Solar Eclipse August 31 to Provide Scientific Show for Whole Continent

By Robert H. Baker, (Professor of Astronomy, University of Illinois.)

URBANA, Ill.—(AP)—The eclipse of the sun on August 31 will be visible throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico.

But the total eclipse can be viewed only along a strip a hundred miles in width, the track of the moon's shadow over the earth's surface.

This track begins near the north pole, where the shadow strikes the earth at sunrise. It runs southeastward across Hudson Bay, Quebec, New England and then out into the ocean, where the shadow leaves the earth at sunset.

After traversing the northeast corner of Vermont the center of the shadow will move swiftly past Lancaster and Conway, N. H., and will reach the coast about halfway between Portsmouth and Portland.

The shadow will arrive in this region about 3:30 p. m., eastern standard time and will require only a minute and 40 seconds to pass over any point on the central line.

Will See Corona. Crowds of people will assemble along the track of the shadow on the afternoon of August 31 to watch the rare spectacle of a total solar eclipse.

At the edges of the shadow track, 50 miles from the central line, the total eclipse will last only a moment. The southern edge across New England is a line from the top of Lake Champlain to Salem, Mass. Parallel to it, the northern boundary passes through Boothbay, Maine.

Farther north or south the eclipse will be only partial. The moon will pass across the sun, but not centrally across, so that it will not entirely hide the sun.

At Boston 99 per cent will be hidden, at Denver 49 per cent, at Los Angeles 15 per cent.

In watching the partial eclipse the eyes should be protected by a dark glass. For even when only a small crescent of the sun's disk remains uncovered, the light may be too strong to gaze at safely for any length of time.

The exhibit the partial eclipse can be seen, beginning in New England about 2:30 p. m., eastern standard time; and after totality the moon will not withdraw entirely from the sun's disk until 4:30 p. m.

COLUMBIA BASIN DIFFERENTIAL IS CAST OVERBOARD

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 17.—(AP)—The state department of public works today ordered carriers serving the southeast Washington wheat district to establish intrastate rates comparable with the interstate tariffs now in effect between the district and Puget Sound ports.

In a statement accompanying the department's order, Fred K. Baker, director of the department, said the new rates would have the effect of nullifying the Columbia basin differential, long a controversial subject between Portland and Puget Sound ports.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 17.—(AP)—The action of the Washington department of public works today, in effect nullifying the Columbia basin differential of 2 cents per 100 pounds on grain, will be attacked by the Portland Traffic association, that organization announced today through William A. Curtis, secretary.

"We will get in touch with Charles M. Thomas, state public utilities commissioner, and other interested parties at the earliest possible moment," he said, "and determine the best action to attack this order."

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 17. (AP) Russell N. Boardman, transatlantic flier, was seriously injured this afternoon as an airplane he was trying out crashed into the woods near here from a height of 2,000 feet.

PENDLETON, Ore., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Any rancher with a sack of wheat may see the first two days of the Pendleton roundup.

JOBLESS VICTIMS OF BUNGO GAME

This district may next be the scene of operations of one of the most daring yet clever bunco games pulled off in this section for several years.

Warnings have been sent out by police and by large nationally-known manufacturing concerns whom this game has fraudulently represented.

Some of the cities known to have been worked by crooks are Dallas, Tex.; Las Vegas, Nev.; Pocatello, Ida.; and Phoenix, Ariz.

Through the quick work of a near victim, James A. Graham, a head of medical instruments for crowds and judging from the huge following Stewart has, his act will be one of the high lights in the recreation of an 1882 barroom with all the trimmings.

Stewart is versatile with all the room, and promises to keep crowds in an uproar of applause and merriment.

Other features, including minute details such as free lunch, hogheads of what Volstead shunned (nearly) and a roomful of other equipment is arranged for. His ransacking, claims Dunnington, "will take people way back when—and then some."

J'VILLE 'SALOON' JUBILEE FEATURE

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 17.—(Sp.)—According to Clint Dunnington, League club committeeman in charge of interior portions of the gigantic Gold Rush Jubilee will be staged here Saturday, a real "saloon" entertainment program will greet visitors to the city who enter the recreated barroom and Monte Carlo occupying the lower floor of the historic U. S. hotel.

Al Stewart, towering colored entertainer, who for years followed just such a vocation—that of entertaining saloon and cabaret guests—has been engaged to sing, dance and play a host of musical instruments for crowds and judging from the huge following Stewart has, his act will be one of the high lights in the recreation of an 1882 barroom with all the trimmings.

Stewart is versatile with all the room, and promises to keep crowds in an uproar of applause and merriment.

LARGEST MINE UNDER OPTION

A short term option has been taken on the New California mine by a mining syndicate represented by Harry Curtis of Ashland, says the Roseburg News-Tribune, according to rumors current in Glendale this week.
