

LEGION A MENACE THROUGH POLITICS DECLARES PASTOR

Vets Organization Taken to Task for Asking Bonus Payment—Swayed by Militarists, Is Allegation

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 20.—(AP)—In his sermon, "Is the Legion a Menace?" delivered at the Lincoln Methodist church here, Rev. Ross W. Anderson, pastor, declared that the "Legion may be a menace to the republic because of its great political power," took the organization to task for voting for immediate payment of the bonus, and charged it with being "pretty largely under the sway of the military temper of mind."

Touching on the last point, he said: "Peace Plans Ignored. As one man put it, 'they convention either opposed or ignored every great constructive proposal for peace which is before the world today.' It is with deep regret that I am forced to admit the truth of the statement. 'This is important because it is indicative of the type of mind in control of the Legion, the military mind; the mind which believes that the path to peace lies by the way of great armament. 'It is natural that the Legion men should fall a prey to those who tell us that wars must come, and that the best prepared nation suffers least. These men saw the world rely on force once. * * * They want peace, but they rely on armaments to give them that peace. Consider Source. 'I ask them to consider from whence the loudest voices are raised in favor of a big army and navy. Those voices come from two sources: From the regular army and navy officers, and from the manufacturers of warships and war supplies. In other words, those who cry loudest for military preparedness are those who have an economic interest in doing so. 'I do not question the patriotism of the Legion members nor of regular service officers. I do question the patriotism of the professional patriots and flag-wavers; and I question the Legion's wisdom in heeding their loud cries."

LUMBER BUSINESS CLIMBING UPWARD

The lumber business throughout the country is on the upward climb, is the message brought to Medford yesterday by M. C. Woodard of the Silver Falls Timber company, Silverton, Ore., who spent two days the first of the week, conferring with James H. Owen of the Owen-Oregon Lumber company, with which he is also associated. Mr. Woodard went over the local field, inspecting the corporation and lumbering conditions in general, and reports conditions for the lumberman better throughout the country. He is interested in three or four large mills of the industry and seemed confident that better times are already arriving.

FIRE EQUIPMENT IN GOOD ORDER

Chief Roy Elliott of the city fire department yesterday ordered all of the equipment through the safety lane of the Oregon State Motor Association, A. A. A., testing the brakes, headlights, steering gear, wheel alignment and all safety appliances. In a statement today, Fred L. Brown, field manager of the association, said he had tested fire equipment in all parts of the United States, but never in his experience had he seen equipment in more perfect mechanical condition and he wished to compliment Chief Elliott on the efficiency of his department in this respect.

JACKSONVILLE GRANGE WILL MEET ON FRIDAY

Jacksonville Grange will hold regular monthly social meeting Friday evening at 8. The delegates that attended the recent recreational school given by John Bradford will have charge and will put on a recreational program. This is a program of old and young can take part in, and an enjoyable time is anticipated. Young people of the Grange will serve refreshments. An additional surprise has been planned for the benefit of the Grange. The ladies are asked to bring scissors and pins and the men are asked to bring a saw, hammer and nails. Further details will be forthcoming Friday evening. All Grangers and friends are welcome.

Home Economics club will meet at the home of Mrs. Mabel Sims at 2 p. m. September 21. It is hoped that the meeting can begin promptly as a recreational program has been planned.

When needing duplicating sales books, flat-packs or fan-fold cash register forms, ledger sheets for bookkeeping machines or any other kind of printing, don't order from out-of-town firms and pay more. Phone 75 and one of our representatives will call.

Nandle's Club Breakfast—the best in town—10c to 50c.

Medford Pear Sales, New York Auction

From New York Daily Fruit Reporter, furnished to The Mail Tribune by the Fruitgrowers' League

Eight cars Medford Bartlett Pears sold here September 16. On Oregon Bartlett, market higher.
Bartlett—	Bx.	80c	90c	100c	110c	120c	135c	150c	165c	180c	195c	210c	Avg.
Edison, Extra	148	175	175	155	175	185	185	150	120	120	171
Eclipse, Fancy	372	130	130	145	145	150	155	170	170	140	110	112
Pic-O-Pac, Fancy	520	140	140	145	150	150	155	180	190	174	120	178
Pic-O-Pac, Fancy	520	150	150	155	170	180	200	200	175	140		185
Crater Lake, Extra	518	150	150	155	160	160	160	150	150	140		145
Glen Rosa, Extra	347	140	150	150	150	150	150	150	150	120	120	148
Olen Ivy, Fancy	180	130	130	130	130	130	135	130	125	115	115	130
Blue Maltese Cross, Extra	61	190	190	190	190	190	195	190	160	135	170	149
Red Maltese Cross, Fancy	519	150	150	175	190	190	175	135	120	149		149
Polly, Extra	91									170	165	169
Top O' Day	48									155	145	147
Darby, Extra	178	155	155	155	160	165	165	155	150			150
Darby, Extra	324	145	145	145	145	145	145	145	135			128	(Top 80c)
Darby, Fancy	366	155	155	155	160	160	160	160	135			145	(Top 10c)
Darby, Fancy	152	140	140	145	145	145	145	140	135			125	(Top 75c)
1144 box, extra fancy Oregon Bartlett, av. $1.52; 2096 box, fancy av. $1.56.

Aviator Aids Capture of Wild Horses With Plane

(By Eva Nealon Hamilton)

Chas. E. Hahn, aviator, catches wild horses, in a wild country, but he does it in a very modern manner. And he promises anyone in search of a thrill, rugged and untamed, that he'll find it by viewing from the air a southeastern Oregon skyline, brushed with the manes and tails of fleeing horses. Horses which know not harness, halter or bridle, and which plunge into a density of mountain sagebrush in mad defiance of acquaintance with any one of the three, when an airplane motor roars overhead. Mr. Hahn arrived in Medford yesterday from Lakeview, the eastern Oregon town which neighbors the mountain range, ruled by 30,000 wild steeds, which each year entice from adjoining ranges numerous horses which have grown weary of saddle and plow. To force them from their native or adopted mountain haunts, Mr. Hahn flies high above their wind-tossed manes and with the roar of airplane motor frightens them into disbandment, domesticity and death, which comes with capture. "They are smarter than coyotes. More fleet of foot than deer or antelope, and might be right among them, as young stallion replaces one old leader of the band," Mr. Hahn explained. They travel in bands of from five to 25, always with a stallion and leader and an older horse, acting as rear guard, to prevent division of the group. The bands will not mix unless the leader is killed or captured, then the horses join another group. They are afraid of the motor's roar and start in organized flight over their old trails, until forced to separate, then grow frantically and scatter to be driven down the mountain, where capture is possible. On his last campaign, Mr. Hahn brought in 150 horses from the mountain several thousand feet above the plateau in the Thousand Creek country, 115 miles from Lakeview. The horses, formerly tame, are much harder to capture than the natives of the range, Mr. Hahn said yesterday. They have learned the ways of man and the restrictions of farm life. The wild ones, once captured, are easily tamed. Like domestic horses, their coats are varied in color, but often more vivid and irregular in markings. A white horse with a black head was once found in a band and a black one with white mane and tail. All the horses are fat, a little smaller, but tougher than the tamed animals. They are believed to be descendants of the horses left in the southwestern country during the early Spanish settlement, the territory they inhabit running well into Nevada. The valleys and ranges in the vicinity of their domain are large, so large that only the water holes are fenced, and the horses, sometimes traveling in herds as great as 5000 in number, progress from mountain to mountain, unhampered. The farm work horses turned out on the range at the close of the summer season join their ranks and when spring comes again refuse to return to toil. For this reason the farmers are anxious to rid the country of the wild horses, which also eat off an important portion of the range which otherwise would support the domesticated animals. Most of the wild horses taken from the mountains are shipped to Schaefer Bros., Portland, where they are butchered and packed for European shipment, the people of the old

SAFETY TEST FOR AUTOS GIVEN FREE TO LOCAL DRIVERS

The "safety lane" of the Oregon State Motor Association, A. A. A., got under way yesterday testing brakes, headlights, safety appliances and wheel alignment of cars. About 250 auto owners took advantage of this free service to get an "ok card" issued by the Association. Chief of Police McCredie sent all the department cars through the safety lane for a test. Today Fred Scheffel, superintendent of the city, will send all of the city trucks through. L. C. Garlock and Fred L. Brown of the A. A. A. have charge of the lane with the assistance of Officers George Prescott and Tom Robinson. Local companies donating men and equipment are Lewis Super Service Station, Colonial Garage, Pennington's Service Station, Abney's Garage and Firestone Service Stores. The lane is operated in a drive for safety and all car owners of the city are urged to have their cars tested so that they may know the exact condition of safety appliances in order to make the streets and highways a little safer to drive on. Everything is free. Oregon Weather. Fair tonight and Wednesday, but fog on the coast; cooler east and south portions tonight; moderate north and northwest winds offshore. NOTICE—I am now managing Frank's Sandwich Shop, 21 N. Bartlett and will not be responsible for debts contracted by former mgr. Caroline Ronney, after Sept. 10, 1932, Fred Van Noy.

Meteorological Report

September 20, 1932. Forecasts: Tonight and Wednesday fair, cooler tonight. Oregon: Fair tonight and Wednesday, but fog on the coast; cooler east and south portions tonight. Local Data. Lowest temperature this morning, 51 degrees. Temperature a year ago today: Highest, 78; lowest, 44. Total precipitation since September 1, 1932, 0 inches. Relative humidity at 5 p. m. yesterday, 25%; 5 a. m. today, 63%. Sunset today, 6:13 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow, 5:37 a. m. Sunset tomorrow, 6:11 p. m. Observations Taken at 5 a. m., 120 Meridian Time.

City	High Temp	Lowest Temp	Prevailing Wind	Weather
Baker City	62	48	T.
Boise	68	52	P. Cdy.
Chicago	88	65	02	Rain
Denver	70	48	P. Cdy.
Des Moines	86	50	84	Clear
Eureka	58	52		Cloudy
Fresno	88	62		Clear
Helena	56	46	T.	Rain
Los Angeles	72	60		Cloudy
Marshallfield	66	58	14	Rain
MEDFORD	81	51		Cloudy
New York	65	60		Clear
Phoenix	88	70		Clear
Portland	82	54	10	Cloudy
Reno	80	48		Clear
Roseburg	74	58		Cloudy
Salt Lake	66	50		Clear
San Francisco	68	56		Clear
Seattle	56	50	08	Cloudy
Spokane	50	46		Clear

GANDHI SPURNS LIBERTY OFFER FOR DEATH FAST

(Continued from Page One)

orts to dissuade him. He began preparing for the fast yesterday by cutting down on the amount of food taken at meal and spacing the meals farther apart. Many offers of a comfortable home for him during the fast also were received, including an invitation to

Saddle and Pack Horses For your hunting trip at LAKE O' THE WOODS Medford Riding Academy

Mann's Department Store

Sale! DRESSES

SECOND FLOOR MANN'S

Starting Tomorrow

50 Dresses in This Sale—So New They'll Make the Rest of Your Frocks Seem Old Fashioned

New Travel Tweeds $3.95

Another shipment of these popular inexpensive fall dresses. 50 lovely new travel tweeds in medium and dark shades in the smart cape, long and elbow sleeve styles. Ideal for early fall wear. Travel tweed is the fabric used in so many of this season's better dresses and when you buy a frock of this beautiful material for $3.95 you are getting a bargain indeed. See them tomorrow at Mann's.

Sizes 14 to 44

Wednesday Special!

70x80 Pure Wool Blankets $2.35 EA.

A sensational Wednesday special. 70x80 inch pure wool single blankets at $2.35 each. These big warm covers are in solid shades of coral, rose, green, blue, orchid and gold, and sell regular for $2.95. All have a triple stitched steen bound edge.

Colonial Dames Free Facials all this week. Make Your Appointment Now—Toiletries Department Main Floor

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

THE FALL OF CONSTANTINOPLE "Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Thomas Webb... inspired by the savage slaughter of 5000 Christian defenders—at the hands of the vengeful, barbaric horde of 250,000 men under the ruthless Mohammed II—1453!

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted" That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON. Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

Genuine Holeproof Silk Hose 79c pr.

Newest Fall Gloves $1.95 pr.

Genuine Holeproof hose in pure silk chiffon or service at 79c pair. The hose for utility or dress wear, full fashioned, picnic tops, French heels and of course the new shades for fall and winter. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10 1/2.

Choose your fall gloves from our stocks of "Baccho Footman" crape skins and "Alexandre" lamb skins in novelty cuff styles, four-button gauntlets and clever wrist lengths. Black, Rhum Brown and Beige.

Main Floor Glove Section Main Floor

Mann's - Medford's Own Store