Now At Holly

Since completion of "Congress Dances," which comes to the Holly theater today and tomorrow, questions have been heard about the authenticity of events, which are said to have occurred during the congress of Vienna in 1815.

In this picture there is a background of epoch-making conferences of Europe's kings and emperors and of pompous festivities and gay frolics, all interwoven with political intrigue and romantic phantasmagoria.

"Congress Dances" will introduce to the Holly patrons Lillian Harvey, who is now the reigning movie queen of Europe.
