. R. D. Coe of Medford, which was an event of Friday noon at Bend. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a mountain resort north of Bend, where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Jenkins of Klamath Falls. Dr. Coe, who recently opened dental offices in this city, formerly resided in Klamath Falls.

They will be at home to their friends in Medford following their honeymoon in eastern Oregon.

Miss Kelly's Guests Continue South

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Carlsen of Clinton, Iowa, accompanied by Mr. Carlsen's mother, Mrs. Goede Carlsen, were guests here over the holiday of Miss Louise Kelly, and left Monday evening for the south to visit scenic spots in California before returning to their home. They arrived in Medford from the north, having attended the convention of Rotary International in Seattle and visited the national parks of the Northwest. While here they made the trip to Crater Lake with Miss Kelly and her cousin, Edward C. Kelly, and enjoyed several trips to scenic sections of the Rogue River valley.

Mrs. Johnson Returns Home by Plane

Mrs. E. H. Johnson, guest for the past month of her sister, Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, of this city, left yesterday by plane for Seattle to continue to her home in Elbert, Wash. The journey north was her first by plane. While here Mrs. Johnson was the inspiration for much informal entertaining.

Members of Younger Set Invited to Grants Pass

Several members of the local younger set were invited to Grants Pass last evening for the house party, given by Miss Harriett Kayser at her summer home, complementing her house guest, Miss Hedwig Mehr, with whom she visited at the Edmiston home here last week.

Guests attended the dance, sponsored by Val Valente's orchestra in the neighboring city last evening, and were then entertained at buffet supper for which Mrs. Charles Kayser was hostess. Several informal events are scheduled for their pleasure today and guests will be returning to this city tonight.

Mulhollands' Guests Motor to Crater Lake

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Mulholland have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Harrison and son, who arrived last week end from Portland to spend the holiday here. Yesterday the Harrisons, with Mrs. Mulholland, visited Crater Lake. They spent the previous day on Butte creek, where young Harrison caught his first fish. The Harrisons and Mulhollands have been friends for many years, the Mulhollands having made their home in Portland before coming to this city.

GIRL IS RESCUED BY LIEUTENANT M'BEE

He was the hero of the hour, but to a heroic, unknown, First Lieut. Weldon H. McBee of Medford admitted today. While picnicking on the Applegate over the holiday he was startled by a frightened cry from the swimming hole. Rushing to the river bank, he saw a little girl struggling against drowning. He rushed into the stream and rescued her before she went under a third time, and returned to her party without learning her name.

At the close of the rescue stunt he discovered he had received an injured toe in the rush. He was having it X-rayed this morning.

ROTARIANS GIVEN CONVENTION GIST BY PREST. LANTIS

A report on the Rotary International convention at Seattle and plans for the coming year were discussed by Dr. W. E. Lantis, newly elected president of the Medford Rotary club, at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday noon. President Lantis reviewed briefly the highlights of the Seattle convention which was conceded to be the best Rotary International convention since the inception of Rotary in February, 1905.

Rotarians from all parts of the globe were in attendance, and from an international viewpoint, Rotary now comprises a total of 341 clubs in all the leading countries of the world, and in the past 26 years only 46 clubs have surrendered their charters, a remarkable record for a service organization. Interest in the Rotary movement is particularly keen in foreign countries where members take their Rotary work even more seriously than in the United States.

President Lantis told of the addresses made by some of the famous speakers at the Seattle convention, including President Sidney W. Paacall of London, England, who covered over 60,000 miles last year in his visits to Rotary clubs throughout the world. Sixty-two new clubs were formed in 1932, despite unfavorable conditions, and the Rotary spirit continues to spread to the far corners of the earth.

Many important subjects were discussed at the recent Seattle meeting, including international service, disarmament, boys' work, crippled children, illiteracy and business practice. President Lantis outlined his plans for the coming year and presented each member with a chart of the aims and objects plan, naming the various committees for the year.

Committee chairmen will be as follows: Vocational service, Frank Newman; club service, John Boyle; community service, Wm. Allen; international service, Volney Dixon; classification and membership, Tarney Seward; program, Hamilton Patton and C. J. Semon; attendance, J. W. Wakefield; publicity, Horace Bromley; fellowship, George Henselman; education, E. C. Corn; music, Ed Shockey; entertainment, August Johnson; Boy scout, Roland Hubbard; student loan, Wm. Whitlaw; inter-city relations, Carl Grant, and boys' work, John Moffat.

Every member of the club will be called upon to work during the year, having been appointed on one of the above committees. Hamilton Patton was called upon to outline to the new program schedule for the year and told of a plan which promises to prove of great interest and educational benefit to every member.

Past President Ed Shockey was presented with a past president's Rotary pin by J. C. Boyls, who is a past president of the Klamath Rotary club. Mr. Boyls expressed the appreciation of the Medford club for Shockey's successful administration and told of his splendid record of 100 per cent attendance for nearly nine years in Astoria and Medford. Past President Shockey responded with a few brief remarks.

JACK COLLINS, FORMER INDIANA CHAMP, VISITS MEDFORD 'ON THE BUM'

He failed to see beyond the ropes the brevity of his glory. Trusting always to the ringside din, his ears failed to catch the far off silence, which has ended applause of the best of fighters—Jack Collins, 38, once the pride of America's fistic circles, is on the bum today.

Thirty-five years ago he was fighting Young Griffo, Oscar Gardner, Danny Needham and Billy Clemmery. Thirty-four years ago he was the light weight champ of Indiana. He taught Joe Wolcott and Kid McCoy how to use the gloves.

Passion Play In Motion Pictures Baptist Church

Every ten years thousands of people go to Europe, from all parts of the world, at great expense, to witness the performance of the great "Oberammergau Passion Play." But this is a privilege denied to many, due to the heavy expense.

But, through the medium of motion pictures, the people of Medford will have an unusual opportunity Friday at 8 p. m. at the Baptist church of seeing a motion picture film, portraying the complete "Life of Christ," taken in Europe, the Holy Land and Egypt, and reproducing many of the great scenes from the Oberammergau and Frieberg "Passion Plays."

A complete recorded musical score will be played throughout the entire film. Laurence A. Lambert, distinguished baritone soloist of New York and Hollywood, will also render several solos and readings, in keeping with the spirit of the film.

CHERRY CANNING GETS UNDER WAY

The Rogue River Valley Canning company, with a force of between 60 and 75 women workers, started the canning of cherries on Tuesday. They will continue this work for a week or ten days. The cherries are now ripening. Bing and Royal Anne varieties are being packed. The pack will be sold on the Chicago market.

After the cherry canning season, the packing of beans will start. The sawmill of the Owen-Oregon Lumber Sales company, operating on a co-operative basis, resumed Tuesday after a Fourth of July lay-off. Two of the larger mills at Klamath Falls started this morning, after a long suspension. The Portland-Beaver Cement plant at Gold Hill resumed "grinding" today with a force of 20 men. Packing plants of the city and valley were making

HOP PICKING TO GIVE 700 JOBS

It is expected that in the Grant; Pass area approximately 700 heads of families will be given employment in the hop fields, according to announcement made to the Josephine Civic council of employed and business men and women. This number exceeds the regular employment in the industry by about one hundred.

Residents of Grants Pass will be given preference when the work starts about August 20 and, according to Mrs. Weston, high school labor will be discouraged in order that heads of families might have work.
