PROMOTER OFFERS BONUS FOR KAYOES IN EVEN BATTLES

Well Balanced Card, With Gibbs and White in Main Events, Gives Fans Run for Money at Armory Tonight

Knockouts to feature tonight's card.

Every fighter in tonight's lineup has been promised an extra bonus if he scores a knockout over his opponent.

"I want knockouts, the public wants knockouts," says Mack Lillard, the local promoter.

With the added incentive, Lillard says there will be plenty of thrills and spills for the rabid fans.

"In all my experience as a promoter I have yet to know of a single case where the public did not turn out to see a fight where the chances were promising of the lethal punch connecting on some participant's knockout punch.

Tonight's fight card was lined up with but one object in mind—give them knockouts.

The fighters are well matched, and it's anybody's old K. O. Go out and get it.

Tonight's lineup:

A four-round curtain raiser to be announced from the ring.

Special preliminary: four rounds—heavyweight.

Ray Henderson of Portland vs. Hirm Newland of Medford.

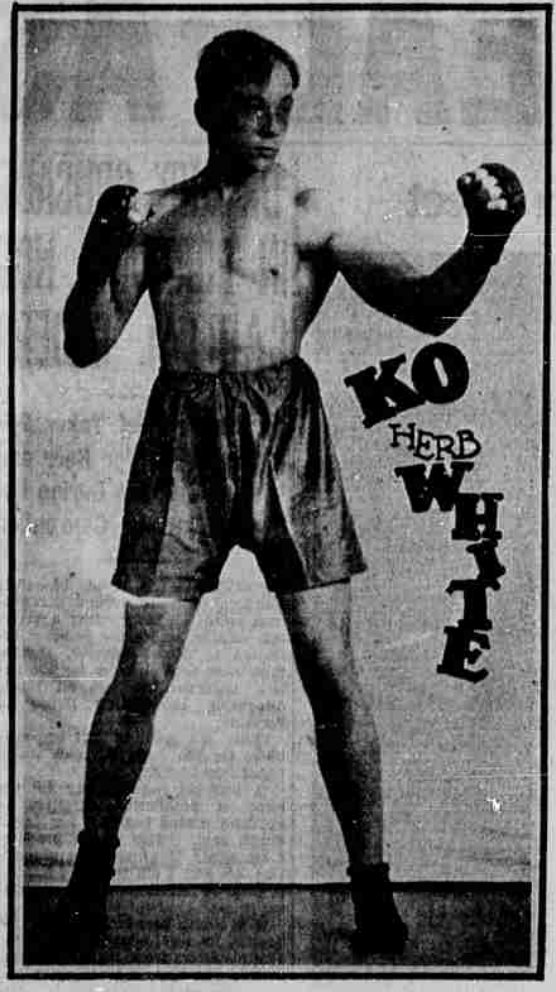

Main event; 10 rounds — lightweight.

Jimmy Lewis of Spokane vs. Herb White of Medford.

Main event; 10 rounds — middleweight.

Jack Crim of Klamath Falls vs. Jack Gibbs of Medford.

Herb White, Knockout Artist

EGAN IN SELECT SET QUALIFYING IN FIVE FARMS PLAY

Fischer, Cincinnati Collegiate Star, Equals Record—Portland Pair Find Going too Fast—Fail to Qualify

By DILLON GRAHAM
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 14.—(AP)—The veterans of American amateur golf could muster scarcely a corporal's guard today as the match play rounds for the national championship started over Five Farms course here.

There were Francis Oulmet, the champion from Boston; George Voigt, Charles ("Chick") Evans, Chandler Egan and Jesse Guilford, but most of the others were with Bobby Jones in the gallery—forced out by the spectacular shooting of the newcomer in yesterday's final qualifying round.

Three of the qualifying leaders were up for the first time, along with 11 others, making their first bid for the Ryder cup of amateur supremacy.

Among these was Johnny Fischer, the 20-year-old University of Michigan sophomore from Cincinnati, who put together two fine tours of 69-73 to equal the 142 record for the medal competition held jointly by Jones and D. C. Corkran of Baltimore.

Except for three narrowly missed putts, Fischer would have surpassed the record. A carelessly hit putt on the 15th, when he lay some 12 inches from the cup, probably cost him the shot mark. He was blasting his tee shots and playing his irons crisply and accurately.

Johnny Goodman of Omaha, a youngster possessing several years' experience, came second with 144, but Wilfred Crossley of Decham, Mass., and Frazz Hall of Philadelphia, with 145, were rank outsiders.

Among the other prominent players who found the going too fast and failed to make the grade were Don Moe and Frank Dolp of Portland, Ore.

DON CONGRATULATES SPEED KING

Hard luck again beset the British challenger, Kaye Don, in his quest for the Harmsworth speed boat trophy. The motor of his Miss England (II) failed in the final heat of the race on Lake St. Clair, Detroit, and Gar Wood, veteran Detroit racer, coasted in to an easy victory. BEAVERS' LEAD IN COAST RACE CUT

(By The Associated Press)

Coast league teams were bunched for a blanket finish as they started the final three weeks of the season.

Portland's lead was cut to four games as the Beavers lost to San Francisco Tuesday and Los Angeles went into a tie with Sacramento for third place by beating Seattle, while the Sees lost to Hollywood.

Only eleven games separate the first five teams in the league.

The Seals attacked three Portland pitchers and won 9 to 5, by staging a five-run rally in the eighth inning after starting the frame one run behind. Base hits were plentiful, the Seals collecting 15 and the Ducks 10.

Frank Shellenback, pitcher and handy man of the Hollywood Stars, went in as a pinch hitter in the eighth inning, knocked a home run, and enabled his team to beat Sacramento, 8 to 7. The Stars were one run behind at the time, but there was one man on base, so Shellenback's drive scored two runs. Sacramento got 11 hits and Hollywood 12.

Win Ballou, Los Angeles hurler, held Seattle to three hits as the Angels won, 16 to 0. The Angelinos fell on Hal Haid and Junk Walters for 21 safeties. Haid lasted only three innings.

The Missions had a 4-2 lead over Oakland after six innings, and then cut lose with five runs in the seventh and five more in the eighth to win 14 to 6. The Reds knocked Willie Ludolph from the box in the seventh and continued their attack on Clarence Fieber.

SPERRY PIGEONS BRING GREETINGS

Greetings have been brought to Medford from Crescent City in the manner of the old days, as the bird flies. A Sperry Flour carrier pigeon, recently arrived from the coast city to deliver the following message to the "Honorable Mayor, Medford, Oregon":

"Greetings from the people of Crescent City in Del Norte county on the Redwood highway through the courtesy of the Sperry Flour company's carrier pigeon released by me from Hobbs, Wall and company's store in our city. L. C. Lake, mayor."

The flour company maintains a large flock of birds here and when scattered about the coast they always return to their Medford home.

SPEED BOATS GET READY FOR SAVAGE RP. RACES SUNDAY

Motors are being tuned on racing craft this week for the season's biggest and final out-board motor event at Savage Rapids dam, Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, being sponsored by the Southern Oregon Boat club.

A double event—two free-for-all contests—has been booked on the program, and many southern Oregon racing fans are expected to make the trip to the dam Sunday for the regatta.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate cars across the highway from the course, making plenty of room for spectators. Brush has been cleared from the bank, leaving an unobstructed view of the water.

The boat program opens with a class B race, to include stock C motors. Entrants are: Jack Terrett of Medford, driving "Flying Dutchman"; John Fierstone of Albany, "Miss Albany"; E. M. C. Nell of Grants Pass, "Put Put"; Jim Daily of Medford, "Stepping Annie"; John Bohner of Central Point, "Blue Devil"; and Ahlijah Woods of Medford, "Flying Chipa."

Entries received up until today for the second race, the first free-for-all, are Floyd House of Medford driving "House Affire"; Harold Grey of Medford, "Irish Luck"; Art Vroman of Klamath Falls, "Klamath Queen"; "Heine" Fluiter of Medford, "Hole-in-the-Wall"; George of Medford, "Gee-ella"; Herb Strange of Albany, "Golden Slipper"; and Dutch Welch of Medford, "Flying Chipa."

The third race will be for stock runabouts, in which seven entries have been listed. This contest, not the speediest of the lot, is expected to add interest, as all are of the same speed rate, and are expected to turn-moll the water somewhat.

Another free-for-all, the outline shows, will be for the permanent pos-

CUBS NEED 8 OF LAST 12 GAMES TO GET NATIONAL TOP

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Having sailed away the American league pennant, the Yankees could all back today and watch the progress of the race in the national and figure out what to buy with their share of the world series receipts.

Joseph McCarthy's young men assured their participation in the well known October classic with yesterday's 9 to 3 victory over the Cleveland Indians. They can lose all their remaining 11 games if they feel so disposed and still finish a lap ahead of the Philadelphia Athletics.

While there still is some semblance of a fight for the national league diadem, the Yankee secret service can feel pretty safe in centering its activities on the Chicago Cubs.

By dividing a double bill with the New York Giants yesterday while Pittsburgh was being whitewashed by Ed Brandt of Boston, the Cubs increased their lead to five and a half games, with 12 to play. A little rapid calculation reveals they need to win only eight to make Chicago's north side supremely happy.

session of the Bradfish trophy, the record cup of the past two year's racing. With boatmen who are used to upsets, literally speaking, much excitement is expected for the spectators.

Between races, surf-board riding, and the first public demonstration in this section of aqua skills will be put on for the spectators. The skiing idea, a recent innovation in water sports is attracting much attention, according to the committee in charge of the races.

George Pipgras, veteran retainer, given the honor of pitching yesterday's climatic game for the Yanks, held the Indians to eight hits while his mates piled up 15 blows off Clint Brown and George Connally.

The Athletics, who at this time a year ago were preparing for their third straight world series, sat idle as the Yanks sewed it up while the third place Washington Senators were taking a 4 to 1 trimming from the lowly Chicago White Sox. Milt Gaston holding them scoreless until the ninth. The St. Louis Browns improved the day by whipping Boston's Red Sox, 9 to 4, behind Bump Hadley's five-hit pitching.

The Cubs and Giants had a pair of grand tussles at the Polo grounds, Chicago taking the first, 3 to 1, behind Charley Root's four-hit pitching, but dropping the nightcap, 3 to 2, as Hal Schurnacher kept their 12 hits widely scattered for eleven innings. Successive blows by Gilbert English and Johnny Vergez finally beat Lon Warneke.

Homeruns by Wally Berger and Bill Urbanaki featured the Braves' 3 to 0 win over Pittsburgh. Brandt allowed the Pirates only six hits.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, still clinging to a mathematical chance at the pennant, downed St. Louis twice, 6 to 1 in 11 innings and 3 to 1. Hollis Thurston outpitched Dizzy Dean in the second.

Chuck Klein hit his 35th homerun to help the Phillies crush Cincinnati, 7 to 1.

NAKED VICTIMS OF MANCHURIA BANDS TELL HORROR TALE

HARBIN, Manchuria, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A demand of foreign consuls in Manchuria for increased protection against brigandage was presented to the Manchukuo government today by United States Consul General George Hanson as half-naked victims of the recent train wrecks told of harrowing experiences.

Hanson, in the name of the other consuls, called upon the Pu-Yi government to increase the number of police in Harbin and vicinity and to arrest and punish the Chinese responsible for last Sunday's attack on him and other consuls on a golf course here. This attack resulted in the injury of two British subjects.

The Manchukuo government, it was learned, has asked Japanese military authorities to place soldiers at all railway stations in areas where brigands are active.

Henry Villard, son of Oswald Garrison Villard, New York Journalist, described one of four week-end wrecks. "It was a terrifying experience," he said, "not an ordinary train wreck, but one accompanied by a fierce armed attack in the dead of night, with the bandits intent on kidnaping, plunder, and murder."

"After I recovered from the terrific impact of the wreck itself, I crouched on the floor of the coach, using suitcases as barriers and expecting every minute to be shot. Suddenly all the lights went out, we were plunged into utter darkness and bullets whizzed all around."

"The bandits then boarded the train, ordering everybody out at revolvers' points. We were lined up like criminals and while one group pressed the muzzles of pistols to our heads and another squad held us covered from behind, a third stripped and robbed us. The night was bitter cold and we suffered acutely without clothing. We all expected to be kidnaped, but apparently our clothes and baggage were worth more to the brigands than our bodies.

"We spent a night of horror, expecting every minute that the bandits would return. In the midst of our misery we could hear the agonizing cries of those plucked in the wreckage, most of them horribly mangled."

"The Chinese soldiers refused to help them, saying: 'What's the use of dragging them out; there are no doctors here and they will bleed to death anyway.' I then started to rescue some of the victims myself. Only one came out of the wreck safe from another attack."

Other victims arrived here, stripped of their clothing, including their shoes, many suffering acutely from injuries.
