Noted Cookery Expert Will Direct Relief Canning Here

MRS. V. L. SEXTON, better known to the women of Oregon as Hester Heath, of cooking school fame, has consented to direct and supervise the work of conserving foodstuffs as the most important work of the women's division of the Jackson County Unemployment Relief council of which Mrs. A. E. Reames is chairman.

Mrs. Sexton who last March conducted one of the most successful cooking schools ever sponsored by the Medford Mail Tribune has recently become a resident of Medford. Mrs. Sexton, as local representative of a brokerage firm, having been transferred here from the Portland office.

Work will begin at the organization of foods which cannot await the securing of a central canning kitchen which the committee hopes to provide. There is immediate need for fruit jars, lids, jar rubbers, crocks, sugar, vegetables, meats, fish, or any material which may be contributed to the committee, to aid in supplying food for the worthy needy of the community.

APPLIGATE RIVER UNDER SCRUTINY BY HEALTH HEAD

Following a number of inquiries during the past week, from parents of Girl Scouts, residents of the Applegate district, and others, the county health department yesterday issued a statement that the water being tested; that the Girl Scouts would not be allowed to swim in the Applegate river, until a report on the analysis of the water had been received, and on the general conditions.

County Physician C. J. Drummond's statement is as follows: "Girl Scouts going to the camp near Ruch, and their parents may be assured that no amount of food material for canning or of sugar to be used in canning, is too small for use in this important work."

A.A.A. TO BOOST MEDFORD TOURIST TRAFFIC IS WORD

Through an active campaign being sponsored in Medford at the present time by Fred L. Brown for the Oregon State Motor association, Medford will take its place as an important link in the nation-wide activities of the American Automobile association, a national non-profit civic organization.

As a result of arrangements being made by Mr. Brown, the full services of the national organization will be available to motorists in Jackson and surrounding counties. Medford already has a branch of the A. A. A. that is giving out touring information, books about Medford and surrounding towns, maps, etc., as well as non-resident permits, under the direction of Lee C. Garlock.

Emergency road service rendered free to members is one of the most important features of the organization and, as pointed out by Mr. Brown, last year A. A. A. clubs responded to over one million calls from members for roadside service including such items as changing of tires, wrecker service, towing, delivery of gasoline, oil, and adjustment of minor mechanical difficulties.

As outlined by Mr. Brown, one of the most important activities of the Oregon State Motor association, A. A. A. is the promotion of tourist travel in and out of Oregon. Annually the A. A. A. handles over ten million tours for motorists and thousands of affiliated clubs each season routes hundreds of thousands of members from North, East and Southern points to Oregon. Newspaper articles and maps prepared by the association, featuring Oregon as a summer tourist mecca are produced by the national touring organization and distributed to the eastern papers.

Mr. Brown had not up to this time received its share of attention from the visiting motorist public, especially in view of the natural attractions which it has to offer to the summer tourist. As a part of the program of the local unit of the A. A. A. efforts will be made to attract visitors to this section in greater numbers than has been done in the past.

LICENSE BUYING CONTINUES BRISK IN LOCAL REGION

Auto license purchasers at the sheriff's office Saturday continued on the average of slightly more than 100 per day. Close to 1000 yellow stickers have been issued this week, along with more than normal issuance of transient travel permits to residents who are visiting or moving to other states.

The secretary of state estimates 75 per cent of the autolets of the state have purchased new estimates and local officials hold that this plate and local good for Jackson county. Pre-memorandum predictions placed the license purchases at 80 per cent of the total. Last year's figures place the auto enrollment of Jackson county at 10,000, with close to 1,000 out of state licenses. Between 6,500 and 7,000 licenses have been issued for the county to date.

GOLD MILL WILL BE ESTABLISHED IN JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 7.—(Spl.)—After more than six months of development work, several surveys and the cooperation of city officials the Jacksonville Gold Mining company, Seattle outfit which has taken over the Old Town mine near here, will start installation tomorrow of a 30-ton ball mill.

The Old Town mine, more recently known as the Midas holding, is conceded one of the best quartz locations in southern Oregon and, according to government figures, has produced many thousands of dollars in gold. It is located on the right fork of Jackson creek near the city reservoir and comprises several hundred feet of tunnel, ore bins and chutes. The property was leased from the late George Schump, who was one of the district's veteran miners.

The mill will be set up within the city limits bordering on Jackson creek and the cemetery. Equipment for handling concentrates and rock crushing machinery also will be installed. Oscar Lewis, chairman of the Legion celebration committee which has taken over work of raising funds for purchase of the site by the city through a "50 years ago" celebration scheduled for August 20 here, announced yesterday that bonded deeds to the mill location were signed and that instruction had been given L. Houghton, general manager of the mining company, to proceed with erection of the mill at once. Jacksonville had offered the incorporation free site providing they would erect and operate for one year a custom gold mill.
