

ABOLITION OF TAX ON HOMES URGED BY LOAN LEAGUE

Three-Point Program To Lift Burden From Home Owner Submitted At Building-Loan Convention.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Sept. 6.—(AP) Abolition of the property tax in its present form led a list of recommendations made today to the United States Building and Loan league by its committee on home taxation.

The report was submitted at the closing session of the league's 40th annual convention which has been devoted largely to discussion of the recently enacted federal home loan bank law.

The committee on home taxation suggested that building and loan associations unite in behalf of a three-point program to lift the unjust burden of taxation on the American home owner, which is the greatest deterrent to home ownership.

For Combined Tax Bill. The report proposed: Abolition of the general property tax, abolition of the special assessment plan, and taxes into one tax bill, scientifically applied and divided among the various general and special political, educational, service and social activities. The reserve credits and banking relations committee of the league recommended the federal incorporation of building and loan associations.

Senator James E. Watson of Indiana foresees a day when the second mortgage will be a thing of the past as a result of the operations of federal home loan banks.

Second Mortgage Going. The senator told the league last night that the primary purpose of the law creating the banks was to save homes already partly purchased and the secondary one was to build new homes.

"If this law works as we think it will," the Republican leader predicted, "the second mortgage will soon become a thing of the past and that spectre will no longer confront the man who desires either to buy or to build a home."

"It will save thousands of homes in America. It will build yet others to come, and thus add to the safety and stability of our institutions."

Referring to the inability of building and loan associations to resist about the mortgages they held, Senator Watson said, "We have never had sufficient free capital in this country to finance on a proper scale home-building and home-owning."

Building Starts. An increase on home-building and a marked recovery in the automobile industry are at hand, the convention was told by Dr. C. O. Hardy of the Brookings Institute, Washington, D. C.

Dr. Hardy saw encouragement in the rising price of stocks and bonds, saying these "always improve first after a crisis."

PEACH BLIGHT SPRAY NEEDED

"Peach and apricot trees should be sprayed at this time with Bordeaux mixture for the control of blight," says L. P. Wilcox, county agent. "This is a very important spray and should be applied just as soon as the crop is off and before the fall rains begin."

Peach blight is a fungus disease found on all peach and apricot trees, causing a dieback of young shoots, fruit buds to be killed and gum exudates to appear on wood and fruit tissues. Most of the red spotting on the fruit of the apricot is caused by this disease.

Bordeaux mixture, 4-4-50, is the material to use and spraying should be thorough, giving the tree trunk and all branches a liberal covering. If further information is desired consult your county agent.

JACKSON COUNTY SENDING EXHIBIT TO LEGION MEET

The exhibit will be set up in the lobby of the Hotel Benson, with a large picture of Crater Lake as a background, and the remainder of the display will include pictures of Lake of the Woods, Diamond Lake, Rogue river, Little Park, etc.; together with lithia fash, etc.; together with wild life of Jackson county and southern Oregon.

Many other Oregon counties will feature displays of their products and attractions during the Legion convention in Portland, but the Jackson county display in the Hotel Benson will undoubtedly be one of the outstanding exhibits, principally on account of the favorable location of the exhibit, as well as on account of the fine co-operation received by the committee in arranging material for the event. The Benson will be the headquarters hotel for the 40 at 8, fun order of the Legion, and thousands of eastern and mid-western delegates and visitors will pass through the lobby each day, where they will be given samples of the various products on display, as well as descriptive literature of southern Oregon.

A group of Medford and Ashland Legionnaires and members of the women's auxiliary will be on hand at the Jackson county booth to give out the products and tell visitors of the advantages of southern Oregon, and according to present indications, a great deal of favorable publicity should accrue to the southern Oregon district as a result of this activity. Medford post of the American Legion, and the Medford and Ashland Chambers of Commerce are co-operating in the arrangements. Space in the Hotel Benson for the exhibit has been donated for the four days of the convention by William Boyd, manager of the hotel.

CANNOT USE ALL HAND LABOR FOR STATE HIGHWAYS

mission, said here Monday that the commission will refuse to bankrupt Oregon to save humanity. The statement was made in an address at the meeting of the Marion County Federation of Civic clubs, at which Scott discussed highway problems.

He said the commission will adopt "a medium ground" between hand labor and machines. "It costs 80 cents a cubic yard to excavate with hand labor, while a power shovel could do it for 8 cents," he declared. "On one job we could have paid the men their wages while they sat aside and drank lemonade and played cards as a power shovel and did the work, and still it would have cost us only 43 cents a cubic yard," he concluded.
