The divorce decree was granted in the afternoon by Superior Judge Thomas F. Moran on grounds of desertion. Last night Judge Moran officiated at the wedding.

Adolphe Menjou In Craterian Picture

"Carmen's Affairs" the Fox production with Adolphe Menjou in the featured role, comes to the Fox Craterian today. Based on James Forbes' successful stage play, it tells the story of a middle-aged bachelor who, through the machinations of the girl's sister, marries a youthful flapper of the beautiful, but brilliant type. Events soon prove to him that he has made a serious mistake and he sets about to extricate himself from the entanglement in which he finds himself.

Minna Gombell, one of the outstanding comedienne of films, appears in the leading role of the gold-digging sister, and Joan Marsh, one of the most beautiful blondes in motion pictures, portrays the role of the girl.

A public wedding will be a feature of the Craterian program this evening. The novel event will take place at 9:00 p. m., with Rev. A. G. Bennett officiating.

August special. Three leads 16-in. slabs for $6.75. Med. Fuel Co. Tel. 631.

Here Sunday

Frank Buck and the baby elephant in "Bring 'Em Back Alive," which comes to the Fox Craterian theater next Sunday. This amazing animal adventure epic was screened by Buck in the wilds of the Malay jungle.

As a special feature for the kiddies, a pet animal revue is being planned by Manager Don Geddes at the Fox Craterian Friday and Saturday afternoons. Children will display their pets on the stage of the Craterian and the audience will judge the winners of the novel contest. The boy or girl and pet winning first place will receive a crisp dollar bill and a ticket to "Bring 'Em Back Alive." The next 10 winners will receive tickets to Frank Buck's picture and all 11 winners will be introduced from the Craterian stage Sunday evening.

Tribune-Holly To Stage Nickle Show

"The Air Mail Mystery," a breath-taking thriller of soaring airplanes, battles in the air and aviation romance, is but one feature of the nickel matinee Thursday at the Holly theatre. Kiddies who clip the Holly matinee ad in Tuesday's or Wednesday's Mail Tribune and present it with five cents at the Holly box office tomorrow afternoon will be admitted to the big show. Candy bars from the Gold Seal Creamery will be presented to The Mail Tribune's and Holly's little guests.

The Thursday matinee will mark the opening of the thrilling "Air Mail Mystery," a series of 12 thrilling episodes that will delight juvenile Landberths and Ehrhardts.

The Thursday afternoon matinee will especially appeal to red-blooded young Americans. The clipping of the matinee and a nickel will admit any child under 12 years of age.

"Carmen" Appears At Holly Theatre

Prior to the advent of sound in motion pictures several attempts were made to transfer to the screen that intangible something which makes grand opera the most fascinating and at the same time the most inspiring of all types of entertainment. These efforts were rewarded with enthusiasm and for excellent reason.

Patrons of motion pictures were eager to see visualizations of their favorite operas but they speedily realized that, short of its music, opera on the screen was indifferent entertainment. It has remained for the Holly theatre to bring to Medford a transcription of what is undoubtedly the world's best beloved opera, "Carmen," in which the dramatic features of this tale of gypsy love have been skillfully blended with the haunting music of Bizet.

"Carmen" which plays at the Holly theatre today is more than just grand opera brought to the screen.

BARTLETT PICKING IN UPPER VALLEY GETS UNDER WAY

Picking of the Bartlett pear crop started this morning in many of the orchards of the central and upper portions of the valley. Picking will be delayed until the middle of the week in many of the orchards of the southern end of the valley due to wind loss last Saturday. All the orchards and all the packing plants will be in operation by the middle of next week.

Most of the packing plants of the city started operations today in a small way and do not expect to be in operation at full capacity before the first of next week, when the peak of the Bartletts will star coming in.

The Rogue River Canning company will start its annual pack of pears next week.

A number of orchardists reported today that their appearance started work but not in as large numbers as former years. Two orchardists reported today that the transients parked their cars, bearing foreign licenses, down the road, knowing in a lieu of a local card the license would be the first thing the employer inspected.

Most of the orchardists have a strict rule to employ only local help and have signs posted to this effect. Many also require that only one in a family be employed. Many of the pickers have worked annually for many years.

FIRE FIGHTER HURT WHEN LIMB CRASHES

Ted Whaley of Eagle Point is in the Community hospital receiving treatment for a bad laceration of his head, received while fighting fire in the state forest out from Eagle Point. A limb, according to the report, fell and struck Whaley on the head.

Fires, raging in the Eagle Point vicinity, were cut today, state forest officials announced.
