

Parade of Athletic Stars Opens Olympic Before 105,000 Persons

CAPACITY CROWD SEES IMPRESSIVE INITIAL CEREMONY

Vice President Curtis Proclaims Greatest Olympiad In Order—Fifteen Days Of Competition Follow.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, LOS ANGELES, July 30.—(AP)—The tenth modern Olympic games were opened this afternoon in 26 words by Vice President Charles Curtis, representing President Hoover, as 105,000 persons looked on and cheered.

"In the name of the president of the United States, I proclaim open the Olympic games of Los Angeles celebrating the tenth Olympiad of modern era," said the vice president of the United States and the greatest Olympiad of them all was a fact.

Sold to Capacity

No such attendance ever marked the games since they were renewed at Athens in 1896. The Olympic stadium was sold to its full capacity of 105,000 seats. When the athletes of Greece, marching first because Greece is the mother country of the Olympic games, led the parade of nations into the stadium every seat was occupied and many more were standing.

The parade of nations, requiring just short of an hour to march around the track may be broken next week, introduced bright costumes worn by officials and athletes and brought the spectators up cheering. The parade gave the band of 250 musicians a chance to make the first new Olympic record by playing without a halt for 50 minutes.

William May Garland in a few words extended the welcome of the United States, and in even fewer words, Vice President Curtis formally declared the games opened.

Olympic Torch Lighted

As the vice president concluded, a ten-gun salute from 75 millimeter guns roared and the Olympic torch was lighted, the flames, which will burn throughout the games, shooting high above the stadium.

A choir of 1,200 voices sang "of virile games by which the body's beauty is made to live once more." As the last note of the hymn died away a flag draped cage in the center of the field was opened and 2,000 pigeons sped away.

The Olympic flag, with five entwined colored circles, representing the five continents in a common cause of good will, was raised and Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California, delivered the dedication address.

The choir sang another sacred hymn before Lieutenant George C. Calnan, U. S. N., representing the United States for the fourth time in Olympic games competition, took the Olympic oath for all the nations. He said:

"For Honor and Glory
We swear that we will take part in the Olympic games in loyal competition, respecting the regulations which govern them and desiring of participating in them in the true spirit of sportsman ship, for the honor of our country and for the glory of sport."

The standard bearers, in the order of the processional, with Greece at one end and the United States at the other, stood in a semi-circle behind Lieut. Calnan as he repeated the oath, the naval officer speaking in a loud clear voice while the other athletes all stood with their right hands raised.

The processional was in the same order as that followed in the parade. The great crowd remained seated as the athletes marched out to return to the Olympic village, which was a deserted village, during the opening ceremonies.

As the last athlete of the big United States contingent left the stadium the pageantry was over until the closing ceremonies August 14.

In the between the athletes faced 15 days of world competition in 16 sports, including 135 separate events. The parade of nations, while not the largest in the history of the modern Olympics, was the most spectacular and colorful. The crowd cheered at intervals but at times the spectators seemed too impressed to give voice.

TWO GAMES ON BASEBALL DISH FOR LOCAL FANS

Two baseball games are scheduled today in the local area with Medford's revamped Merchants entertaining the Sutherland team at the fairgrounds and Talent facing the strong Klamath outfit, on the Talent diamond. The Talent clash is set for 2 p. m. and is expected to be a hot affair as the Klamath invaders claim championship honors in their territory. The newly organized Talent band composed of fifteen pieces under the leadership of Lisle Tame, will make its first appearance at the game.

For the Medford-Sutherland battle, "Lucky" Russell, Utah moundsman, will toe the slab for the Merchants with Bill Force on the receiving end. This combination is expected to give the Sutherland nine, which claims the southwestern Oregon league title, plenty of trouble.

The Merchants will meet Grants Pass August 7 in the second clash of the series for the southern Oregon championship, and will meet the House of David apostles of baseball and whiskers here on August 9.

With the shakeup of the locals, Managers Hooser Hafford and Bud Conlin feel the Merchants should take all the remaining games on their season's schedule.

CLAIMS DAMAGES IN 'NAT' ACCIDENT

Lois Hill, 15, through her father, John Hill, as guardian, has filed suit in the circuit court, against Stella J. Merrick and the Merrick Motor Inn, for $227, alleged damages sustained in a swimming pool accident, June 25, 1931. It is the second suit filed this year against the Merrick Motor Inn, for alleged pool injuries. The previous case was settled by stipulation.

The plaintiff alleges that while swimming in the pool, she mounted the high dive tower, and while standing thereon was shoved off, by other children at play, causing her to strike the cement coping, suffering injuries to her head and leg.

It is alleged that the accident was due to the negligence of the defendants in not cautioning the children against playing on the diving tower. Attorneys O. C. Boggs, J. F. Fiegel, and O. H. Bengston appear as attorneys for the plaintiff.

ALLISON, VAN RYN SAVE U. S. HOPES IN TENNIS BATTLE

By Frank H. King
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, July 30.—(AP)—A nimble, crafty pair of American youngsters, Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, teamed to perfection today to win a bitter three hour doubles battle with France, score the first American victory in three matches, and revive United States' hopes of Davis cup victory that all but died yesterday.

Through five long sets, always improving as the dust wore on, the crack doubles combination downed Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnan 6-3, 11-13, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, before a frantic French crowd of 10,000 and carried the 1932 fate of the historic trophy over into the final pair of singles matches tomorrow.

Tonight it seemed as though the final match, the singles battle of Vines and Cochet, might still prove the deciding contest of the five.
