

CONFUSION OVER WHO FIRST ASKED TROOPS FOR B. E. F.

Department of Justice and Washington, D. C., Police In Dispute and Both Issue Conflicting Statements

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Just who first advised using troops in the bonus army disturbance of July 28 was in dispute today, with the District of Columbia commissioners joining the justice department designating the police and the police chief issuing a public denial.

The dispute began with a statement by Brigadier General Pelham D. Glassford, discussing assertions in Attorney General Mitchell's report to President Hoover on the bonus marchers. The police head said some of these were "in conflict with police records or with facts known to the police department."

Included was a denial that Glassford had "replied in the affirmative" when asked the direct question whether he thought it was necessary to secure the assistance of federal troops. Instead, Glassford said: "I stated that the police could hold the area which had been repossessed during the morning. I stated that if further efforts toward evicting the veterans by the police were insisted upon that afternoon, there would doubtless be more rioting and possible bloodshed."

"I recommended that should further evicting be required that day, the federal troops should be called upon to do it."

Soon after Glassford issued his statement, the justice department made public the copy of a letter received from the board of commissioners on August 2. It stated that Glassford had conferred with the commissioners soon after the first clash with veterans and said: "The former (Glassford) was asked by the commissioners if the situation was out of his control, to which he replied in the affirmative."

Major Glassford further stated in substance that the police could no longer hold the bonus marchers in check.

"He was then asked a direct question whether he thought it necessary to secure the assistance of federal troops, to which he replied he did."

The justice department added: "No doubt the commissioner will confirm the accuracy of the statements contained in this letter. They are also confirmed by written statements in the possession of the department, made a few days after the riots, by responsible police officials who were acting with Major Glassford during the course of the riots on July 28."

Last night the commissioner issued a reply to Glassford. It said: "The commissioners of the District of Columbia assert positively that the situation in the affected area was beyond the control of the police; that in response to a direct question as to whether the presence of troops was necessary, Major Glassford stated positively that the presence of troops was necessary."

"Two of the commissioners then visited the scene of the disturbance and likewise were convinced that the presence of troops was necessary if law and order were to be restored and preserved. They thereupon asked that troops be sent to the affected area."

"The commissioners believe that the presence of troops alone prevented more serious bloodshed and far greater disorder."

Glassford's statement also took authorities to task for not advising him when the troops were called.

"The information came to me first from a newspaper reporter. . . . I was in command at the scene of a difficult situation which was vitally affected by the call for federal troops. I have never been informed why the commissioners did not notify me instantly when the troops were called."

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Owing to the state holiday created for the parade of the American Legion, there was no trading today on the Portland livestock alleys. The grain markets were also closed locally, both the merchants exchange and the Portland futures market suspending operations for the day. Other wholesale markets were open, but there was little activity.

Butter trade conditions continue to reflect steadiness in the local territory. Decrease in the output of the entire country is generally noted with an especially liberal loss reflected in churning throughout the Pacific northwest. This is a reasonable condition and is due to the protracted dry weather.

Prices were unchanged for cubes during the late session of the produce exchange and on the open market a similar condition was reflected. Demand, however, continues best for those offerings below extra grade.

Market for butterfat reflect strength with prices practically uniform in all sections of the Portland trade territory.

Eastern butter trade conditions are practically the same as those shown locally.

General trading in the egg market appears of strong character despite the offering of considerable under-grade stuff to large consumers by outsiders.

Real strength appears in the market for live chickens. There is an especially strong tone in the springer market, but all prices are firm at full figures generally.

Rather limited call is reflected for live broiler turkeys in the local trade with the best offerings moving slowly around 17 1/2 to 18c lb. Dressed old stock is unchanged at late figures.

Trade in peaches is very disappointing, according to local distributors. Even the record low values recently in effect here have failed to stimulate demand to the point where cleanups are shown daily.

The St. Louis art museum possesses what is rated as one of the finest collections of Chinese art in this country.

The sloop-yacht "Nebula," a 16-gross ton vessel built in 1885 in Boston, Mass., is the oldest pleasure vessel of its type remaining in service in the United States.

Forty-eight per cent of the total United States output of standard typewriters, according to commerce department figures, was shipped to foreign markets in 1931.

HARBIN, Manchuria, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Another outrage by bandits operating along the Chinese Eastern railway occurred last night at almost the same spot where the Harbin-Chanchun train was wrecked and plundered. Nine Japanese soldiers were killed, twelve were seriously injured, a number of passengers were kidnaped, and the countryside reduced to a state of panic.

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.—(AP)—As had been forecast, Chicago will be recommended by the time and place committee for the 1933 convention of the Legion. The committee, headed by Jack McCann of Philadelphia, is considering bids from Miami for 1934, St. Louis for 1935 and Rome and Paris for the 1937 convention.

A telegram was dispatched by Legion officials today to Gen. John J. Pershing congratulating him on his 72nd birthday. The general had advised them he would be unable to attend the convention.

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Portland was given a foretaste of today's event in the 40 and 8 parade last night. The entire business district has been turned over to the Legion, business houses will close and traffic will be routed around 11.

Meanwhile proprietors of soft-drink parlors converted to "dug-outs" by the addition of imitation log fronts and real alcohol to the beverages on sale discovered that federal and city authorities had not declared a moratorium on the prohibition law.

When a series of raids were over, the cops had confiscated hundreds of gallons of liquor, arrested a number of proprietors, but no Legionnaires.

The local federal were assisted by a squad from Seattle.

Never before had Portland seen such a sight as the 40 and 8 parade which was viewed by great throngs of persons last night. For two hours a seemingly endless stream of servicemen, members of the 40 and 8 fun and service group, in a rainbow of colors, marching with apparently an inexhaustible variety of drum corps and bands, entertained thousands of residents and visitors who lined the downtown streets. From color bearers and national champion band of Fargo, N. D., at the lead, to the last of the floats, the parade was cheered.

CHILE HEAD IRKS; AIR FORCE REBELS

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The army air force rose in revolt today against the administration of Provisional President Carlos Davila, threatening to bomb the presidential palace or attack it with troops if he refused to resign.

The revolt was led by Col. Arturo Merino Benist, frequently a storm center of the air force, and its nucleus was at El Bosque airport on the outskirts of Santiago.

The movement started a few hours after the entire cabinet resigned and President Davila succeeded in forming a new government.

Censorship was placed on newspapers.

TINY TOTS PERISH IN HOME TRAGEDY

FENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Lois Pierce, 3, and Gerald Thacker, 4, died today from auto-castion and burns received late Monday when fire destroyed the W. E. Pierce home here.

The children were believed to have started the fire while playing with matches in the basement. The fire department was called as soon as the fire was discovered but the children were not immediately found because they had taken refuge under a bed in the basement.

Mrs. Pierce was in the house when the fire was discovered but was unable to find the children.

MYSTERY SHROUDS NAVY PLANE FOUND IN FISHERMENS NET

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Raised from the sea by a fishing boat's trawler net, the skeleton of a silver-hued navy pursuit monoplane presented a problem for naval authorities here today.

Its wings gone, its propeller and nose snapped off and its fuselage ripped to shreds, the wreck was towed through the Golden Gate into San Francisco bay last night.

Louis Baracco, captain of the fishing boat, said the nets snagged the plane in 50 fathoms of water 12 miles southwest by south of the San Francisco lightship.

The question of whether the monoplane had carried a pilot to death remained unanswered. Navy headquarters here had no record of a missing plane and requested the commander of the aircraft forces at San Diego to take up the investigation.

It was thought the craft may have been an experimental plane from one of the navy's aircraft carriers. Fishermen estimated it had been in the water about a year.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 13.—(Sp.) Mrs. Fred Peterson and sister-in-law, Mrs. Jesse Drew of Klamath Falls were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Dunnington.

Eric White, scout master of Jacksonville Troop No. 35, and eight of his boy scouts spent the week-end at Wagner Gap. They report having had a very pleasant outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Herbert and Mrs. Henry Miller made a trip to Dead Indian district Monday, where Henry Miller is now employed at county work.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woods of Portland were recent visitors of her sister, Mrs. Mary Norvell. They were en route home from Long Beach, Cal.

Mollie Britt and brother, Emil Britt, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore of Central Point enjoyed a trip to Prospect recently.

George Backus took a truck load of peaches to Klamath Falls for sale Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis are visiting his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fikert at Corvallis. They plan to return home the last of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nee have presented to the Presbyterian church one hundred new Hymn books. This is very much appreciated by members of the church.

Mr. Flater and son Rollin Flater of Hood River are now mining on Paul Pierce's property on Forest creek.

Lenora Broolis of Ashland, R. N. A. district deputy of southern Oregon, attended Jacksonville Royal Neighbor meeting, Sept. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mulholland and daughter Lola of Marshfield, spent two days last week visiting Mrs. Mulholland's brother, Wm. Eston, and family in Jacksonville.

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Real Relief

If you are subject to headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness and other effects that so often result from constipation, read Mrs. Turner's voluntary letter.

"For the past six months I have been eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and cannot praise it too highly.

"Am fifty years of age. All my life have been troubled with constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has not only helped me, but has cured me.

"I thought I couldn't like the taste of bran, but Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is delicious."—Mrs. C. J. Turner, 507 Hanover Street, Fall River, Mass.

Tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestinal tract; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestinal tract; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

MANCHURIA THUGS PLUNDER TRAINS

HARBIN, Manchuria, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Another outrage by bandits operating along the Chinese Eastern railway occurred last night at almost the same spot where the Harbin-Chanchun train was wrecked and plundered. Nine Japanese soldiers were killed, twelve were seriously injured, a number of passengers were kidnaped, and the countryside reduced to a state of panic.

CHILE HEAD IRKS; AIR FORCE REBELS

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The army air force rose in revolt today against the administration of Provisional President Carlos Davila, threatening to bomb the presidential palace or attack it with troops if he refused to resign.

The revolt was led by Col. Arturo Merino Benist, frequently a storm center of the air force, and its nucleus was at El Bosque airport on the outskirts of Santiago.

The movement started a few hours after the entire cabinet resigned and President Davila succeeded in forming a new government.

Censorship was placed on newspapers.

MYSTERY SHROUDS NAVY PLANE FOUND IN FISHERMENS NET

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Raised from the sea by a fishing boat's trawler net, the skeleton of a silver-hued navy pursuit monoplane presented a problem for naval authorities here today.

Its wings gone, its propeller and nose snapped off and its fuselage ripped to shreds, the wreck was towed through the Golden Gate into San Francisco bay last night.

Louis Baracco, captain of the fishing boat, said the nets snagged the plane in 50 fathoms of water 12 miles southwest by south of the San Francisco lightship.

The question of whether the monoplane had carried a pilot to death remained unanswered. Navy headquarters here had no record of a missing plane and requested the commander of the aircraft forces at San Diego to take up the investigation.

It was thought the craft may have been an experimental plane from one of the navy's aircraft carriers. Fishermen estimated it had been in the water about a year.

TRoubled ALL LIFE WITH CONSTIPATION

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Real Relief

If you are subject to headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness and other effects that so often result from constipation, read Mrs. Turner's voluntary letter.

"For the past six months I have been eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and cannot praise it too highly.

"Am fifty years of age. All my life have been troubled with constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has not only helped me, but has cured me.

"I thought I couldn't like the taste of bran, but Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is delicious."—Mrs. C. J. Turner,
