DOHERTY SEEKING MILLIONS IN SUIT AGAINST K. C. STAR
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 6.—(AP)—Two suits asking damages aggregating $42,000,000 were filed today against the Kansas City Star and its executives by Henry L. Doherty personally and by the Cities Service Gas company.
The suit of the Cities Service company alleging conspiracy was filed in the Jackson county, Missouri, circuit court and seeks $20,000,000 actual and $10,000,000 punitive damages.
Doherty's libel suit, asking $5,000,000 and $5,000,000 punitive damages, was filed at Topeka in the district court of Shawnee county, Kansas.
The actions today bring to $54,000,000 the total for which the Star has been sued by Doherty and the Cities Service company for alleged libel and conspiracy. The first action for $12,000,000 was filed a year ago in the Jackson county circuit court.
In a statement Doherty indicated other actions will follow.
The suit in the name of the Cities Service Gas company charges that the Star printed attacks on it as the result of a conspiracy between the newspaper and persons unknown to the plaintiff to injure and destroy the plaintiff's business.
For many months the Star has conducted an editorial campaign for lower gas rates in Missouri and Kansas. The first libel suit, filed by Doherty, resulted from this campaign.

KANSAS HUNTERS JOIN FORCE HERE
To aid a government hunter in killing panthers, mountain lions and other animals in the Oregon forests, on which a bounty has been levied, two young men of Wichita, Kansas, LeRoy Rader and Romaine K. Hathaway, formerly in the United States army, arrived in Medford the latter part of the week, after a long hitch-hike journey, to find their hunter wasn't here.
They visited the police station regularly, where they had reported their predicament, and this afternoon were quite relieved when City Traffic Officer Tom Robinson located G. R. Crawford, the hunter from Eldorado, Kans., who had not made as rapid a journey as the boys.
The young men had given Officer Robinson a description of the car, which one had retained in Kansas, and through this information he was able to recognize the car on the street this afternoon.
