Presbyterian Women Plan Large Tea, Lecture

Many tickets have already been purchased for the tea and lecture to be sponsored Saturday afternoon at the Hotel Holland by the Women's association of the Presbyterian church, and many other women are planning to desert their bridge tables and men their offices that afternoon, welcoming the opportunity to hear Frank Ohrt, former flier in the English army, who spent a year in German prisons, and later four years in Zulu land in South Africa, tell of his experiences.

Mr. Ohrt, a much traveled journalist and former editor of the Alpine Sun in Switzerland, is a guest here of his brother, Norman Ohrt, at his ranch near McLeod on the Rogue river. He has consented to speak at the tea Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and extensive plans are being made for the occasion, which promises to be the largest affair of the week.

Roosevelt No Aid. Discussing Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's eight-point program for public utility ownership, Thomas said more than 50 per cent of domestic users of electricity in New York pay more now than when he became governor, "because of an unwarranted service charge."

BRITISH CABINET MEMBERS RESIGN

LONDON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Three of the important liberal and labor members of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's eleven-month old national cabinet resigned today following a disagreement over the tariff proposals approved at the recent imperial trade conference at Ottawa. The three who resigned are Viscount Snowden of Ickneshaw, lord privy seal, former labor party leader who followed his colleague, the prime minister, into the national cabinet last November, and two noted liberals, Sir Herbert Samuel, home secretary, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, secretary for Scotland. The resignations marked the first break in the national government which was chosen from all three leading parties to meet the financial crisis which Great Britain faced last October. The liberal leaders and Viscount Snowden objected to the tariff proposals as incompatible with their free trade principles. The cabinet met in a tense special session at 11 a. m. for final consideration of the threatened break, which has been foreseen for several days. The session lasted two hours. The prime minister and a majority of the cabinet members declared the free traders' proposal to delay presentation of the Ottawa agreements "impracticable."

country, can sell its cotton to better advantage, it can buy more of what the West has to sell. AND here is an interesting development: Employment has increased 16 per cent in 219 manufacturing establishments in Rhode Island, and JEWELRY MANUFACTURING is an important contributor to this increase. When people begin to buy jewelry it is a pretty good sign that they are feeling easier in their minds about the future. BUSINESS is getting distinctly better. Whether it goes on getting better depends on whether or not something happens to give a setback to public confidence in the future. So to that, we are all living in hopes.

CIVIC MUSIC CLUB TO MEET FRIDAY AND MAKE PLANS

Arthur W. Manuel, Pacific coast representative of the Civic Coast Concert Service of Chicago, arrived in Medford this morning and a special meeting of the officers, team conductor and all workers of the Southern Oregon branch of the Civic Music association has been called for Friday evening at the high school auditorium by Wm. F. Isaacs, president of the association. All officers and workers are urged to be at the meeting at 7:45 o'clock to greet Mr. Manuel, who will remain here during enrollment week, and to participate in the outlining of plans for the registration of association members.

The Southern Oregon enrollment will open with a banquet at the Hotel Medford Monday evening, October 3, and will continue until Saturday night, October 8, at 10 o'clock. Mr. Manuel brought with him from Tacoma, Wash., where enrollment for the new year has just been completed, very encouraging news. The association of that city raised $300 more this year for talent than during the past season in spite of the so-called depression and has already selected an outstanding group of artists for the new year. The concert series there includes, Mr. Manuel stated this morning, Mario Chamlee, famous tenor, now with the San Francisco opera; the Gordon string quartet of New York; the well known pianist, Jose Echaniz, and Florence Austral, famed soprano, whose husband plays the flute. She has been singing in Seattle, Vancouver and Portland.

The first thought in the minds of the officers and directors, is Mr. Manuel said, a belief that in spite of the unfavorable business conditions, a large membership in the local association will be enrolled as a result of the very satisfactory series of concerts brought to Medford last year by the Civic Music association. The series included Attilio Baggioni, the Aguilar lute quartet, Coe Glade, and Francis McMillan, the violinist, all of whom are favorably remembered by Southern Oregon music lovers. The association had promised Medford three concerts last year and brought four.

If the membership reaches the desired total this year it will be possible to bring still greater entertainment to the city, the number of concerts being determined by the size of the organization.

Mr. Manuel said this morning that he was pleased to note that the civic music idea has continued successfully with an 11 per cent increase in the first 21 towns, where campaigns were held in the spring of this year. This increase he credited to the fact that in times of mental and financial depression the need for good music is more keenly realized and the individual's appreciation becomes greater.

Forecasting further success for the Southern Oregon association, Mr. Manuel added: "We were much impressed in Chicago with the spirit and enthusiasm of your president, Mr. Isaacs, and expect much from the Medford association."

Among those greeting Mr. Manuel following his arrival in Medford this morning was Carlton James, local musician who attended Mr. Manuel's alma mater, Oberlin, and who sang in the same choir as the civic music representative.

Mr. Manuel said he was looking forward to a very pleasant week in Medford. This is his first trip through the northwest but he is rapidly becoming a westerner, having moved his family to Los Angeles.

More flavor. Compare a spoonful of Schilling Ground Cloves with any other. The difference is marked. Schilling is a dark brown in color. The other will be a red or yellow brown. Schilling is so rich with oil that the tiny granules cling together in clots. The other will look dry and loose. Most ground cloves come in a sifter-top tin. But Schilling's is packed in a tin with a large opening. It is so heavy with fragrant oil that it will not shake through a sifter.

CURTIS CRITICISES BOURBON THEORY ON TARIFF LAW

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Vice President Charles Curtis is enroute to Oklahoma today, leaving behind in West Virginia a prediction that America "will be the first to recover from the depression under the leadership of President Hoover." Closing a two-day stump of the mountaineer state, Curtis last night said there had been 19 periods of depression in the United States in the last 125 years but that the nation "came out of each depression more powerful than ever."

He declared "a competitive tariff for revenue" advocated by the democratic platform and Governor Roosevelt, democratic presidential nominee "will not help a single working man, farmer, mine or factory in the United States."

In another speech he formally opened a new government lock in the Kanawha river at Market, near here, Curtis approved a shorter working week for laboring men—40 hour, five-day week.

UNKNOWN SHIP IN DISTRESS, REPORT

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 28.—(AP) An unidentified vessel, believed by radio operators here to be the steamer Nevada, out of Portland, or the Casey, was in distress somewhere in the north Pacific ocean early today and sent out urgent calls for help. The vessel gave her position as latitude 51 degrees, 8 minutes north and longitude 179 degrees, 15 minutes west. Officials of the States Steamship company, owners of the Nevada, said later they had received a wireless reported by other ships which led them to believe the ship calling for help was the Nevada. They said it was about 100 miles southwest of Ulak Island of the Aleutian chain. The Nevada left Portland September 15, bound for the Orient with lumber, flour, and general cargo.
