Gary Cooper Star Craterian Drama; Chevalier Coming

"Devil and the Deep," first film co-starring Tallulah Bankhead and Gary Cooper, opens at the Fox Craterian tonight.

The action is set in a small port on the north coast of Africa, where Miss Bankhead's husband, a role played by Charles Laughton, noted British character actor, is stationed as commander of a submarine.

Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald's latest picture "Love Me Tonight" opens a three-day run at the Craterian Sunday. Critics acclaim this remarkable picture as Chevalier's best.

The sequence in "Love Me Tonight" shows a hunt at a swank country estate. Maurice, in the role of a mere tailor impersonating a baron, and trying his darndest to impress Jeanette MacDonald, a woman of aristocratic family, almost reveals his true identity by his bad riding.

His wit, however, saves the day after his spill from the horse, and soon Jeanette has yielded to his charms.

Maureen O'Sullivan Starring At Holly

Showing for today and tomorrow at the Holly theatre is "The Silver Lining," United Artists latest release, featuring Maureen O'Sullivan and Betty Compton.

Sunday, the Holly will present Constance Bennett and Neil Hamilton in "Two Against the World." In this picture Bennett has an opportunity to display her ability as a comedienne as well as a dramatic artist.
