Wheeler Woolsey In Rialto Comedy

A South-of-the-Border resort, where men are debaucherous and girls are senseless, is pictured with all of its romantic glamour in "Girl Crazy," the latest Wheeler-Woolsey starring picture, on the Fox Rialto screen today and Monday.

Bert Wheeler and Bob Woolsey, who have a strong supporting cast which includes, among several others, Eddie Quillian, Mitzie Green, Dorothy Lee and fifty beauties.

"Girl Crazy" tells the story of a city youth who goes western in a whoopee way by turning his father's cattle ranch into a dude resort and bringing his bright light pals out to keep the rattlesnakes and cacti company. Wheeler and Woolsey sparkle as a couple of the "pals" who make pickers of the range gunmen. There are several new George Gershwin musical hits, all original compositions of the famous creator of modern melodies.

FRANKENSTEIN, GRIPPING DRAMA ROXY TONIGHT

Packed to the brim with thrills, and called by experts the most original film ever to reach the screen, the eerie "Frankenstein" which opens at the Roxy theater today with Colin Clive, Mae Clark, John Boles and Boris Karloff in the featured roles.

Richard Dix In Craterian Hit

Richard Dix will be seen at the Fox Craterian theatre today, Monday and Tuesday in "Roar of the Dragon," a stirring spectacle of the Far East, reflecting a vivid panorama of the hazardous frontier with its stately parade of adventure-seekers.

Appearing with Dix is Gwili Andre, famous Danish beauty from Copenhagen who makes her screen debut in the film. Miss Andre, about whom Hollywood has been building a legend of mystery and intrigue, is seen as a Russian noblewoman, one of the pathetic patriotics who have haunted the frontier towns of Northern China since the Red Revolution.

ARMY MEN HERE FOR FISHING TRIP

The two army fliers arrived here Saturday morning at 7:30 in their ships, having flown from the southern port in two hours. They will return to Sacramento Monday.

Arrangements for the fishing trip were made by Phil Sharp, local field manager for the United Air Lines, Fred W. Scheffel, city superintendent, and Mr. Clarkson.

Duane, 34, of Martine, Calif., held in the county jail for the past week, pending investigation of check-passing operations in this city and county. Department of justice agents and the state police collected evidence against Duane.

Duane is alleged to have represented himself to be a chief prohibition enforcement officer for the northwest U. S. blight inspector, deputy United States marshal and internal revenue inspector. It is alleged that he passed the bogus checks he represented himself to be a federal aide, and to have so inflated the checks.

Duane will be arraigned before Deputy Commissioner Victor Tengwald Monday.

Ashland Banks To Open Later

Commencing next week the two banks of Ashland will open for business at ten o'clock in the morning instead of nine o'clock as has been the custom for many years. There is no special reason for the earlier hour as Ashland business men arose no sooner than those in the ten o'clock banking towns. The two bank boards met and adopted a later opening hour, with the three o'clock closing hour.

"Hollywood Speaks" At Holly

Hollywood as a city has probably been discussed, photographed, and been the subject matter for more stories than any other city in the world. With all its mystery and intrigue this city makes a splendid background for stories.

"Hollywood Speaks" which is showing at the Holly theatre today, Monday and Tuesday features Genevieve Tobin who will be remembered by those who saw "One Hour With You," and Pat O'Brien who again takes the part of a reporter.

An interesting and unusual short subject is also on the Holly bill today. Aimee McPherson and Walter Huston staged a debate some time ago in Angelus Temple. The ever alert camera man looking for snapshots took pictures of the affair and we find an interesting short subject.

Tom Brown Story Makes Picture Of Exceptional Merit

"Tom Brown at Culver," one of the most inspiring pictures in many years, and one which reaches great dramatic heights without adoption of the sex vehicle, the gangster or prohibition, was shown in preview at the Holly theatre Friday night, following the regular feature, to a group of newspaper folk and other appreciative theater-goers. Filled with actions centering around the development of a boy's character and a country's appreciation of the men who have defended it, the show moves rapidly on to a glorious and sympathetic climax.

It is colorful with ranks of marching youths and arouses a spirit of patriotism without glorifying war, through including its horrors as well as the wonderful fellowship of the American Legion ranks. The show will open at the Holly Wednesday and the Wednesday and Thursday showings will be sponsored by the Medford post of the American Legion.

Copco Employee Magazine Carries Scene In Crater

The first page of the May-June issue of Forum Flashes, the official paper of the Copco Forum, just off the press, contains a reproduction of the Phantom Ship in Crater lake, taken from the June issue of Byllesby Management, Magazine of Chicago, with a wide circulation all over the country.

The same magazine contained a story, "Jewel of the Cascades—Crater Lake" written by Miss Katherine Stewart of the local office of the California Oregon Power company. The story was exceedingly well written, contained several illustrations of the lake, as well as the Indian legend of its formation and is a credit to Miss Stewart and the power company.

The Forum Flashes also tells of happenings in the different cities along the company's line, gives a story on the soldiers home at Roseburg, a report of the annual picnic, and the names of those who were awarded Copco service pins during the past three months.

The local publication is under the personal supervision of Ray Lenox, who has a number of able assistants.
