tracts and bills. It is admitted that Niedermeyer provided $22,000 which Fehel disbursed for labor and small items. The reply further alleges that Fehel held no real dealer license, as required by state law, and that during the construction of the Holly he was engaged in other "building enterprises, and the editing of a weekly paper."

Advised Building
It is set forth that from 1918 to 1927, Fehel "constantly solicited, implied and requested" Niedermeyer to build a theater building at Sixth and Holly streets and in 1927 Niedermeyer permitted Fehel to start excavating and that when a lease was signed with Walter Levereite, the excavation was finished. Niedermeyer, in all these negotiations, assumed the financial and other responsibilities.

The reply admits Fehel paid $100 earnest money on the lot to the Tullman lodge of Knights of Pythias of which W. R. Gaylord was chancellor, and that Niedermeyer afterwards paid $9,650 for the land in two installments and that the $100 paid by Fehel was deducted from the promissory note.

Insisted On Payment
The reply avers that Niedermeyer insisted on Fehel accepting payment for services, when Fehel claimed that "the enhancement of property value on Sixth street" would be his recompense. The sum of $2300 was applied to the note on these grounds, with the consent of Fehel.

It is set forth further, that claims of Fehel that he was instrumental in annex agreement, the United States probably would not be offered more than $1,000,000,000.

LA GRANDE, Ore., July 8.—(AP)—With ready money scarce, the old-time custom of trade is coming into its own again in the Willows valley, according to word reaching here. Farmers are trading a portion of their produce in return for labor in many instances, resulting in more employment for farm hands. Several of the hay ranchers are paying their men with hay and it is said that the same plan probably will be in use during the grain harvest later this summer.

CHERRY PICKING IN FULL SWING

Picking of the cherry crop of the valley is now in full swing, and will be completed in another week. The crop, owing to rains during the pollination period, is only fair. The Royal Ann variety is being sold to the Rogue River Cannery, and the Bing and Lambert varieties, to city and export markets. The price ranges from eight to 16 cents per pound, depending on the quality, and its marketing place. Shipments have been made to Hawaii and the Philippine Islands. The prices are regarded as satisfactory, all things considered.

Next week the harvesting of the Fern valley apricots will start. The crop is reported normal, and of good quality. Home grown apricots are in high favor with local housewives for canning and preserving.

Reports from the hills say that the wild huckleberry and blackberry crop will be heavy this season. The eastern end of the county is favorite huckleberry grounds, and the Applegate section for wild blackberries.

FARMERS TRADING STUFF FOR LABOR

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(AP)—Announcement of a complete Franco-German agreement at Lausanne on reparations and war debts was received today at the state department with interest, but Secretary Stimson was silent on the two questions, which are held here to be separate and distinct.

The fixing of Germany's final reparations payment at approximately $750,000,000 reduces its obligations to less than one-tenth of the total fixed under the Young plan three years ago.

New Appeals to U. S. Loom.
The gentlemen's agreement linking the reparations with Europe's war debts was looked upon in some circles as a patient opening the way for new appeals to the United States for a scaling down, if not actual cancellation of what is owed this nation.

When the Europeans submit their agreements individually to this government the United States will consider them. Until then Secretary Stimson has nothing to say about war debts.

The funded indebtedness of 15 European nations to the United States exceeds $11,000,000,000. About 90 per cent is due from Great Britain, France and Italy.

Should Europe propose that debts to this country be scaled down in the same proportion as German reparations are cut under the new Lau-

In this county 229 names were secured on petitions to the initiative bill providing for the consolidation of the University and State college, and the elimination of normal schools, including the one at Ashland, for junior colleges. The count was made by the county clerk's office. The majority of the signatures were by residents of the rural districts, with a few from this city and Ashland.
