BARNUM DEFENSE WITNESSES TELL GOOD CHARACTER

take two days. Among the defense witnesses will be the asserted "other woman" in the case, whom the plaintiff alleges went with Barnum on a trip to Portland, when he underwent an operation for gonorrhea.

Mrs. Barnum charges in her complaint that Barnum was profane, and given to telling vulgar stories before women; that he is unfit to have the care and custody of the minor child; that he was quarrelsome, and made a "gun play" to frighten women guests at the Barnum home; that he "partied" with other women, and struck his wife.

The defense, in its answers, charges "running around nights with other men" use of liquor and unfitness to have the custody of the child, and incompatibility.

The custody of the boy and all-mother are expected to furnish the main issues in the action. Mrs. Barnum seeks the custody of the child, and all-mother of $25,000 in a lump sum, or $350 per month, $1000 attorney fees and costs.

Barnum, a son of a wealthy Southern Oregon pioneer family, is worth $100,000, according to the plaintiffs, and about one-third that amount, according to defense estimates.

Southern Oregon motorists will be interested in the announcement in today's Mail Tribune of the Gilmore Oil company's sensational new "speedway perfected" Red Lion gasoline, which makes its debut in this section of Oregon today.

The new Red Lion gasoline combines in perfect balance the necessary efficiency of high octanes, distillation curves, high gravity, boiling points, etc. It brings balanced anti-knock, multi-power gasoline that provides race-car performance at no extra cost, according to C. W. Ellis, concerning its manufacture, Mr. Ellis said: "New refining practices had to be developed to produce Red Lion Gasoline. More crude oil is required from which to refine a gallon of this new gasoline than to produce a gallon of ordinary motor fuel. This is the more costly way to refine gasoline."

The Gilmore "Speedway-perfected" gasoline, carried the famous Gilmore guarantee to remove carbon, according to Gilmore officials.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Selling of the rails, the strong group in July recovery, checked a fresh upsurge in the stock market today, and wiped out much of extreme gains of 1 to more than 4 points. Much of the list closed with net gains of fractions to a couple of points, but some rails were lower. The closing tone was irregular. Sales approximated 2,000,000 shares.

Much of the speculative fraternity had been awaiting a technical reaction, some feeling it was past due, and there was a rush to take profits when the rails began to slip. The list had been hesitant early, but surged up swiftly for a time in the afternoon. Prices began to slip in the last half hour.
