

RUSSO-AMERICAN TRADING REVIVAL HANGS ON CREDIT

Largest Remaining Problem Is Russia's Ability to Furnish Suitable Guarantee — Government Favorable

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(P)—A concerted program to restore Russo-American trade to its former levels—over $100,000,000 a year—had advanced to a point today where it was evident the largest remaining problem to be solved was that of Russia's ability to furnish suitable guarantees for credit.

James P. Warburg, president of the International Acceptance Bank, Inc., it was learned, is now in Europe, where he is believed to be studying Russia's record in its dealings with European countries. In its own negotiations with New York banks, principally among them the Chase National bank, it was revealed the Soviet government's trade and financial obligations had been met promptly and fully.

Government Favors. Wall street banking interests reported that unofficially the United States government is in favor of any well-founded plan which would serve to open up the large Russian markets to American goods. Whether the question of Russian recognition might be involved could not be ascertained here. Some bankers expressed the belief recognition might follow later, but that lack of recognition need not interfere at present with efforts to improve trade relations.

Only meager information was available today about a reported plan of the Russian government to issue $100,000,000 of internal bonds, bearing a 10 per cent interest rate, which would be redeemable in gold upon demand. It was learned, however, such a proposal had been placed before American bankers and that they had been sufficiently impressed to send several experts to Europe to view the plan further study.

Chase National bank, it was assumed, would play the leading role in efforts to rehabilitate the business of exporting American goods to Russia. This institution, it was recalled, took the lead in originally extending credit to Russia. Huge exports involving many millions of dollars were financed by the bank without loss.

According to the Russo-American Chamber of Commerce, Russia since 1924 has purchased $2,500,000,000 of goods from the outside world without a single default. However, to recognize debts incurred by the former czarist regime, and this fact has proved one of the principal stumbling blocks in the path of closer trade relations between the two countries.

PEDESTRIAN PARADISE HOLDS HOMECOMING

TANGIER, Va., Aug. 12.—(P)—With no automobiles, no horses and no wagons, this island town of the lower Chesapeake bay, which holds its homecoming celebration today, is called the "pedestrian's paradise."

Founded by Captain John Smith in 1608, Tangier has only one street for its 1,500 inhabitants, but many canals. The bridges over the canals have gaps in the middle for the needs of fishing boats.

Ex-Legion Leader Vets Bureau Head WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—The appointment of Ralph T. O'Neil, Kansas, a former national commander of the American Legion, to head the veterans' bureau in the Democratic national committee, was announced today by Chairman James A. Farley.

One secret of getting ahead You need good health to succeed. Many a man has seen his chances go because he was too sick to keep pace with competition. Often his poor health was due to constipation.

This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of energy, sleeplessness. It takes the "punch" out of your day's work.

Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

VISIT TO DAIRIES SHOWS PURITY OF MEDFORD SUPPLY

Those who spent the greater part of Wednesday visiting some of the fifty dairies furnishing Medford with milk, are enthusiastic over the trip. These fifty dairies are each inspected frequently by Charles Austin, city milk inspector, who is co-operating with both producers and distributors with the result that this district has one of the highest records in the state.

A grade A dairy must have only cows passing the tuberculin and barn tests at least once a year. Barns and milk houses must comply in every detail with the standard state law requirements, and be kept absolutely clean and sanitary.

A grade A dairy must have artificial refrigeration so that all milk may be cooled to below 50 degrees within an hour of the time of milking or delivery within the hour. The milk from all B grade dairies is cooled as much as possible and when pasteurized can be sold as grade A milk. By this is meant milk which has been heated between 142 degrees and 148 degrees F. for 30 minutes, and then quickly cooled.

The modern dairy means modern, up-to-date machinery and those who visited the dairies Wednesday were shown washing and sterilizing machines, bottling and capping machines, milking machines, closed top milking pails and straining pails.

Grade B milk maximum bactericidal rate is 30,000 per cubic centimeter and grade B 200,000 per cubic centimeter. Conditions under which Medford's milk supply is being protected are unquestionably safeguarding and satisfactory.

more buyers of commercial milk are discriminating against milk which is not standard. Although the city of Medford appoints Mr. Austin, the industry pays all expenses connected with the inspection service.

From all money the producer receives, 90 per cent is spent at home and only about 10 per cent leaves the community for equipment manufactured elsewhere.

Cars were furnished by the following: C. Austin, L. S. Leach, state inspector; D. H. Fredericks, of Snider's creamery; T. Gebauer, of the Gold Seal creamery; Mrs. Luman, J. Cornutt, H. Schaefer and C. Wendt.

The first dairies visited were those of J. A. Luntz, D. T. Steiner and Wyatt's. These were among the smaller dairies but were neat and interesting. The fourth stop was at the Merriman dairy, now owned and operated by Geo. Gilman, who milks about forty cows. Joe Johnson's and John Naasen's dairies were visited next and then Van Dyke's, where Mr. Van Dyke passed around half-pint bottles of fresh milk and straw. Standing in the cool, clean milk house all enjoyed this unexpected treat. Wm. B. Warner then led the way to the Warner and Young dairy and their beautiful Jersey herd of 20 registered animals was admired from afar, and the equipment carefully inspected.

C. M. Elliott's was the ninth dairy visited and Wm. Stratton's the tenth. Another surprise awaited the guests when the next stop was made at the Ever Shady auto camp, where a lunch furnished by the Gold Seal and Snider's was spread under the trees. Mr. Austin, Mr. Leach and Frank Jenkins each gave a short talk after the luncheon and then one more dairy, that of James Campbell, was visited, after which the guests were shown through the Gold Seal creamery and treated again to ice cream.

The entire trip was educational and exceedingly interesting and the guests all felt very grateful to those who had made the trip possible.

Conditions under which Medford's milk supply is being protected are unquestionably safeguarding and satisfactory.

These regulations apply only to table milk and cream, but more and itary, and there can be no chance of epidemic from poor milk in a city with such protection. The dairymen extended an invitation to anyone interested to visit any dairy at any time. There is hearty co-operation all along the line but the consumer can do more by visiting the dairies and creameries, informing himself and then helping to create more of a demand by using more grade A milk.

Guests on the tour were Mrs. Glen Patrick, Mrs. Hal Platt and Jane Snedden, officers of the Medford Women's Greater Oregon association; Frank Jenkins, of the Mail Tribune; Jeanette Butler, of the Medford Reporter; W. Warner, Mrs. E. Knapp, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Stanley Jones, secretary of the Lincoln P.T.A.; Mrs. Fred Cummings, Mrs. Dea. J. C. Bilton, Mrs. Mrs. Wells, Mrs. J. C. Bilton, Mrs. Ira Schuler, Mr. Clemenson of the Jackson hotel, Mrs. H. Patton, Mrs. John Moffatt, Mrs. Blanche Powell and Mrs. R. H. Browne.

FOUR SQUARE GOSPEL CHURCH BUSY SCENE FOR RELIEF CANNING

At the Four Square Gospel Light-house, corner Riverside and Fifth streets, about 20 representatives of the Medford churches have been gathered to can fruits and vegetables donated to the relief cause by local and valley people. A quantity of beans was also strung for drying Wednesday.

The work of the Lighthouse is carried on under the supervision of Mrs. Estella Jones, who opened the Medford Watchtower, January 19. A commissary is also being conducted in connection with the work, and the 16-room house is fast becoming furnished by various people contributing.

A number of grocery stores have kindly consented to leave their leftover vegetables on Saturday night at the gospel headquarters, and the food is given to the needy who call there. A large number of valley firms have aided a great deal in the work. Mrs. Jones stated, and through the numerous contributions, hundreds have been given aid.
