

AMERICANS TAKE OLYMPIC LEAD IN TRACK AND FIELD

Tolan Wins by Two Inches Over Metcalfe in 100 Meters—Record Breaking Starts Early in Games

By Alan Gould.
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—(AP)—On the crest of a record-breaking wave unparalleled in world athletic competition, America moved swiftly today into a commanding position in the Olympic track and field championships, as a result of the most smashing victory for the nation's sprinters in eight years.

The first brilliant chapter of the United States' comeback in the realm of human speed was completed yesterday when two black thunderbolts blitzed down the Olympic cinder-path, so close together at the finish that only the motion pictures finally could establish that Eddie Tolan of Detroit beat Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette by two inches in the world record equalling time of 10.3 seconds, for the Olympic 100-meter championship.

Without a single day of rest, Tolan and Metcalfe, along with their two closest rivals, Arthur Jonath of Germany and George Simpson, third American sprinter, were primed to renew the speed battle today in the first two rounds of 200-meter trials.

The continuation of the speed whirl shared the third day's track program interest with the 800-meter final, in which the new British champion, Long Tom Hampson, faced the challenge of three Americans, Eddie Geunung, Charles Hornboedel and Ned Turner, among others.

Meanwhile this dazzling Olympic show featured the crowning of two sturdy Irish champions, burly Patrick O'Callaghan in the hammer throw, for the second straight Olympic, and slim Robert Morton Tisdall in the 400-meter hurdles; a fresh change of records, making it certain the Olympic book of standards will be revised from top to bottom; and definite assurance that all attendance marks for Olympic track and field sports will be wiped out completely.

A born showman, O'Callaghan gave Monday's crowd a dramatic moment by getting off his winning hammer throw, measuring 176 feet 11 1/2 inches, on his very last whirl in the seven-foot, screen-bordered circle.

The new 400-meter hurdle champion, Tisdall, won his first Olympic gold medal but lost a world record because he tripped over his last barrier. Tisdall was clocked in 51.8 seconds, beating Morgan Taylor's world track mark of 52 seconds flat, but disallowance of the record for knocking over one hurdle was automatic.

Hardly Equals Record.
This gave Glenn Hardin, American boy, the distinction of moving into world record company, despite being beaten. Hardin finished second in 52 seconds, and this was accepted as equalling Taylor's mark. Taylor was third and the defending champion, Lord David Burghley of England, fourth.

The paid attendance so far for two two days of sparkling competition in the stadium has approximated 110,000, officials said, thereby making it certain the tenth Olympic games will pass the previous record of 130,232 paid, for the entire eight days of track and field sports at Amsterdam, four years ago, although the stadium has been only about half full the past two days, since it was packed

CARDS' PLAY BOY IN COMEBACK ON PHILLIES' MOUND

Flint Rhem Now Consistent Winner Under New Surroundings—Wins Eight in Ten Starts for Shotton

By Herbert W. Barker.
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)
Credit for the year's greatest baseball comeback seems to belong almost without question to Flint Rhem, erstwhile play-boy of the St. Louis Cardinals and now a consistent winner for Burt Shotton's failing Phillies.

The right-hander whose disregard of training rules and ineffective pitching finally cost him his place in the far-flung Cardinal organization, has rolled up a string of eight victories against only two defeats since he joined the Phillies early in the campaign. For the Cardinals he had won four games and lost two.

Aids Third Victory.
Rhem's pitching was responsible in no small measure for the Phillies' third straight victory over the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, 13-5. It was significant that Rhem blanked the Pirates until his teammates had piled up a 9-0 lead for him. The Phillies flogged four Pirate hurlers for 23 hits to pile up their one-sided triumph, their tenth in 14 games with the league leaders this season.

Yanks Down Tigers.
The Yankees tripped Detroit, 6-3, as Danny MacFayden kept 11 Tiger hits well scattered.

Tips on CONTRACT

WHEN TO BID HIGH OR NOT AT ALL
By Tom O'Neil

Original bids of two under most systems are made on hands of great strength. Such an offering on one suit of exceptional length and nothing much else is deceiving. With such a hand it would be far better to pre-empt with a bid of four in a major or five in a minor than to bid two. A pre-emptive bid often will shut out opponents when they have possibilities of game or a part score.

On the other hand, an original bid of one and a game-demand bid of two will certainly cause partner to count on high-card strength that the hand of the original bidder lacks and trouble will ensue. Here is a hand from a game in which M. E. Coleman, White Plains, N. Y. took part:

The bidding:
2♠ 3♦ 3♠ 2♦
2♠ dbl 4♦ P
4♠ dbl P P
West led the ace of diamonds, which was trumped by south. The nine of spades went to east's queen, and east returned a diamond, south again trumping. South then led a club, which west's lone king took. South then lost another spade and another club, being set one doubled, not-vulnerable.

If west had bid four spades originally the chances are that west would not have doubled and north certainly should not have bid. But with south's original bid of two north very properly assumed that south had plenty of high honors. It was his duty to show the heart suit, and indeed rebid hearts if necessary. A one-spade bid originally by south likewise would have warranted north in bidding and rebidding hearts or jumping to four hearts immediately. As a defensive measure the result to north and south as actually played, or if four spades had been bid originally, was worth while, since east and west could have made a

AMERICA FACING BIG TRADE LOSS

PARIS, Aug. 2.—(AP)—American business interests face the loss, of millions of dollars worth of trade with France as a result of a treaty just signed by France and Belgium. These classifications include copper, lead, zinc, hides, skins, office equipment and many other articles.

Protests were made not only by Americans, but by German, British, Japanese, Mexican and Chilean interests, but there seemed to be nothing that could be done. The treaty is to last for eight months.
