

Medford Tigers, 1932 Model, Meet Weed Saturday in Initial Clash

GAME WILL GIVE LINE ON CALIBER BURGER SQUAD

Rally Tonight Will Generate Pep for Battle—Team Big But Lacking in Experience—All Will Get Chance

The Medford high school football team for 1932—big and inexperienced—will make its initial bow for the season tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock against the Weed, Cal., squad. The game will be played at the junior high school field. A rally will be held this evening by the students of the school to arouse interest in the game. The Burgerhelsters are out to better the score of 33-0 made last Saturday by Klamath Falls against Weed, a light but fast team. Coach Burger will probably give all his first and second strings a chance to do their stuff tomorrow. The present bothersome spot in the Medford line is center. Connie Latham and Bill Kindred have not conquered the knack of passing. Bill Knipe—one of the "Unfairable Knips" of high school athletics—will probably start at one of the halfback positions, with Gallinsky at the other. Clyde Fichtner, a big boy with a year's experience, will man the fullback job, and Tommy White is slated for the quarterback position. Latham will start at center, with Orives and Oelm at guard, and Miner and Shaw at tackle. Lindley and E. Bennett will start at ends. The game will give Medford fans a line on the prospects for the year. In the Southern Oregon conference Saturday, Grants Pass plays North Bend and Klamath Falls will take Alturas. The Ashland team does not start until a week from tomorrow.

CHICAGO INFIELD BOASTS NO EDGE IN SLUGGING ART

Bruin Combination Young and Fleet of Foot On Bases Fast in Double Plays—Mark Koenig Is Spark Plug

By ALAN GOLLD. (Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The infielders of the Chicago Cubs hold the edge over their Yankee rivals in most everything except the potent art of slugging baseballs out of the park. Lou Gehrig, Tony Lazzeri and Joe Sewell, a newcomer to this feature of the business, all pack the kind of a batting punch that breaks up the old ball game. Man for man, however, the Cub combination can point to more robust-looking batting marks for the 1932 season. The Bruin infielders, besides, can claim the distinction of being younger than their rivals, faster on the bases and quicker at the vital task of pulling double plays. Infielders Close Match. Apart from the color added to the world series by the comeback of Tony Lazzeri and Mark Anthony Koenig, one-time "keystone kids" of the Yankees now turning up as rivals, the two infields are closely matched in all-around ability. Both Lazzeri and Koenig are expected to start the series, although they have been out of commission recently, the former at second base for the Yankees and the latter at shortstop for the Cubs. Bill Jurges is ready to step in if Koenig cannot go the series route. Otherwise the only question in either lineup is whether Frank Crosetti, the slender Yankee recruit, will hold down the shortstop post or yield to Lynn Lary or Dr. Eddie Farrell. Crosetti likely will start. Grimm Steadies Cubs. Whatever Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs lacks in clouting ability by comparison with Larruping Lou Gehrig, the Yankee "iron man" first baseman, he makes up for in general steadiness. Grimm is a "money player" besides being a fine leader and bawdy strummer. He has the artist's touch at first base. He was one of the few Cubs to play exceptional ball against the Athletics in the 1929 world series, batting close to .400. Lazzeri's harder hitting ability and longer experience, providing he is in shape, gives him a distinct shade over Billy Herman, the 23-year-old Cub keystone star. Tony is as vital a cog as Ruth in the Yankee machinery. He has the faculty of pulling the club together at shaky moments. Herman, however, has proved he can stand the gaff in a tough pennant scrap. Billy, the Kid leads off for the Cubs at bat and has a season's mark of around .310 for the full schedule. Koenig a Spark Plug. Koenig's return from the minors was simultaneous with Chicago's pennant rush. Grimm was instrumental in getting him and credits the former Yankee with a big part in the team's winning drive. Because of his hitting and experience Mark has the edge on any one of the three Yankee shortstop possibilities. Elwood English is a better hitter than his average of around .270 for the season indicates. He is nine years younger and considerably faster than Joe Sewell, the veteran Yankee third sacker, but no steeper in the field nor as consistent at bat. Sewell is one of the toughest men in the game to baffle at the plate. It's real baseball when Alabama Joe strikes out. The Cubs have 22-year-old Stanley Hack, as well as Jurges, for utility work around the infield premises. The batting averages of the infielders, up to date:

Chicago Cubs.	Pct.
Koenig	.337
Herman	.312
Grimm	.310
English	.270
Jurges	.252
Hack	.233

New York Yankees.	Pct.
Gehrig	.348
Lazzeri	.300
Sewell	.276
Crosetti	.245
Lary	.240
Farrell	.183

MRS. RUTH PROUD OF BABE'S LONG RECORD

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. George Herman Ruth is proud of the fact that her famous husband next week will enter his tenth world's series. She is prouder of the fact that his record of 60 home-runs in one season is still unbroken. But, she said, as she arrived here to keep a watchful eye on the ailing Babe, she's proudest of a feat he performed while pitching for the Boston Red Sox—the feat of hurling 29 consecutive scoreless innings. COAST FOOTBALL MACHINES FACING TRIALS SATURDAY

Oregon Meets Pacific University Tonight—Oregon State Plays Willamette Under Lights Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Most of the ten members of the Pacific Coast conference swing into action on the gridiron this week-end in games that for all but California, Stanford and Oregon State will be the first of the 1932 season. Heading the list of attractions in the bay region will be the contest at Kezar stadium here tomorrow between Stanford and University of San Francisco. But the California-Santa Clara battle across the bay in Berkeley will be a close rival in interest the same day. Both conference teams are given a good chance to meet their smaller, but powerful opponents. In the south, both Los Angeles universities play home games. Tonight the U. C. L. A. Bruin will go under the floodlights to battle its ambitious cousin from Davis, the California Aggie Mustang. The University of Southern California champions are slated to have an easy time disposing of the Utah eleven tomorrow afternoon. In the north four games tomorrow and one game tonight are on the program. Tonight Oregon university will meet Pacific university at Eugene. University of Washington will tackle the Gonzaga Bulldogs in a stiff opener at Seattle, while Washington State will meet the College of Idaho at Pullman. University of Idaho and Whitman will tangle at Moscow in the final day contest, and Oregon State will wind up the week's events under the lights at Corvallis against Willamette.

A new TYPE and KIND of Automobile

Two brothers named Wright flew a power-kite off the bleak sands of Kitty Hawk, and gave to the world the airplane. Genius and daring, seeking new thrills, added hulls and keels to winged motors—and gave us hydroplane. Today, the earthbound automobile takes on phantom wings—and you have the TERRAPLANE! Not only a new model but a new kind of automobile, it springs full-powered from the independent, daring, Hudson-Exess engineering that has contributed more than 60 "first's" to automotive progress. Because it skims the roadways of old terra firma with a fresh, smooth, soaring action akin to flight, Amelia Earhart christened it the TERRAPLANE. Its new engineering principle is pneumounted power—power set free—with the highest ratio of power to weight ever achieved in a production car here or abroad. Its unit body-and-chassis construction is the first achievement of complete structural entity in any car. In performance it out-starts, out-climbs, out-runs, out-curves and out-stays cars three times its weight and ten times its price.
