EAGLE POINT GRANGE
(By Mrs. Gertrude Haak)

A large and interested group was present at the last regular meeting of the Eagle Point Grange, August 16. A large delegation was present from Lake Creek and Roxy Ann Granges, as well as visiting members from Talent, Central Point, Jacksonville and Bellview. Among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. George A. Andrews, master, and wife, of Bellview Grange; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Moore, master, and wife, of Lake Creek Grange; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sims, past master, and wife, of Jacksonville Grange; Roscoe Roberts and Frank Hansen, master and secretary, of Roxy Ann Grange; Geo. Carter of Talent Grange and H. Tom Fankay of Central Point Grange.

The following members were voted as delegates to the Jackson County Recreation club for a period of one year: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Bitterling, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barrett, Laurence Winslow. This group is to elect two of its own members to act as delegates to the John Bradford recreational school in the fall.

Mrs. C. F. Davies, chairman of the Home Economics committee, reported the Home Economics club will meet at the home of Mrs. W. E. Davies, August 31, for regular meeting. All ladies of the Grange are urged to attend these meetings. Each lady attending is requested to bring one melon (any variety), also to bring a clipping on any subject in which they are particularly interested, for reading and discussion before the club.

George A. Andrews gave an interesting talk on co-operative marketing. Mr. Andrews is chairman of a special committee on co-operative marketing of the Pomona Grange, and he urges co-operation in the solving of this very intricate problem. He also urges any who may have any good ideas along this line to write to some member of the committee and give their ideas. The other members of the committee are Wm. Carl, Applegate, and W. H. Sparks, Rogies River. Mr. Andrews' address is Ashland, Route 1.

Other interesting speakers were Roscoe Roberts, C. Russ Moore, Ted Sims and Mrs. Sims.

Members of the Roxy Ann Grange presented the following very interesting and entertaining program in charge of Frank Hansen, master.

Two violin solos by Bernice Morehouse Bolger. Mrs. Bolger is one of the prominent professional violinists of the valley and her remarkable expression and technique was well brought out on her exceptionally fine Guarnerius model violin, an instrument more than 250 years old.

Herman Mitchell pleased with two yodeling solos; two cornet duets by Wendell Tolle and Burrell Thornton with Marine Thornton at the piano; two vocal duets by Roscoe Roberts and Anna Hansen, accompanied by Miss Hansen at the piano; and interesting readings by Mrs. Henry Hansen, Miss Anna Hansen, Daisy Perrell and Frank Hansen.

The program was concluded with a very interesting talk by L. L. Thomas of Marshfield, speaking against the Zorn-McPherson bill. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were welcome guests of the Grange.

After the meeting refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

At the next regular meeting, September 6, the men of the Grange will put on a competitive program, under the leadership of Sam Coy. The following meeting on September 20 the ladies of the Grange, under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Young, will put on a lecture program. The two groups are competing for points.

The lecturing of the Eagle Point Grange is always out for visiting Grangers.

ADVERTISED FOODS SELL EASILY SAYS HEAD OF SAFEWAY

Handling and featuring nationally advertised foods, particularly those advertised in local newspapers, has proved so satisfactory for Safeway Stores that, according to an announcement by their president, M. B. Skaggs, this big food distributing concern will, in the future, confine practically its entire effort to this policy.

"We have found," Skaggs said, "that the buying public is much less skeptical and better satisfied when offered brands with which they have become intimately familiar through reading about them in their own newspapers than is the case when they are offered an unknown brand, even though the quality of the advertised article may be fully as good as that of the well advertised item. Somehow, people seem to instinctively mistrust merchandise whose makers are unwilling to come out in black and white and tell the public about it."

Advertised brands, particularly those featured in the local papers in towns in which we have stores, require little or no selling effort and there is rarely any complaint about either quality or price. If anything should be wrong with the advertised goods the purchaser is not blameless but places the blame upon the manufacturer, where it properly belongs. Moreover, when buyers see an item advertised by the manufacturer in the same issue of the paper in which we are offering that item for sale they know, immediately, right where they can get it and we, as well as other merchants, find our own advertising more effective and satisfactory.

In fact our experience with the sale of foods advertised by the manufacturer in the same local papers in which we advertise has been so satisfactory that we plan to lend our major support to such items.

Skaggs further announced that his concern had practically discontinued the use of handbills and circulars and would, hereafter, confine their advertising almost exclusively to newspapers. He said their experience in nationwide merchandising had convinced them that the local newspaper is the most economical and effective medium for reaching the

Envoy To China

Libby Holman is in seclusion in Baltimore, the Times said today, spending much of her time knitting clothing for the baby she expects in February.

And, whether it is a boy or girl, the child will be named Smith Reynolds, in memory of Libby's husband, for whose death she has been indicted by a North Carolina grand jury. She now is at liberty under $25,000 bond.

Reynolds died July 5 of a bullet wound at the Winston-Salem, N. C., estate. Reynolds' friend, Albert Walker, also has been indicted on charges of murder, but Mrs. Reynolds has consistently, through her father and attorneys, maintained the death was a suicide.

Preparation for approaching motherhood has taken Libby's mind from the tragedy, the paper said, and her only interest now is the child.

Specific increases were in the boot and shoe industry, with "quite a number" of factories back to a full-time basis; the textile industry, especially manufacturers of woolen, worsted, rayon and silk products; anthracite mining, showing re-employment of several thousands; highway construction, increasing not only direct employment, but swelling the payrolls of stone quarries and cement mills.
