Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS HERE is a good depression story, related to this writer yesterday: Up at Pullman, where the Washington agricultural college is located, a man showed up one day recently and applied for a job. "I need it," he explained, "need it bad. I haven't had a day's work in eight months."

"I've sent my wife back to her folks, and I've put the children in an orphan asylum. Why, d—n it all, I'm even about to lose my car!"

SPEAKING OF depressions, here is a new way to tell whether times are good or bad—comparative sales of tailor-made cigarettes and the roll of tobacco out of which you roll your own:

About a couple of years ago, a rather well known figure in the business world acquired something of a reputation by beating by several weeks the government's estimates of business activity in various parts of the country, and his figures were surprisingly accurate.

"I merely take the record of sales of factory-made cigarettes and the tobacco out of which cigarettes are rolled by hand. Where sales of factory-made cigarettes are up, business is apt to be more active and employment fairly good.

"But where sales of tobacco and cigarette papers are up, business is inclined to be slower and employment less abundant."

HERE is the way he explains it: "When business is reasonably good and employment fair, people are inclined to buy factory-made cigarettes. But when business is not so good and more people are out of work, they economize by rolling their own."

IF you are a tip: If there is any touchy about your age, don't let anybody try these new age cards on you. They are simply uncanny.

The owner of the cards hands them to you. They are covered with figures and you tell him whether the figure corresponding to your age is on this card or that, and wpl! he tells you how old you are—just like that.

The way science is progressing, there won't be any secrets left before long.

MAINE, as you are probably tired of reading by this time, has gone Democratic, electing a Democratic governor and two Democratic congressmen out of a total of three.

In the Washington primaries on Tuesday, the Democrats increase heavily the number of votes cast, while there is a falling off of Republican votes.

IN ARIZONA, as these words are written, E. B. Moeur is a commanding lead for the Democratic nomination for governor over George W. P. Hunt.

HUNT is the INCUMBENT, which is a nice big political word meaning the fellow on the job.

IN LOUISIANA, Congressman John H. Overton, advocate of a "soak the rich" policy and protegee of the clowning orchestra leader who made such a publicity splash in the campaign for mayor of Seattle—although he was defeated for that office—for the office of lieutenant governor.

THESE are all signs of the times. People are disheartened, and when people are disheartened their inclination is to do away with what IS and try out something NEW.

GOODMAN BEATS QUIMET, 4-2, TO WIN SEMI-FINAL

Title Play Tomorrow Has International Flavor—Somerville Routs Guilford—Goodman in Fine Form

FIVE FARMS COURSE, Baltimore Country Club, Sept. 15.—(P)—Johnny Goodman, 22-year-old "giant killer" from Omaha, reached the finals of the United States amateur golf championship today with a sensational victory over the defending titleholder, Francis Quimet, 4 and 2, in the 36-hole semi-finals.

Goodman will play for the title tomorrow against Rose Somerville, former Canadian champion, who routed Jesse Guilford of Boston, 7 and 6.

Meanwhile, Johnny Goodman of Omaha shot into a lead of 4 up on Francis Quimet, the defending champion, after 27 holes, due to a sensational 33, two under par, on the outward nine.

Goodman, giving his putter with deadly effect, had three birdies as he took a commanding lead. He won the 20th, 22nd, 24th and 26th holes with remarkable ease around the greens.

Somerville, the first Canadian to reach the finals, was never in danger after the first nine. He was 8 up at the 20th hole, but the best Guilford could do was prolong the match against his sharpshooting rival.

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor FIVE FARMS COURSE, BALTIMORE COUNTRY CLUB, Sept. 15.—(AP)—(AP)—An international final for the United States amateur golf championship seemed virtually assured today as Rosa (Sandy) Somerville of London, Ontario, four-time former Canadian champion, shot into a lead of six over Jesse Guilford, Boston veteran, in the first half of the 36-hole semi-finals.

The 39-year-old defending champion, Francis Quimet, of Boston, was deadlocked in a duel with 22-year-old Johnny Goodman of Omaha. They finished the first 18 holes all square, each with medal scores of 72, two over par.

Goodman's recovery shots and brilliant putting repeatedly saved him as he waged a six-and-a-half-hole struggle with the title holder.

Goodman's best two shots were a recovery from thick bushes on the short 13th, to save a half as he got his ball out of the green from an almost unplayable lie, and an explosion shot to within a foot of the 16th pin. This saved him another half and on the 18th he got down an eight-footer to stay even.

Except for his erratic putting on several holes, Quimet was steadier, but could not shake off his younger rival.

Somerville's fine golf, emphasized the Canadian's title threat besides forecasting the first international final since Bobby Jones defeated Phil Perkins, British champion, in 1928 at Brimburn. No foreigner has taken the American crown since Harold Hilton, British star, turned the trick in 1911.

Guilford outdrove Somerville sometimes as much as 70 yards, but he was wild with his irons and putting poorly. Big Jesse missed at least five short putts while Somerville was setting down the most everything in sight. The Canadian holed a 25-footer to pull out the 11th and sank an eight-footer on the 18th. He took the last three holes in a row to double his margin.

Somerville shot the morning round in 73 strokes to Guilford's 78 and was 13 strokes in the lead after the third hole.

NURSE MIS-READS PRESCRIPTION AND 3 WOMEN PERISH

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Three patients at the Longview hospital for the insane died today because, Supt. E. A. Baber said, a nurse misread an anaesthetic formula.

The victims, Jennie Branhams, 54; Anna McCullough, 45, and Willie Shockley, 30, died as they were being given an anaesthetic preparatory to having their tonsils removed.

Supt. E. A. Baber said Miss Maybelle Viall, 35, hospital attendant, was told to prepare a solution containing two grains of the drug but that she misread the abbreviation "grm." for grains as "gram." for grams.

Accordingly, the nurse prepared a solution of dangerous strength. Jennie Branhams reacted strangely when given the first injection, but attendants attributed it to asthma from which she suffered.

Anna McCullough slumped when the anaesthetic was administered to her, but attendants said that reaction was not unusual.

By the time the third woman had been given the drug, doctors became apprehensive and began restorative measures.

It was too late. Within 20 minutes the women were dead.

AURORA BANKERS FREED OF ILLEGAL FUND USE CHARGE

SALEM, Sept. 15.—(P)—Dr. B. F. Cleary and Zeno Schwab were found not guilty of illegal use of funds of the Aurora State bank, in a verdict returned by a circuit court jury here yesterday.

The two Aurora residents have been on trial since September 6. Judge Fred M. Wilson of The Dalles was sent here by Chief Justice Bean to serve in lieu of Judge L. H. McMahan, who disqualified himself for the litigation on grounds of acquaintance with the defendants.

Counsel for the defense maintained that had times, not fraud, caused the Aurora bank to fail and the Willamette Valley Mortgage Investment company to go into receivership, Zeno and Schwab were the principal officers in both the bank and the investment company.

The defense cited heavy personal losses sustained by both men. The Aurora State bank was placed in the hands of the state bank examiner in February, 1931, and shortly thereafter the Willamette Valley Mortgage Loan company went into receivership.

Crack Drum Corps Parades Tonight At 8:30

South Pasadena drum and bugle corps, winner of second honors in the national competition at the Portland Legion convention, will parade Medford streets at 8:30 o'clock this evening. The California Legionnaires will appear in full uniform just as they marched in the Legion parade in Portland this week. Following the street parade the colorful aggregation will make a public appearance at the Holly.

NORTON ATTACKS OF FEHL COSTING VOTES, SYMPATHY

Gold Hill News Says Airing 'Grievances' and 'Know-It-All' Policy Causes Revision Up-County Feeling

The Gold Hill News, editorially reviewing the county political situation in its issue today, says: "Earl H. Fehl, candidate for county judge, spoke at Medford last Friday evening in one of a series of campaign speeches. Mr. Fehl made much of the recall against Judge Norton, and told how he, himself, had been wronged by the judge in the libel case against him last spring.

"In all of Mr. Fehl's speeches, we have found, the word 'I' is rather prominent. But it is used not in telling what 'I' will do if elected judge, but in what 'I' have suffered at the hands of county officers. If elected, Fehl would go into office with a big grievance which, so far, has overshadowed his campaign, and which, we believe would overshadow his conduct of the office.

"Last spring Fehl made a campaign speech in Gold Hill and put up a very similar line of sympathy talk, stating that his paper had been taken from him, and his business destroyed."

"At that meeting, many people were inclined to feel sorry for him, and their sympathy was reflected in the primary vote in May, when he carried this and the Rogue River precincts.

"Since that time, people have found that perhaps Fehl didn't need so much sympathy, after all. He is still publishing his Pacific Record-Herald, and is still finding fault with everything and everybody. And it is not kind of man who can handle Jackson county affairs for the next six years in a sane manner.

"It is noticeable here in Gold Hill that his popularity is on the wane. And, we believe it is because people are beginning to realize that it takes more than hollering to run a county—it takes common sense, straight thinking and a willingness to cooperate, instead of a know-it-all policy.

"Judge Alex Sparrow's shoes are going to be hard for any man to fill. So why start out with a handicap by electing a man that has so much of his own troubles that he has no time to give to the affairs of the county."

BIDS OPENED FOR FOREST HIGHWAYS

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Bids for construction of four forest highway projects were opened here today by W. H. Lynch, district engineer of the bureau of public roads.

The projects and low bids were: Umatilla National Forest: Surfacing 9.35 miles of the Spokane-Spray highway, Carl Nyberg, Heppner, $53,453. Malheur National Forest: Grading Canyon City-John Day section of the Canyon City-Burns highway; J. A. Turtelling & Sons, Boise, $35,935. Rainier National Forest: Grading 11.0 miles of the Handley-Yakima highway; A. C. Greenwood, Portland, $57,782.

NEXT GENERATION WILL THINK MORE, DR. WILBUR HOPES

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the Interior, told the City club here today he is convinced the coming generation will be less apathetic toward problems of government than the present generation.

Speaking on the question, "Is Democracy Safe?" Dr. Wilbur answered: "Democracy is safe. It has leaks and obvious faults, but it functioned in war and is now functioning in the midst of the worst depression we have had. The big problem is to devise the means of passing information to the whole people so they can make wise decisions."

Dr. Wilbur said the chief problem in making people take an active interest in government is to make them realize they have a selfish interest in the government.

"A great work is being done among the children of the nation and I am convinced the coming generation will not be so apathetic when matters of government are concerned."

"This present generation is being aroused by the tax burden. They're turning their attention to problems of government. The younger generation does not see it so much from that restricted view, but from a broader one. They are seeking the 'why' of many things and will seek for the correct answer."

The speaker said that while some of "the youngsters in college" have extreme views which are unsound, most of them have new and sound ideas.

"If we let the old folks run the nation, we would always be having an old model government," he said.

Dr. Wilbur is visiting the west in connection with Indian affairs. He will go to Klamath Falls tonight.

50-POUND BILLING ON PEARS AFFECTS 1932 SHIPMENTS

Raymond R. Beter, president of the Rogue River Valley Traffic association yesterday announced that A. S. Rosenbaum, district freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific company, had been advised by telegram that weight on pears shipped from the Medford district will be billed on 50 pounds instead of 51, as previously.

Mr. Rosenbaum pointed out that this will affect a saving of $9.20 on shipments of 520 boxes, and $13.50 on capacity shipments of 720 boxes. The rate at the present time is $1.73 per hundred pounds.

Fruit will be billed by the Southern Pacific company at the new 50-pound rate, Mr. Rosenbaum stated, and it is expected that the reduction will be retro-active to include all cars of pears shipped from the valley this season.

"Red" Nominee Slick NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP)—William Z. Foster, communist nominee for the presidency, returned from Chicago today and went to his home under the care of a physician. He was forced to discontinue active campaigning because of heart trouble. He said he expected to resume his campaign in two weeks.

IOWA FARM WAR BRINGS PLEA FOR MILITARY CURBS

Farmers Ambush Deputies and Violence Flares at Sioux City—Nebraska Tillers Adopt Platform

SIoux CITY, Ia., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Violence has flared anew on the Sioux City sector of the farm "war," bringing plea from citizens for military intervention.

Bricks and clubs flew in the latest uprising of farmers striking for higher produce prices when 500 farm pickets last night ambushed and routed a group of special deputies on a highway near Correctionville.

Several officers received minor injuries but returned safely to the city, where a force of 75 deputies was ordered to remain on duty to await developments. Sioux City police were also deputized for use in an emergency.

The ambush was believed to have resulted from the arrest early Thursday night of 24 farmers at their picket posts by 60 special deputies. They were later released on bonds pending hearings on unlawful assembly charges.

Immediately after the "battle" Sheriff John A. Davenport of Woodbury county was requested by 300 citizens, including business men and chamber of commerce officials, to call upon Governor Turner for aid from the national guard.

Turner said early today that Des Moines he had conferred with Sheriff Davenport by telephone but would not announce a course of action until later. He declared he had a plan in mind to settle the affair without use of troops but declined to disclose its nature.

Sheriff Davenport was quoted as telling the governor the picketing situation here was out of hand and that immediate help from military reinforcements was imperative.

The Iowa farmers' imperative were echoed last night in a meeting of 1,600 farmers from 17 Nebraska counties who met at Fremont.

The group adopted a platform demanding: "Cost of production for farm products plus an amount which will insure a decent standard of living.

"A moratorium on mortgages and interest. "A national emergency farm relief conference at Washington when congress convenes December 1."

OPINIONS DIFFER UPON VICTOR IN NOVEMBER VOTE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Returning today from the west, Senator Howell (R., Neb.) declared the presidential situation beyond the Mississippi to be "in the lap of the Gods."

Howell announced he would campaign for President Hoover and he voted criticism of the agricultural speech made by Governor Roosevelt at Topeka Wednesday.

"The political situation in the west is in the lap of the Gods," said Howell. "I found that the situation for the republicans is improving and that Hoover sentiment is growing and I believe all depends on developments in the next 60 days.

"Governor Roosevelt, in his agricultural speech, merely wrote the general specifications which we have all known about and have been trying to meet for years. We want to find the answer. He gave none."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Speaker John N. Garner, in a formal statement today, said the republican leaders "throughout the country are in a state of panic," and that it plainly evident "apprehension over the outcome of the November election extends to the White House."

The democratic vice presidential candidate made the statement after his arrival from Topeka, Kansas, where he conferred with Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt last night.

"The republican leaders throughout the country are in a state of panic. Moreover, there is plain evidence here in Washington that this condition of extreme uncertainty and apprehension over the outcome of the election in November extends to the White House itself."

ARKANSAS BANDIT LYNCHED BY MOB FOR RAZOR SLASH

CROSBETT, Ark., Sept. 15.—(AP)—A negro accused of slashing a $10 bill was taken from jail, lynched and his body left dangling from a pole in the business section here yesterday a few minutes after he slashed the throat of a guard in an attempt to escape.

The negro, Frank Turner, 234, arrested on a charge of trying to steal from a bank teller's window, was under guard by Deputy Sheriff Henry Reed, 39, in the city hall awaiting a hearing when he whipped out a razor and demanded the guard's gun.

Reed tried to draw his weapon but the negro slashed at his throat, inflicting a long cut, and ran out of the building. He was captured by bystanders and placed in jail. Reed was taken to a hospital, where only slight hope for his recovery was held.

Oregon Weather Fair tonight and Saturday but fog on the coast; slightly lower temperature in west portion Saturday; gentle, changeable winds offshore; fair but cloudy on the coast Sunday.

MAINE RESULTS, BONUS QUESTION, SPURS CAMPAIGN

G. O. P. to Swing Into Action Soon to Rouse Silent Vote—Final Weeks Devoted to Great Political Thunder

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(P)—A new urge of activity, preasing a white finish after weeks of half-heartedness, has been put into the presidential campaign by the main election, the Roosevelt western swing, and renewed discussion of the bonus.

So far as the political generals themselves are concerned, it appears certain that the efforts to be exerted on public opinion from now on will be on a scale as great as the campaign has seen in any recent campaign.

For the expected redoubting of party endeavor on both sides the Maine election returns are largely responsible. Rejoicing Democrats, sensing in their Maine victory a distinct advantage everywhere, are encouraged to press every opportunity to the utmost.

Surprised Republicans have certain to President Hoover solidate upon for a "hard fight," himself to rally for a "hard fight."

Word has come to party leaders from many sections that a large body of the people are silent and apathetic. In general, either campaign contributions nor attendance at political meetings shows intense popular interest. Yet in Maine the vote was very heavy, which may mean the public is thinking and meaning to act, even if it is not talking.

For the moment, most of the outward activity is on the part of the Democrats. Governor Roosevelt, speeding toward the west coast, is asking for the support of the voters of both parties, as he turns from the old subjects of the general depression and prohibition to speak about farm relief, power and the railroads. It is the aim of the Democrats to capitalize now, if possible, enough western strength to win, regardless of what the east may do.

The preparations of the Republicans for an intense October drive in both east and west will bring into action every available party wheelhouse. President Hoover's telegram to Chairman Sanders, after the Maine election, asking for renewed effort everywhere, has been followed by a string of political conferences at the White House. The President's own speaking program, calling heretofore for three major speeches, may be somewhat—but not greatly—expanded.

Whatever the political effect, publication of the bonus eviction report on the eve of the American Legion convention at Portland, stirred up a commotion which did not lack for public attention even in a week of commotions.

After giving Secretary Hurley both boos and cheers, the Legion endorsed the bonus, left aside a resolution to censure the President for evicting the bonus marchers from Washington, but adopted one censuring the war department for distributing literature on the subject in the convention.

LA GRANDE, Ore., Sept. 15.—(AP)—The new La Grande airport will be named Rankin field in memory of Dud Rankin, La Grande aviator, who died recently in Walls Walls from injuries received while repairing his plane there.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Sept. 15.—What do you know about Maine going sane? Why four years ago they imported a Democrat into the state just to show around at the fairs.

Even Wall Street got plumb discouraged at the news. "You mean to tell us this booming and trading we been doing among ourselves here has all gone for naught?"

Mr. Hoover wired to Everett Sanders to "tighten the line. Enlighten the people. Our cause is right."

Roosevelt just grinned and shown more teeth. The old campaign is getting hot. God help a man out looking for reelection on a night like this.

Depression Note

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Joseph B. Nutt, treasurer of the Republican National committee, said he advised President Hoover late today that campaign contributions were increasing and would reach $1,500,000 which he termed sufficient.
