MOUNTAIN CAMP

WILL BE CENTER HOOPER'S DRIVE

Many Conferences On Campaign Slated for Rapid Retreat - Informality to Be Feature of Gatherings

By Bess Furman

WASHINGTON-(AP)-The Hoover version of a front porch campaign will be week-end mountain-retreat conferences bringing even more sharply to the news foreground his Rapidan camp.

"Campaigners" called there can take along their old clothes and thank their lucky stars to be invited to a place so cozy and comfortable.

Contemplating its rustic beauty and "efficiency," they are almost certain to be amazed at the wares a president turned pioneer and wrested a home from the primitive wilderness.

Basking in its coolness, guests will find it perhaps hard to believe they are within 100 miles of hot and humid Washington.

"Pioneered" Camp Region While still secretary of commerce, Herbert Hoover used to look at the Blue Ridge haze and think that there probably lay a place where he could fish for trout, sit in the cool shade and eat and sleep to the sound of rushing waters.

The exactions of the presidency made the need for such a retreat imperative, and the president, with Mrs. Hoover, went prospecting and found the spot.

Remarkably enough, the Virginia mountains never had been opened to such camping, perhaps due to the hard times which remained after the Civil war, delaying for many years a modern road-building program.

Notables Built Dams Like other pioneers, the president and Mrs. Hoover had plenty of hardships, for throughout the first summer the rain was almost incessant. Living in canvas tents, they plodded about in mud. They shivered in sweaters. Their cars stuck on the trails.

Most of their adventures never saw print, but such as did made interesting reading. The president and cabinet members lugged stones to build the little dams that now make Rapidan waters even more rushing.

Colonel Chas. A. Lindbergh helped, as did Premier Ramsay MacDonald. But that's history. There's no tenderfooting now.

White House limousines luxuriously speed the guests into the rustic veranda of "Town House" recreation center of the tree-hidden cluster of cottages high on the mountain-side. Mrs. Hoover, thoughtful hostess, is usually there to give personal greetings. Filipino boys bear blinking pitchers of fruit punch.

Cottages Quaintly Named Guests are quartered in wood brown cottages, each with bedroom, living room with fireplace and modern bath—each with its own quaint name done in carved wood letters. "The Owl," "The Creel," "Prime Minister Cabin," "Isabel's Cabin," "The Slums" and "Fire Tents."

Mrs. Hoover's secretaries and her close circle of friends who know the camp and all its intricacies serve as guides. Walking is a delight along smooth paths, rock-bordered—trails made easy by the marines, who always take charge of the Summer White House.

Eating is lyric, under the trees, beside Hemlock Run—with service as smooth as in any hotel. Sleep in the mountain quietude, is deep. Pomp is forgotten.

Mrs. Hoover, in sports dress and Straw Hats in Vogue flat-beeled shoes, supplies all her guests with broad-rimmed, rough straw hats—the kind that country people wear—and these she puts them on quit being cliffed right there and become bona fide campers.

The most delightful camp spot of all is the one the campaigners are likely to frequent, the veranda of the president's cabinet. It is built over the junction of Laurel Prong and Mill Prong, where they come rushing together over rocks to form the Rapidan.

Here is an abundance of easy chairs, but somehow guests always want to sit on the home-made wooden stools, carved with hand-holes in their tops to make them easy to move around.

BONUS BABY GASSED BY BOMB EXPLOSION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—An 11-week-old baby from the bonus army today was in a critical condition at Gallinger hospital, where physicians were told by the parents that the child, recovering from an illness, suffered a relapse after the explosion nearby of a gas bomb during the evacuation Thursday.

The boy, Bernard Myers, has a stomach disorder. Dr. J. A. Heik, assistant superintendent, said the parents, who are from Pittsburg, claimed the initial was on the way to recovery until the gassing.

Pneumonia Takes Song Hit Writer

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Thomas Male, arranger and composer of the song "I'm Looking at the World Through Rose Colored Glasses," is dead.

Physicians at the county hospital, where he died last night, ascribed his death to pneumonia and kidney ailments.

CHAMBERLAIN LANDS LARGEST FISH FROM WATERS OF DIAMOND

DIAMOND LAKE, Aug. 2.—(Sp1)—Weather conditions have been ideal at Diamond lake for the past few days. Mosquitoes, which remained unusually late this season, have entirely disappeared. Fishing is very good, according to George Gilliam, local game warden, the largest single catch last week measuring 26 1/2 inches and weighing 5 1/2 pounds.

Medford, Mr. Chamberlain was accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bringle of Medford.

J. R. Burdge, agent of U. S. department of justice, made his headquarters at Diamond lake while investigating homesteading of lands within the national forest on Fish Creek desert. It is reported that there are now 11 families, led by Best and Davis occupying homesteads in this area.

Matt Ryckman, Portland, of the state game commission, made an inspection of the work at the hatchery last week, accompanied by A. M. Stiles, E. P. Deeman and John R. Outfield of Portland.

Fred L. Perry of the state police, game division, is spending his two weeks' vacation at Diamond lake with his family. Mr. Perry will be remembered by Medford visitors to the lake as the deputy warden stationed here during the seasons of 1929 and 1930. Headquarters are in Roseburg.

Howard Ash is helping Lowell Ash do carpenter work this week.

Viola Zimmer broke her arm two weeks ago, but is recovering from the injury.

Midred Young and son Donny, Viola Zimmer and daughter Joan and Dorothy Ash called on Mrs. Ben Geary of Elk Creek, July 29.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Willeita attended a Rebekah meeting at the Ledy cabinet on Elk creek, Sunday.

After lunch a number of the ladies went swimming. Before returning home, Mr. and Mrs. Willeita visited Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Ditworth of Hawk creek.

Mrs. Hilda Morgan took care of her little nephew, Bobby Jantzen of Central Point, for a few days last week.

LEGION CONCLAVE STEIWER PLANNING FEW DAYS' FISHING

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 2.—(AP)—A few days of fishing in Oregon streams before he settled down to the transaction of official business, is looked forward to by Senator Frederick W. Steiwer today, when he returns from Washington, D. C.

Senator Steiwer will be in Portland, but a few days before leaving for a fishing trip.

Steiwer said he and Senator Charles L. McNary hope to have Oregon participate largely in the proceeds of the relief bill. He is working on the proposal that one of the members of the home loan bank be an Oregonian, and has transmitted to the president the names of five Oregon men for consideration.

Only one of these names were revealed—that of A. C. Dixon of Eugene, who already has been mentioned.

MATE'S ILLNESS IS LAST STRAW

MINNEOLA, N. Y., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Dudley K. Morris lost a modest fortune when stocks crashed in 1929, and grinned.

He took a bullet in the chest during the World War, yet carried on. But when the doctors told him that his wife was incurably ill, it was more than he could bear.

On the top floor of a Glen Cove hospital yesterday, in the room where she lay ill, he killed her with a pistol shot and then himself.

Open on the bed when police arrived was a book Mrs. Morris had been reading. It was titled "top floor murder."

PLANE GROUND LOOPS ON EMERGENCY FIELD

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 2.—(AP)—A huge Keystone bombing plane, one of the largest ships in the army, overturned on the Troutdale emergency field here today when the pilot attempted a landing. No one was injured and reports from the field said the ship was not badly damaged.

Hood River—Remodeling of former Davidson building, Third and Cascade, progressing.

Jefferson—Work on new Sanilium bridge progressing rapidly.

Eden Precinct

EDEN PRECINCT, Aug. 2.—(Sp1)—Mr. Hosenfurther sprayed his apple orchard Friday and Saturday. He has a fine set on his apples and Winter Nells pears. The place is the Hargrave orchard south of Phoenix.

Ray Burnum lost a fine pecker calf Friday night. The animal got into a deep hole of water and muck, and drowned.

This precinct is becoming noted for the devilment here. Everyone is
