Church Reception For Rev. Bennett

The reception for Rev. A. G. Bennett and family at the First M. E. church on Friday night was "different."

A call had been sent out during the week for all members of the church and their families to bring a "covered dish" and gather in the recreation hall for an informal supper and program. About 150 people were seated in friendly fashion around three long tables.

After the delicious meal was finished, Mrs. F. W. Corlies, president of the Ladies' Aid, spoke a few words of welcome to Reverend and Mrs. Bennett and their sons, George and Robert and announced that the Epworth League and the various circles of the Aid would each present some numbers for entertainment of the honored guests.

The representatives of the Epworth League were Misses Josephine and Helen Power who played two lovely piano duets, and Miss Mary Roseberry, who gave two readings which were greatly enjoyed.

Representing the Fidelity Circle, Mrs. George Bigler told in negro dialect "What was the matter with 'Rastus' and Mrs. T. O. Helms, assisted by Robert Bennett gave a humorous reading. Then little Phyllis Neilson gave two clever readings in behalf of the Priscilla Circle. The Priscillas were represented also, by a group of young girls from Mrs. Whitlock's Sunday school class who sang "America the Beautiful."

For the "Aid Workers' Circle" the Epworth League settable sang "When There's Love at Home," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. C. Corn. They also sang "Highways Are Happy Ways" with ukulele accompaniment by Miss Luella Corn, and the whole audience sang or whistled with them.

At the close of the program, Rev. Bennett thanked the members and friends for the friendly welcome and told a number of humorous stories. Mrs. Bennett spoke a few words also and several of the newest members present were introduced.
