Activities of Legion Auxiliary

Word has been received from headquarters at Portland of the American Legion Auxiliary that certificates are being issued to all legion and auxiliary members...

A registration contest is now on among the units all over the state. A two dollar registration fee is asked to help defray some of the necessary expenses of the convention.

Plans are being completed by the committee, for the booth, at the dedication of the new court house.

A request came from Portland to the Medford unit, asking for twelve pine of Oregon wild blackberries to be given as favors at a banquet.

What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

"Step right this way! Lad-ees and gent-lemen!" was the ballyhoo cry heard on Friday night at Camp Willpen Pines.

The circus began with a large and colorful parade, all performers, including wild animals, taking part.

Every known feature of circus life was present—The bearded lady, the giant, the midget, the clowns, the acrobats, jugglers, etc.

It was indeed a most realistic circus, and was thoroughly enjoyed by those fortunate enough to witness it!

A special feature scheduled for this afternoon is a large water carnival to begin at 2:30 promptly.

The entire camp will take part in this, and the general public is invited to this event which is the first of its kind ever held at Willpen Pines.

RURAL RESIDENTS REPORT ANTI-PATHY TO RECALL MOVE

A number of rural residents in the city Saturday reported a "decided anti-recall" sentiment prevailing in their sections, and general disapproval of the move as a "political revenge plot or disgruntled litigants."

Saturday a report was received that circulators were canvassing the lower Applegate country, in Jackson and Josephine counties, and meeting with meager success.

The real sponsors of the abortive recall scheme are still in the dark. L. A. Banks, editor-orchardist, and Earl H. Fehl, the latter Republican nominee for county judge, in a five-cornered race, have both announced intention to sign the petitions, but make no claims of fatherhood.

The name of a third party—a resident of this city—was brought into the picture the past week. He is reported to have boasted to acquaintances on the street, that he was the instigator.

DEDICATION WILL DRAW PROMINENT MEN TO MEDFORD

Acceptance of Guy Gordon, of Roseburg, of a position on the program for the dedication of the new Jackson county court house on September 1st, has completed the list of speakers to appear at the formal services, scheduled for 11 a. m. of the dedication day.

Mr. Gordon will formally introduce W. H. Gore, of this city, recognized as the man who made possible the construction of the building at this time, due to the fact that funds for the building were secured from the O & C funds, largely through his efforts.

Other speakers slated on the dedication program include I. E. Vining, Ashland, who will deliver the dedication address, including a tribute to the late Judge Alex Sparrow. W. S. Bolger, president of the Medford Chamber of Commerce, will introduce distinguished guests, who will include Senator Frederick Steiwer, Rufus Holman, personal representative of Governor Meier, General George White, C. M. Thomas, many of Oregon's county judges, civic leaders and leading farmers of southern Oregon.

Governor Meier has notified the committee that he will be unable to attend.

Featured on the entertainment program at the dedication will be the initial appearance of the Medford Gleemen, a male chorus of 40 voices, directed by James Stevens; the ever-popular Medford Elks band, under the baton of Wilson Watt; and the recently organized Scotch Kiltie band of Ashland Post of the American Legion.

Carl Y. Tengwald, chairman of the parade committee, reported yesterday that the response from commercial and industrial firms of Medford and Ashland indicated that the dedication parade will be one of the finest staged in this city since the Legion convention in 1928.

Musical organizations included in the line of march will be the Medford Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, the Elks band, the Medford High school band, the Ashland city band, and the Scotch Kiltie band from Ashland.

The parade will start promptly at 10 a. m., and will end at the court house on Main and Oakdale streets, where the dedication ceremonies will take place.

Arrangements for entertainment features throughout the day are in charge of a committee headed by Cole Holmes, and many interesting and surprising features are promised. Several novel ideas for parade stunts are being worked out which will provide amusement for the visitors.

During the afternoon, a baseball game has been scheduled, at the county fair grounds, and the entertainment in the evening will feature a boxing card promoted by Mack Lillard, and the dedication ball, at the Oriental Gardens.

Removal of county offices to the new courthouse is now in full swing and by the end of the week all will be doing business in the new structure. The sheriff's office started late Friday to move the desks and tax books. With the clerk's office, it will be the first to be established in new quarters, as they handle the largest volume of business.

FURTHER ARRESTS PLAN IN FORESTS TO CURB FIREBUGS

The circuit court will also be made ready for business as soon as possible. Most of the furniture of the former courtroom has been sent to the painters for repainting. It will be installed when ready.

The state police will be the last department to move into the new quarters. They have been cramped in small basement quarters since their establishment and the new quarters will remove the handicap.

Further arrests on charges of forest incendiarism are contemplated in this county, following weeks of investigation and surveillance in the rural mountain areas. It is part of a statewide campaign to curb the late summer and fall activities of firebugs.

Jack Rice and Robert Rose, the latter, a well-known mountaineer of the county, arrested Thursday, were bound over to the grand jury Friday under $1000 bail, on a charge of willfully and maliciously setting fires on state forest land.

Both are residents of the Round Top mountain districts. Evidence introduced by the district attorney at the preliminary hearing tended to show that the defendants had been followed, while setting fires, and that horse tracks and shoe tracks, corresponding to those made by them and their mounts, had been found, and that at one time the state forest sides were less than ten minutes behind them, as the fires were set.

Affidavits were also introduced from residents of the district alleging that Rose had boasted of setting fires and is alleged to have bragged of setting 18 fires last year and this.

The past month in Josephine county, a round up of arsonists has been underway and two youths were sent to state prison upon pleas of guilty to setting forest blazes.

This year, the state forest patrol has conducted investigations in all wooded areas of the county, particularly where mysterious fires have been prevalent in the past.

PECULIAR WILL BASIS OF NEXT TRIBUNE SERIAL

Extraordinary and peculiar provisions in wills are found frequently in the probate courts, but rarely is there one so filled with potential dynamite as that of Ambrose Wear.

It is his final testament that furnishes the story for "Nothing Venture," the Mail Tribune's new serial by Patricia Wentworth.

Wear left his entire fortune to his grandson, Jervis Wear, with only one condition—Jervis must be married within three months and a day after the old man's death.

The will also provided if Jervis failed to marry within the stipulated period, the fortune would go to Rosamund Carew. Nothing so unusual about that, perhaps except—Rosamund Carew, in addition to being Jervis' cousin, is his fiancée. They had been engaged for months prior to the elder Wear's death and continued unmarried afterwards.

Rosamund wins either way; if she marries Jervis, her husband is wealthy; if Jervis fails to marry, Rosamund gets the fortune herself. The will does not bind Jervis to marry Rosamund, but as the story opens, three days before his final 24 hours of grace, he still expects her to become his bride.

There isn't much time to find a substitute, if it should be necessary.

Around this ironic situation, Miss Wentworth has written a powerful story of romance and adventure, a serial packed with action, excitement and thrills. Watch for the first chapter of "Nothing Venture" in the Mail Tribune Monday, Aug. 22.
