

COUNTY SCHOOLS PLAN NO EXHIBIT AT FAIRGROUNDS

Announcement was made today by Mrs. Susanne Homes Carter, county school superintendent, and Robert G. Fowler, county agent, that no educational and club work exhibit will be conducted at the county fair grounds as was carried out last year. It was announced last week that no county fair will be held, due to the lack of available funds.

This decision, which was forthcoming today, indicates that no activities will be carried on this fall at the county fair grounds, just south of Medford.

Mrs. Carter said today that she plans to suggest at the teachers' meetings next week, that the exhibits prepared during the past school year be displayed in each of the schools this fall at the regular fair time. Mrs. Carter will advocate a special day being set aside for the showing, with a program to be presented, and invitations being sent out for the event.

The county clubs plan to arrange a showing of their work at the various communities. Mr. Fowler stated this afternoon, with each of the four-H groups preparing a special exhibit.

Mr. Fowler said the displays would probably be made shortly before the state fair at Salem.

Although there was no county fair last year, a two-day educational and club exhibit was conducted in the educational building at the county fair grounds.

Rumba Goes American To Invade Ballrooms

NEW YORK. (AP)—The Cuban rumba, which spurred to tremendous popularity in American ballrooms for a short time last year, will be back as a favorite this winter, predict dance teachers who are introducing a new version of the dance with an American flavor.

Two of the exponents of the Americanized rumba are Jack Holland and June Knight, Fanchon-Marco dancers, who point out that the new rumba has been simplified so it is suitable as a ballroom dance.

The original rumba called for so many variations of steps that it could be used only on the stage. The Americanized rumba retains the flavor of the Cuban brand, but has assimilated much of the restraint of the tango and may easily be danced on crowded floors.

They will return to Kelly Island this evening, accompanied by John Orth. Mr. Putnam plans to spend the week-end here. He is remembered in southern Oregon as former editor of The Mail Tribune and equally well known today for his editorials in the Capitol Journal, which are frequently copied by the local press.

J. C. MANN NAMED PRESIDENT ALLIED WELFARE GROUP

The plan was thoroughly discussed at the meeting and met with considerable opposition. No vote was taken to determine the sentiment of the lunchroom crowd, however. Objections centered about dangers to result through solicitations under such a plan, the objectors pointing out that the best solicitors would receive the most funds regardless of the justification from an organization standpoint.

Character building organizations would probably suffer most under such a program, Mr. Patton stated, but the people would at least be given a chance to say how their money should be spent.

A check on solicitations made during the past year, Mr. Patton also stated, however, showed that few people were anxious to name particular organizations to receive the contributions. The majority named no favorites and gave the money to the chest to be spent as the budget committee saw fit.

Judge C. B. Lamkin, in commenting upon the general situation and the relief work now being carried on through the Jackson County Council for Relief of Unemployment, stated that the court received its most valuable information from the women. He was thanked by the women present and assured that they intend to continue to play their part in the solution of city and county welfare problems.

Mrs. Mabel Mack, in the absence of Mrs. A. E. Reames, chairman of the women's division of the county council, described briefly the food conservation work now being carried on.

SCHOOL CLERKS WORK AT NEW COURTHOUSE

The first clerical work to be conducted in the new county court house, is being done by the county school superintendent's offices. Mrs. Susanne Homes Carter, county school superintendent, said today.

Two members of her staff are busy in the new location preparing the 60 library books to be sent to the 74 school districts in the county, by the opening of school.

Checking, classifying, and the pasting of envelopes and check sheets, as well as arranging the books in parcels are the duties of the two clerks.

TEACHERS CALLED FOR CONFERENCE

Letters are out to all teachers of the county with the exception of the Medford and Ashland staffs, announcing the pre-school meetings Friday in the auditorium of the new county courthouse at the corner of Main and Oakdale, Mrs. Susanne Homes Carter, county school superintendent, said today.

Teachers of one and two-room schools are to meet at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and teachers of schools with more than two rooms will gather at 10 o'clock. Supplies to be given out to the teachers will be ready at that time, Mrs. Carter said, including the new library books ordered last spring.

PRESBYTERIANS CHOOSE HOWELL

Rev. W. H. Howell of Spokane has been chosen as pastor of the local Presbyterian church, it was announced here today, following appointment by the board.

Reverend Howell, who delivered the sermon in the Medford church the past two Sundays, was very favorably received by the local congregation and many guests of the church. He was accompanied to Medford by Mrs. Howell, who also met with several groups.

Reverend Howell was born in Wales, and educated at Oxford University, where he graduated 18 years ago. He has been in the United States since 1914 and on the Pacific coast since 1916.

The selection was made by a committee, composed of Mrs. H. F. W. Spitzer, Mrs. Hamilton Patton, R. S. Daniels, Dr. Wm. W. P. Holt, and Harrison Jones.

SUTHERLIN TO PLAY HERE IN DEDICATION

Vanderlin's baseball team will invade Medford on Thursday for a game on the court house dedication day program with an all-star aggregation to be selected from the Jacksonville and Talent outfits.

Sutherland boasts one of the best teams in the southern Oregon district and a real battle is expected by local players. Negotiations and selection of the all-star lineup are in charge of Leonard Osborne of Jacksonville and Charles Skeeters of Talent.

THREE RUSTLERS GIVEN SENTENCE; NAB 2 SUSPECTS

Southern Counsel argued that "the publicity attendant upon their crime" and incarceration was punishment enough.

The court, in passing sentence, remarked upon "the amazing public attitude toward crime, when young men are caught," and the plea for leniency that followed. The court said its experience with paroles "have not been satisfactory, but not yet caused the court to lose faith in it."

The court, in remarks, warned dealers to be more careful in the purchase of butchered meats.

The court further stated that "if arrangements to pay the stockmen for their losses were made, and other things were equal, paroles might be granted."

"I will keep in touch with these young men and parole them when I see fit, but that does not mean that friends and relatives should beseege me with pleas."

The testimonials of friends and neighbors, many of them written, said Peile and Goble were hard workers, addicted to no bad habits, church attendants, good students, and "better than the average boys."

Late yesterday the state police, on warrants, arrested Charles Gregory of Rogue River, and Glen McKay of this city, both about 35 years of age, for the alleged theft of a horse in the Rocky Ann district.
