

Local and Personal

In Ashland—Loren O'Neal of Medford was a business caller in this city Friday.—Ashland Daily Tidings.

Henselman Home—George Henselman returned to Medford today from Portland, where he has been spending several days on business.

In Klamath Falls—Attorney Gus Newbury is spending today in Klamath Falls, attending to business matters.

Leave for Idaho—Mrs. Lawrence Johnson and daughter, Collette, left several days ago for a visit with relatives and friends in Idaho.

Miss Richmond Here—Miss Wilda Richmond has returned to this city from spending the past several weeks at Seaside, where she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ralph Kellogg.

In From Mine—Ed Fawcett, in from his mine in the Applegate country, reports that mining operations are moving along smoothly and in a profitable way.

Miss Schmidt on Vacation—Miss Jane Schmidt of the insurance department of the O. C. Boggs office is spending a two weeks' vacation in the city and at neighboring resorts.

Medford Mail Carrier—R. E. Swan of Medford was a business visitor in the city Saturday. Swan is one of the city mail carriers in Medford.—Grants Pass Daily Courier.

Return from North—Mrs. Dave Rosenberg and daughter Nanette returned to Medford by train this morning from Seattle, where they have been visiting friends and relatives for a week.

Business Callers—Edwin Smith of Phoenix, Mrs. Chas. Kell and Mrs. J. H. Logan of Gold Hill are among business callers in Medford today from neighboring localities. Mrs. Lind of Hill, Cal., is also transacting business here today.

Colliston Saturday—V. E. Pope of 303 Beatty street and E. A. Boland of 128 Williamson street figured in a minor collision at the corner of Fifth and Central streets about 10:30 Saturday evening, a report at the city police station shows.

Horseback Trip Planned—A group of local horseback riding fans are planning a trip for this coming Thursday and will probably head their horses toward Roxy Ann, where a supper will be enjoyed later in the evening.

Holts Stop Here—Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Holt stopped in Medford over the week-end on their return from Portland and other points north, and visit local friends before continuing south. Mr. Holt is senior accountant in the comptroller's office of the city of Los Angeles.

Hike to Seven Lakes—Don Elliot, Chris Mathison and Oscar Lindsey returned yesterday from Seven Lakes, where they hiked, leaving here early Friday morning. They brought a number of fish home with them. En route back, the party encountered a blinding snowstorm, they reported.

Accident Reported—George Denney of 39 Myers street and B. J. Palmer of Route 2, Medford, had a minor collision last evening at 8 o'clock, near Phoenix, when Mr. Palmer made a reverse turn on the highway. No one was injured and little damage resulted to the two machines, according to a report filed at the city police station.

At the Hotels—Stopping at the hotels in Medford from various state points are W. F. Hays and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Keever of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Whitehorn and M. R. Lewis of Corvallis, J. H. Nashburg of Reedsport, R. L. Russell of Roseburg, W. C. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vanner of Grants Pass and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Williams of Klamath Falls.

Enjoy Caves Trip—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Goldstein, Miss Mary Pufford, guest here from Ventura, Cal., and Ransom Webster motored to Oregon Caves yesterday and report a fine trip and a large crowd going through the caves. Many members of the Oregon Rural Mail Carriers' organization were among the sightseers. Sherman Godlove of this city accompanied them from other Oregon points.

Many from Distance—Stopping in Medford over the week-end were the following guests from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldsworthy of St. Louis, Mo., Ida M. Billenksley of Salt Lake City, Utah, W. L. Pike of Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Dixon of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. G. Kalkman of Edmondton, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Kunde and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lewis of New York city, Hernalia B. Wells and A. Y. Flores of Chicago, Ill., Jessie L. Luther, Dr. Mary Baird and Mrs. B. B. Baird of Evanston, Ill., F. W. Ostrum and son of Forest Hill, N. Y., and J. M. Laughlin of Reno, Nev.

On Business Visit—H. J. Nelson of Portland, general agent of the Illinois Central, was a visitor here today attending to business matters.

Expected Here—A. VanOmen of Portland is expected in Medford to spend the summer with his daughter, Florence Ree.

Guest Here—Mrs. E. J. Johnston of Matiposa, Cal., was a recent guest here of Miss Carmen Hittson. Mrs. Johnston will be remembered here as Jessale McNiven.

In Medford Today—O. Ockerman, carpenter of Central Point, was a business caller in this city today, and spent considerable time talking over the times with Medford friends.

Visit Newspaper—Miss Esther Dunton of Molalla, Ore., and Barbara Walters of Escabada, Ore., were visitors at the Mail Tribune Saturday evening. They were in the city for the rural mail carriers' convention.

To Crater Lake—Merel S. Sager of San Francisco, landscape architect for Crater Lake, Mount Lassen, General Grant and Sequoia national parks, and the Pinnacles monument, spent the week-end in Medford.

Forfeits Ball—Gloria Durrell forfeited $10 cash ball for failing to appear in justice court this morning on a charge of being drunk in a public place. She was arrested at the Medford hotel Saturday night.

Return from South—Mrs. Hiram Meader and granddaughter, Miss Marian Hart, returned to Medford by train today from the south, following several days' vacation visiting friends and relatives.

Visit the Lake—Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Butterfield and family of Oakland, Cal., were in Medford this morning en route to Crater lake, from which place they will continue north. Mr. Butterfield is with the Southern Pacific company.

Guest of Kiwanians—Rev. J. M. Johnson of Central Point was a guest today at luncheon of the local Kiwanis club, accompanying Everett Faber, merchant of the neighboring city and a member of the Medford club.

Leave for North—Miss Julia Inaley and granddaughter, Gertrude Gilkeson of Roseburg, left this noon on the Shasta for Roseburg, having visited Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hubbard for the past week. Mrs. Inaley is Mr. Hubbard's sister.

Washington Guests—At the hotels, from their homes in Washington state, are Miss Ray, D. P. Marver, H. Chase, S. A. McCutcheon and Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Finch of Seattle, Samuel Hillson of Hoquiam and Blanche Kinny of Tacoma.

Find Lake Stormy—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kitson and party, who motored to Crater lake yesterday, got in on a summer's snowstorm and found the lake covered with a cloud of mist, which completely veiled the scenic wonder, they reported last night.

From Metropolis—Among the numerous Portlanders registered at hotels here are G. Grennan, H. W. Trueblood, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Moses, J. G. Severson, A. N. Russell, Fred R. West, Grace Sanders, D. W. Potter, L. D. Kelsey, M. B. Mattoon, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Megel, L. M. Griffin, V. L. Pachoo, George C. Clark, L. F. Cronke, L. N. Fenfield, Ewan Hedy, Lowell Miller, L. A. Cornett, Hobart M. Birch, Oscar Wirkku, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Mayer and Paul V. Barnett.

Fishermen Rained Out—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ellis and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hansen, who motored to Big Butte Saturday evening for a fishing trip, returned to Medford a few hours later, sans trout. Upon arrival at the spot where they were told "the fish abound," they saw a storm approaching. Being optimistic, they refused to be bluffed out and proceeded to pitch their tent. A few minutes later, "jolly well drenched," they grabbed tent and luggage and started for town. Today the men are blaming the women for their failure to catch any fish, but the first story told gave a vivid description of Harry Hansen running for cover, far in advance of his companions, with a steady stream of water blinding his fishing eye.

Stop in Medford—Ellis J. Louie and party of Casella were hotel guests here over the week-end, as were Thomas Grody and A. L. Parker of Los Angeles, J. Lansing Kerr of San Mateo and Miss Elizabeth Farrell of Piedmont.

From New York—Simon P. Bittner of the Colonial Airways, Albany airport, Albany, N. Y., flying a three-place Waco taper-wing ship, arrived at the Medford airport Sunday evening. He is visiting friends in Medford.

At Butte Falls—W. J. Sproat, forest examiner for Crater national park, left the local forestry office here today for the summer, on a survey trip. He will make his first visit to the Owen-Oregon lake area near Butte Falls.

Guest of Sister—Miss Frances Felton of New York city arrived in Medford yesterday with her sister, Mrs. C. R. Storey, from San Francisco, to visit Mrs. Storey at her home here. The local woman journeyed south to meet her sister and accompany her to this city.

Bedwells in North—When Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bedwell left their Medford home Saturday they didn't expect to find it raining in Portland on Sunday. But that's just what they found. Medford folk don't know as much about singing in the rain as do Portlanders, but the Bedwells got along all right. They stayed at the Imperial hotel.—Morning Oregonian.

Nelsons Visit Here—Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Nelson and children are in Medford this week from McMinnville as guests of Mrs. Nelson's mother, Mrs. Dora Dunham. Rev. Nelson, who has been pastor of the McMinnville church for the past four years, spent four years as pastor of the Phoenix Presbyterian church and is remembered by many friends in the valley.

From S. F. Bay—The guests in Medford hotels from San Francisco are W. J. Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. George Beddich, Miss N. L. Bryant, H. D. Bryant, George McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. C. Silverstrum, Mr. and Mrs. A. Brick, Joe Lightner, B. H. Kilpper, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Westerman and Mr. and Mrs. H. Voorhis and daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Ward and Miss Eva Lamoureux of Oakland were also guests registered.

Jean Harlow Star Red Head Picture Transferring a novel so sensational and so widely-read as Katharine Brush's "Red Headed Woman" to the screen was something of a challenge to the talkies. But the feat has been accomplished in a highly workmanlike manner in the film version which opened yesterday at the Fox Craterian theater.

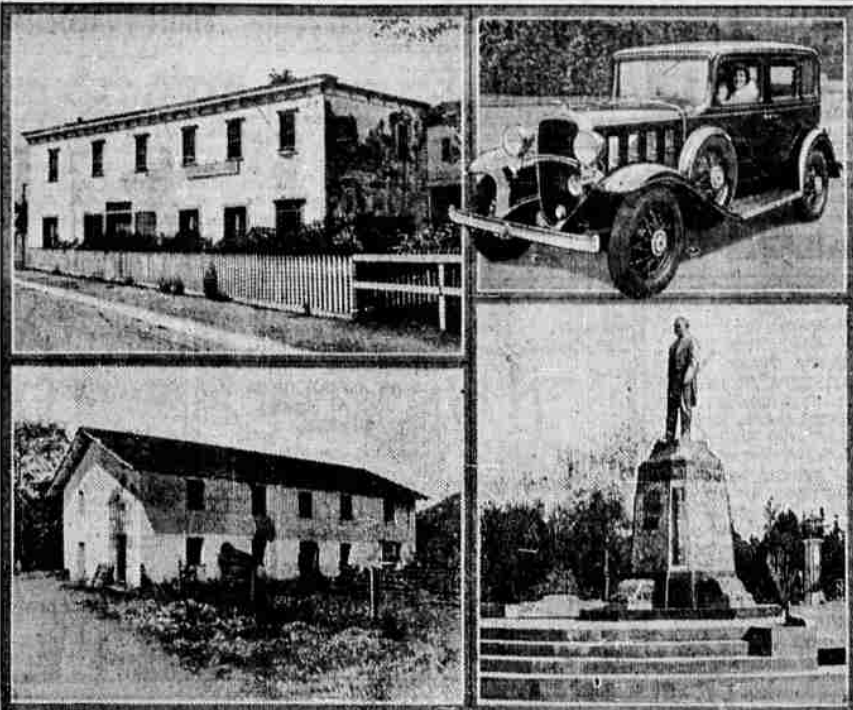

As surprising as the story itself is the appearance in the title role of Jean Harlow. Miss Harlow has never before had a role which imposes so stern a requirement on her acting ability, and she meets the test with flying colors.

As a special feature tomorrow night Medford's red-headed woman will appear on the stage of the Fox Craterian, competing for a solid gold wrist-watch, furnished by Larry Schade. The red-head receiving the most applause will receive the watch, enabling the Craterian fans to judge which contestant has the redder hair.

Warren Williams Pleases At Holly Politics take on a new angle now and then and "The Dark Horse" showing at the Holly theater today and tomorrow springs a new angle. A philandering politician, Warren Williams, feels that politics need another "it" and proceeds to remedy the situation. The dozens of hilarious situations and laugh-provoking lines had yesterday's crowds roaring most of the time. Williams is ably supported by Bettie Davis, Guy Kibbee and Frank McHugh. The story concerns a political convention that is deadlocked and a "dark horse" is nominated.

After the nomination the big necessity is a campaign manager, and Warren Williams, in jail for non-payment of alimony, is baited out to handle the campaign, which he does in a most unusual and amusing manner. Between two fires all the while, his ex-wife, who is anxious to get him behind bars again, on one hand and the opposing political faction on the other, Warren Williams has a part that fits his dynamic personality.

Feminine Motorist Follows Historical Trails

Miss Fay Carranza, post-graduate history student at a western university, wheeled her new Chevrolet sedan through California and northern Mexico recently in search of historical data. She found the Robert Louis Stevenson House at Monterey, upper left, where the famous author penned many stories. She also visited the monument erected in honor of Obregon, the famous Mexican leader, at Mexicali, and she visited the first college building in California, lower left.

CLERKS, CARRIERS GIVE REPORTS OF ROSEBURG MEET

Medford was selected as the convention city in 1934, and Bend in 1933, for the Oregon State Federation of Postoffice Clerks' organization, at the annual session near Roseburg Saturday, is the report today from members of the local delegation in attendance.

Officers were elected, with L. A. Black of Portland, president; Hugo Guenther of Medford, first vice-president; W. A. Higgins of Bend, second vice-president; Mr. Jackson of Baker, third vice-president, and Noel A. Forest of Portland, secretary-treasurer. Carl Friavold of San Francisco, fifth vice-president of the national federation, was a guest speaker.

Bend was also chosen meeting place of the 1933 convention by members of the Oregon State Federation of Letter Carriers, in meeting at the same place over the past week-end.

Place of the 1934 convention was not announced. Officers elected were: John C. Todd, Bend, president; R. A. Newland, Medford, vice-president; Sam P. Stewart, Portland, secretary-treasurer.

Dan R. Sullivan of San Francisco, a member of the national executive board, was present to represent the national officers and gave an interesting talk. Arthur D. Welch of Salem presided during the convention.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Letter Carrier held their first convention in conjunction with the 29th annual meeting of the carriers, and elected the following officers to head the organization: Mrs. Bryan, Portland, president; Mrs. Lowery, Bend, vice-president; Mrs. Nora Moon, Eugene, secretary-treasurer.

Bend was selected as the meeting place of the 1933 convention. Mrs. Grace Todd of Portland presided as chairman of the convention and Mrs. Orille Ruth Mantis of Spokane, Wash., chairman of the constitution and law committee, was the national officer present. Mrs. Todd is district organizer for Oregon and each leader addressed the convention guests.

Women from the local auxiliary attending were: Mrs. R. J. Clary, delegate; Mrs. Maude Swan, Mrs. Marie Freeman, Mrs. Pearl Newland, Mrs. Gladys Hamlin, Mrs. Lella Morry, Mrs. Mary Lawrence.

The local mail carriers were represented by R. E. Swan, delegate; R. A. Newland, member of the executive committee; Harry Morrow and Hans Hamlin.

Brant M. Rankin and J. E. White, officials and directors of the Walton N. Moore Dry Goods Co., with headquarters in San Francisco, stopped in Medford Saturday evening to confer with B. H. Williams, representative in this district for the company. They continued north yesterday evening.

The two made the flight to Medford in their four-place Ryan ship, landing at the Medford municipal airport. The two men are making a survey of the territory west of the Rockies, and left here for Seattle.

Crime Invades Tiny State VADUZ, Lichtenstein—(AP)—Crime has invaded this petite principality, forcing the government to organize its first police force. Until two recent burglaries, the first in Vaduz history, three constables maintained order throughout the tiny state.

KIWANIS SPEAKER PREDICTS GROWTH THRU DEPRESSION

Looking beyond the limited horizon of the present depression period to predict progress, not disaster, as result, and stressing the need for the great adjustment, which will bring advancement of all mankind, Rev. R. W. Nelson, of McMinnville, for four years pastor of the Phoenix Presbyterian church, addressed the local Kiwanis club at luncheon today noon at the Hotel Medford.

"It is the people not the times, who are out of joint," Rev. Nelson declared, opening his inspiring address with a review of history, emphasizing the adjustments made by each civilization to meet the new in science and thinking.

"Where it often comes to a place which is embarrassing, I wonder if we haven't reached that place?" he questioned his audience.

"We aren't going down. We are going on, but progress for the time being has gone beyond our appreciation and use of it."

Reverend Nelson made special reference to the machine age, the mass production which originated in and continued after the World war.

"The World war developed not one country but the world at large, the fields of South America, Egypt, Russia, as much as we may dislike communism, the standards of the Russian, we must admit that great country has become a power and a competitor, which must be acknowledged."

"We have come to a place where we of America must play a part of the price for the progress of the world. And seeing the world as one unit this is a happy situation."

"We should be willing to think of the depression as a step forward in the development of mankind. It will take sacrifice and courage to bring about this development. The students of today will see, I believe, social as well as economic changes more revolutionary than any witnessed by their parents or grandparents."

"Great nations are coming to the front. There is a need for world wide vision to acknowledge the progress of other nations and acceptance of a high standard of living, an end to the prevailing jealousies and hatreds. "We are bound to suffer," Rev. Nelson admitted, "our markets will suffer from the competition offered by other nations coming to the front. Something is bound to happen in China."

"I wonder," he added in conclusion, "if America is willing today to face the sacrifice involved in the acceptance of a higher, a single, standard of living for the world?"

Rev. Nelson was introduced to the club by Carl Brommer, acting as program chairman in the absence of Dr. Dan E. Standard, who is in the Sacred Heart hospital, recovering from injuries sustained in an auto accident.

Road Crew Starts Work, Star Gulch

Work on the road to Star Gulch was resumed today, with a construction crew of five taking up their duties. Five or six miles of the road was constructed last year, which is primarily for the protection of forests.

To Conference—W. L. Jones, road construction superintendent for Crater national forest, and Bill Hughes, road foreman, left here today for Grants Pass, to attend a forestry conference there today with representatives of the Siskiyou and Umpqua national forests.

Advertisement for 'RED HEADED WOMAN' featuring a woman's face and the text 'Always Comfortably Cool'.

Advertisement for 'JEAN HARLOW CHESTER MORRIS' featuring a watch and the text 'FREE A Bulova Wrist Watch to Reddest Headed Woman. Apply at Theatre Before 6 P. M. Tuesday Night.'

Advertisement for 'GIRL of the RIO' featuring Dolores Del Rio and the text 'LAST TIMES TODAY "Sky Devils" ANY SEAT 15c TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY'.

Advertisement for 'THE CLIFT' hotel featuring a building illustration and text describing its amenities and location.

Large advertisement for the movie 'THE HOLY DARK HORSE' featuring Warren Williams, Bettie Davis, and Guy Kibbee. Text includes 'HE PUTS THE "IT" IN POLITICS!' and 'Coming Wed. "COUGAR"'.

Large advertisement for 'COMFORT' electric fans featuring the text 'Today order an Electric Fan' and 'THE FAN will bring to your house a new delightful kind of weather.' Includes 'THE CALIFORNIA OREGON POWER COMPANY' logo.

Advertisement for 'State TONITE' featuring 'CHAS. "CHIC" SALE IN "THE EXPERT"' and 'SWIM In White Sulphur Water Helman's Baths ASHLAND'.

Advertisement for 'CONGER FUNERAL PARLOR' located at 'West Main at Newtown' and 'Office County Coroner'.