

NEW CHANCE FOR CENTRAL PT. LAD GIVEN BY COURT

Harold Berry, a young man of the Central Point district, charged with the utterance of bogus checks, appeared before Circuit Judge H. D. Norison this morning, and was given six months' suspended sentence. There were several extenuating circumstances in the case. The court instructed the district attorney's office to bring the case to its attention at the expiration of the probationary period, and informed the defendant that the future course of the court would be measured by his conduct in the intervening time. T. L. Davidson, against whom Berry uttered the checks, interceded for him. Berry promised to pay back the money losses, and to "mend his ways." The court, in passing sentence, attributed Berry's trouble to "bad associates." The district attorney's office said that the forgeries were crude, and that the spurious checks were passed while the youth was intoxicated. Berry thanked the court for its leniency. "If you fall the court will be criticized, and bear the blame," the youth was informed. It was Berry's first entanglement with the law. Passing of sentence upon Luther Crosby, Emelia (Bobby) Mansfield, and Virgil (Dodo) Burnett, members of the "Ashland gang," accused of robbing the J. C. Penney store at Ashland last July, will probably be tomorrow. Lester (Buck) Wilson, the fourth alleged member of the gang, will enter a plea of not guilty. Records of the district attorney's office show that the Mansfield woman has been paroled five times, and it is alleged that "she is a bad influence" among girls of slightly younger age. The district attorney's office alleges that the young women implicated in various ways in the Penney robbery, have "a gangster's moll complex." Crosby is an ex-convict, serving at Salem state prison for robbery of a store in Ashland two years ago. Wilson served a sentence for the same offense. They were both released early this year.

CRASH SUIT NEAR HANDS OF JURORS

Closing arguments in the damage suit of Mrs. Harriet Brimhall of El Sonora, Cal., against the Southern Oregon Gas corporation were under way this afternoon in circuit court. It was expected that the case would be in the hands of the jury shortly after 3 o'clock. Mrs. Brimhall asks $25,000 as the result of an auto crash on the Pacific highway near Pheenix a year ago. The plaintiff contends that the gas company employee negligently left a repair truck alongside the Pacific highway, resulting in the auto crash. The defense holds that the crash could have been avoided had the son of Mrs. Brimhall exercised caution, and charge contributory negligence. Mrs. Brimhall testified that she sustained three broken ribs and an arm injury in the crash. The Brimhalls reside at El Sonora, Cal., where the husband, Dr. Silas J. Brimhall, is a physician.

A full report of the accident is awaited from the state police, who are investigating several new leads, one being to the effect, that an auto "with a wobbly overloaded trailer," was in front of the death car, and that Mrs. Margaret Crawford, driver of the death car, was confused and swerved in the loose gravel, by reason of it. Good looks aren't always luck. Sparkling eyes and a smooth complexion depend on good health. The beautiful woman guards against constipation. She knows this condition can cause headaches, sallow skin, dull eyes, pimples, premature aging. Protect yourself from constipation by eating a delicious cereal. Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. In addition, ALL-BRAN furnishes blood-building iron. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. How much safer than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming. Two tablespoons daily—in serious cases, with every meal—will correct most types of constipation. If your trouble is not relieved in this way, see your doctor. Serve as a cereal, with milk or cream, or use in cooking. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Home from the dance with ruinous Stocking Runs

If she'd only save the ELASTICITY that makes stockings WEAR!

SHE could easily cut down on those embarrassing runs. Other girls do. They make stockings last twice as long by Luxing them after every wearing. With Lux, you keep your stockings elastic—so the delicate silk threads give under strain—stretch and then spring back into shape without breaking. Try it yourself! It takes only 2 minutes to Lux a pair of stockings. You'll agree that the easy Lux way of washing saves stocking money—makes even delicate chiffon hosiery wear.

The LUX Way to make stockings last twice as long

- Wash this 2-minute way: 1. One teaspoon of Lux for each pair of stockings. 2. Add lukewarm water, squeeze suds through stockings, rinse well. Don't use too-warm water—this fades color. With Lux you use lukewarm water. No hot water needed. Don't rub with cake soap. It ruins elasticity. With Lux there's no rubbing! Even stubborn spots come out perfectly if you press a few dry Lux diamonds into the dampened spot. Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali, which robs silk of its life, weakens threads, fades colors. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux. Keep your hands lovely—use LUX in the dishpan. Costs hardly a cent a day.
