

Golfers Open Scramble for Don Moe's Western Amateur Crown

RECORD GALAXY OF LINKS STARS IN TOURNAMENT

Champion Sights Stiff Struggle On Rockford Course — Egan Not Entered — Play Will Take Week

H. Chandler Egan of Medford, who was slated for entry in the northwest tournament, will remain here and polish his game for competition in the National, which opens September 12, on the Country Club links at Baltimore, Md. Egan has been shooting consistent golf in his practice at the Rogue River Valley links and expects to be in top form for the major tourney.

By Paul Mickelson. (Associated Press Sports Writer.) ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Young Don Moe of Portland, Ore., felt the awe of Damocles dangling over his head today as a record crowd of 200 golfers opened assault on his prized western amateur crown over the Rockford Country club battle-ground. It was by far the largest and probably the smartest western field in 32 years of play and the champion knew he was in for a stiff week's struggle to be the first to successfully defend his crown since the veteran Charles "Chick" Evans, Jr., of Chicago, turned the trick back in 1922 and '23. Three former champions, the Walker cup team members and a host of rising young stars from all sections of the nation, extending from Oregon and California to Georgia, were grouped in the championship field as the battle opened for qualifying berths.

Moe to Be One of 32. Moe was sure of only one thing—a place among the 32 qualifiers, who will fight it out all week over the match play route for the title, one of the most elusive in golf. As champion, he automatically qualified. His rivals must play 36 holes, 18 today and as many tomorrow, to join him. One could pick his most dangerous rivals almost at random from the budding list of entries, but several stood out. Among them were Gus Moreland of Dallas, trans-Mississippi champ; Johnny Lehman of Chicago, 1930 western titleholder; Evans, himself on the comeback road; Charles Seaver, Los Angeles, Walker team member along with Moe; Keeffe Carter of Oklahoma City, 1928 champ; Harry Hochberger, Los Angeles, second low qualifier for the 1932 national amateur; Warren Dawson of Chicago, twice Illinois state champ and 19-year-old Rodney Bliss of Omaha, who beat the better known Johnny Goodman for the Nebraska state amateur title last week by clipping six shots from par.

Finals on Saturday. Because of the large field, the starting time for the two 18-hole qualifying rounds was set at 7 a. m. (central standard time), with the two golfing journalists, Art Sweet of Chicago and Billy Sixty of Milwaukee, starting the procession. After qualifying tests, the championship drive will proceed on the basis of the first two rounds at 18 holes each on Wednesday, followed by single rounds of 36 holes each on through the final Saturday. The championship course was considered comparatively easy. It was 6,216 yards long, with par 36-35-71.

JOE WALCOTT, EX-CHAMP NEAR LIFE'S LAST ROUND

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A heart condition has sent 60-year-old Joe Walcott, former world's welterweight champion, to Bellevue hospital. The "Barbados Demon" of 30 years ago collapsed on the street yesterday and was taken to the hospital where the diagnosis was "arterio sclerosis and senile psychosis." But the aged negro, called by many experts the greatest fighter of his weight in boxing history, is not worrying overmuch. "I've had these attacks before," he said. "Maybe I'll be all right in a couple of days." Walcott has been living for some time in the unlighted basement of a building on West 57th street, maintaining himself on the small sums he could pick up as a referee or an instructor to Harlem's ring aspirants. At the peak of his form, Joe took on lightweights to heavyweights indiscriminately, although he himself tipped the beam at no more than 137 pounds. The bigger fellows were easy for him, but he often had trouble with men of his own weight, notably Kid Lavigne, Kid Carter, Tommy West and Mysterious Billy Smith. Probably his greatest feat was his knockout of Dan Creedon, redoubtable Australian, in one round, and his technical knockout in seven rounds of Joe Choyinski, the light-heavyweight who gave Jim Corbett such a battle for 38 rounds. He fired challenge after challenge at Corbett, Tom Sharkey and Jim Jeffries, but none of these would accept. Walcott was welterweight champion from 1901 to 1904.

SPORT SLANTS

ALAN GOULD ASSOCIATED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

No less impressive than the world gathering of athletes at Los Angeles for the Olympic games was the turnout of the international press. When the games started there was at least one newspaper delegate for every three athletes. The boys in the press section were 900 strong. The gallery of experts easily broke all world's records for size, range of representation and were set to shatter the output of copy over a given period of time, exceeding anything that has taken place for world's serious baseball competition, heavy weight championship fights or other events of all-commanding interest to the sporting public. More languages also were spoken in the Olympic press box than ever before and the facilities provided for their benefit easily reached a new high.

For the games, ticker machines of the type used in brokerage offices were installed in all newspaper and press association offices to carry a "running story" of daily Olympic developments. By a complicated system, all scenes of competitive activity, from the start of the games, were connected with a central distributing system for the benefit of those desiring the returns in tabloid form. Neither was the aid or comfort of the visiting experts overlooked in the accommodations provided in the main Olympic stadium.

Lavish at $3 a Word. To the Japanese went the distinction of sending more experts, as well as athletes, than any other country except the United States. More than 100 Japanese received press credentials and their output, at cable rates as high as $3 per word, reached staggering proportions before the games. The flow was scheduled to be maintained while the big show lasted.

Mechanical Crew Aid. Two innovations in Olympic rowing this year were the use of slow motion picture films by the New Zealand coach in correcting the faults of his eight-oared crew and the adop-

FERRELL WRITES NEW RECORD FOR MAJOR FLINGERS

Indian Right-Hander Chalks Up Twentieth Win of Season to Make First Four Years Star Performance

By Herbert W. Barker. (Associated Press Sports Writer.) Wesley Creek Ferrell, tall, husky North Carolinian, has chalked up his 20th victory of the season, the first pitcher in major league history to win 20 or more games in his first four full seasons in the big leagues. The Cleveland right-hander won 21 games and lost 10 in his first full season with the Indians in 1929; won 25 and lost 13 in 1930, and 22 and 12 last year. Wins Loose Game. His 20th triumph of the current campaign was gained yesterday over the Washington Senators, 11-5, in a loosely-played game in which 15 passes were given. Ferrell went the route, although he was walked for 11 hits and gave six walks. Brown and Edelen, Senator hitters, handed out nine free tickets. The New York Yankees stretched their American league lead to 10½ games over the idle Philadelphia Athletics by beating the St. Louis Browns, 9-1.

Detroit and Boston split a double bill. Bob Welland gave the Tigers only four hits in the opener which the Red Sox won, 3-1. Vic Sorrell limited the Red Sox to seven blows in the second battle and won, 4-2. Cubs Tighten Grip. Chicago's Cubs strengthened their hold on the National league lead, beating the Phillies, 2-0, while their closest rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers and Pittsburgh Pirates, both were beaten. The Cubs had the benefit of fourth pitching from the sensational rookie, Lon Warneke, who hung up his 18th victory of the season. Three Dodger pitchers were pounded for 17 hits as the New York Giants whipped Max Carey's pennant hopefuls, 9-3. Eppa Jephtha Riskey, 41-year-old left-hander of the Cincinnati Reds, tamed the Pirates for the fourth time this season, scattering eight hits in a 2-0 victory.

The Boston Braves battled 14 innings to achieve a 7-5 verdict over the St. Louis Cardinals and then darkness halted the second game of a scheduled double-header with the score tied at 2-2 in the sixth.

WOULD BAN COPYING OF FRENCH STYLES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—France will probably make a hard drive to get Parisian model gowns and distinctive new fabrics protected against copyists. In the proposed Franco-American commercial treaty, formal discussion on such a pact will begin Monday in Paris between the American embassy and the French foreign office. SEXTON HURLS SHOT PAST RECORD MARK

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A new unofficial world's shotput record, 52 feet 11½ inches, was held today by Leo Sexton of New York Athletic club. Sexton, who won the recent Olympic shotput at 52 feet, 6 3/16 inches, tossed the greater distance yesterday in a track and field exhibition before 50,000 spectators in the Cleveland stadium. His previous unofficial record was 52 feet, 8½ inches, established at the Olympic trials in Boston several weeks ago. The recognized world's record is 52 feet 7½ inches, set by Emil Hirschfeld of Germany.

HAVE YOU TRIED GILMORE RED LION YET?

It's the New "SPEEDWAY PERFECTED" Gasoline that Gives You Thrilling Race Car Performance

YOU HAVEN'T experienced the real joy of perfect motor car performance unless you have tried the new Gilmore RED LION, the new "Speedway Perfected" Gasoline. It is the first motor fuel that combines the efficiency of High Octanes, Distillation Curves, High Gravity, Boiling Points, etc., to give balanced multi-power.

A year of grueling tests in race cars was devoted to developing this new gasoline. New refining practices had to be devised to produce it. More crude oil is required from which to refine a gallon of RED LION than to make a gallon of ordinary gasoline. Distillates and low grade fractions are eliminated. This is the costly way to refine gasoline, but other refiners will imitate Gilmore again, sooner or later.

...and Ladies, you'll enjoy the absence of offensive gasoline odors when you drive with this new gasoline. Fill up with RED LION, at Independent dealers. You'll enjoy a new thrill in driving.
