

LASTING GOOD IN CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURER'S TOPIC

The following lecture on Christian Science entitled "Christian Science: The Science of Indestructible Good," was delivered last evening at the Fox Hall theater by John Ellis Bedman, C. S., of Los Angeles, California, member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Message over reaching or reassuring no more comforting or reassuring than the most complete appeal which Jesus made when he said: "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." Humanity has always seemed to stagger under heavy burdens. Jesus came to lift the burdens from off the shoulders of all men. He came to show the way of escape from everything that hampers, hinders, limits and binds. He came to reveal the way that leads into everlasting peace, joy, and freedom. He truly declared, "I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture."

that since the perfect God obviously produces the real good, then evil, the opposite of good, cannot come from God and must be unreal. No one has ever been able to explain how evil could be created by God, and no one has ever been able to explain how evil can exist as a reality if God is perfect and omnipotent. Christian Science takes its stand squarely on this proposition and teaches that the perfect and omnipotent God cannot, and does not, produce evil of any sort, and that consequently evil is that which may be supposed to exist, but which actually has no existence. Then Christian Science proceeds to make good its irrefutable logic on this point by its irrefutable proof. Centuries ago Jesus taught and demonstrated the unreality of evil. He taught and proved that sin, sickness, and death are unreal. Dr. Henry Dixon, a prominent Portland neurologist, will also conduct a clinic on the same day for children handicapped by nervous or mental diseases.

Health is indestructible. What would not the world give to find a health that is indestructible? It is a very successful man, a blessing. One day, many years ago, I was taking a trip on an old-fashioned stage coach drawn by four horses. On the seat with me sat two men who conversed freely, and quite inevitably I heard their entire conversation. One of these men was a doctor, and the other was a lawyer of eminence in that state. He had prospered, and he had been honored by his fellow citizens. He had once served the people as their governor. He was loved and respected for the valuable service he had rendered. Both of these men were unhappy, and they talked of their unhappiness. They were longing for good health. They believed they had once enjoyed good health, but that they had lost it. One of them said to the other: "You are a very successful man, and you have made money, but you would give every dollar you have, and every dollar you have ever made, if it would bring to you good health, even that measure of good health which you were enjoying ten years ago. Is not that a fact?" Without hesitation, the man addressed replied with a vigorous affirmative. They were of one mind in their attitude that they would gladly give up every material thing they possessed if by so doing they could gain good health. They did not talk to me, and I found no opportunity to tell them of the message which Christian Science brings, but I took comfort then in knowing that each one of these men already had the blessing he longed for as an eternal, irrevocable gift from God, and that, sooner or later each one would become aware of that glorious fact.

What is health? Well, it is not a material condition and it does not rest upon matter as its foundation. People will continue to believe that they can lose their good so long as they place that good on a material foundation. But all the while the fact is that the good rests upon a spiritual foundation. Health is spiritual. It is a quality of God, and God is infinite Spirit. Health is eternal, universal, and indestructible. It is an inherent quality of every creature which God produces. You have health because God is forever harmonious, and you reflect Him. Your health is an inherent quality of your very being. It is eternal and indestructible, because you are a child of God, and you are eternal and indestructible, because God is eternal and indestructible, and He forever sustains and preserves you. We never lose our health. It can never be diminished or impaired. It is with us wherever we are, and it is ours to enjoy forever and forever without interruption.

Sickness cannot destroy health, it cannot diminish or displace health. What is sickness? It is not a material condition. It is not produced by matter. Sickness is a mental delusion. There is no sickly thinking in God, nor in God's creation. Mortals, taught to believe in sickness, think in a sickly fashion, and a sickly state of mind manifests itself in an inharmonious human body. But only God's thoughts are true, and whatever is un-Godlike is untrue, unreal, and unnecessary. Man in God's image and likeness receives all his thoughts from God, and he cognizes only that which God produces and cognizes. Consequently, man in God's image never entertains sickly thoughts, and he is never sick. When mortals entertain sickly thoughts, that false thinking hides from them the ever-present and universal health, just as a mist or fog hides from our view the sun. As soon as sickly thinking is cast out of human consciousness by the truth of being, the sense of sickness vanishes into its native nothingness and then health is seen.

Everyone agrees that good and evil are opposites. Honesty and dishonesty are opposites. Love and hate, holiness and unholiness, sickness and health, happiness and unhappiness, harmony and discord are opposites. Mrs. Eddy was led by God to see that since good and evil are opposites, only one of them can be real. She saw

FREE CLINIC FOR CHILDREN OCT. 19 AT COURT HOUSE

The Sparrow Memorial clinic for children will be the scene of a free clinic for handicapped children, October 19, at the courthouse. Dr. Richard B. Dillehunt, orthopedic specialist, dean of the Oregon State medical school and in charge of the Shriners' hospital for crippled children at Portland, will conduct the clinic. Dr. Henry Dixon, a prominent Portland neurologist, will also conduct a clinic on the same day for children handicapped by nervous or mental diseases.

The Jackson County Medical society and the Jackson County Public Health association were instrumental in obtaining these two prominent men for this clinic. All arrangements are to be made through the Jackson county health department, and no children will be admitted to the clinic without being referred by their family physician or county nurse. Parents or friends of crippled or handicapped children are advised to get in touch with either the family physician or the county health department and make arrangements at an early date. So many have already made arrangements that late comers may have to be left out.

COPCO ENGINEER OREGON ADMIRER

"I like it," enthusiastically said Richard N. Chinnblom, discussing Oregon, "and while I am now returning east, the people of Medford predict that I will be back in six months." Mr. Chinnblom, a civil engineer, is the son of Carl B. Chinnblom of Evanston, Ill., representing that congressional district. Representative Chinnblom worked for years with W. C. Hawley, congressman from Oregon, on the ways and means committee, and like the Oregon committee, Representative Chinnblom also was defeated in the Republican primaries last spring. Young Richard Chinnblom has been in Oregon 18 months, working on the Prospect No. 2 project of the California Oregon Power company, which made being located on the Rogue river at the postoffice called Prospect. Prospect is a resort and Mr. Chinnblom says that there were 25 California cars there this season. The day the deer season opened, Mr. Chinnblom finished his job, which may have been fortuitous, as deer were abundant in that region. "The two resources which the northwest has which are known all over the country," observed the engineer, "is its timber and water power. One has been developed and the other has not; both are perpetual natural resources, provided they are handled with intelligence."—Oregonian.

JUNIOR DEMOCRATS OF VALLEY HEAR F. D.; TO ORGANIZE

Southern Oregon Democrats, filled with new enthusiasm for their party's candidate for president, many of them having heard the address of Franklin D. Roosevelt in Portland last week, announced last night that organization of the Young Democrats of Jackson county will be completed next Wednesday, October 5, at a meeting at the Hotel Holladay. Edward C. Kelly, candidate for the state legislature on the Democratic ticket, and organization chairman of the Young Democrats, returned from Portland Monday night and will deliver Governor Roosevelt's personal message to Young Democrats of Jackson county at the meeting one week from tonight. All Democrats of Jackson county, between the ages of 18 and 35, and all other persons of those ages interested in the election of Governor Roosevelt and the principles of the Democratic party are invited to attend the organization meeting, at which officers to head Jackson county's Young Democrats will be elected. An important challenge was also issued last night to the Young Republicans of Medford, organized following the first organization meeting of the Democrats. They will be asked to meet the Young Democrats in a debate, the question to be "Resolved, That Herbert Hoover should be re-elected president of the United States upon his past record in office." Date of the debate will be announced as soon as a reply is received from the Young Republicans. It is hoped to bring into the local Democratic organization all young people of the valley, who are interested in promotion of the progressive ideas of the new Democracy, regardless of previous party affiliations, the leaders announced this morning. Extensive plans are being made for rally meetings and study of party principles and platforms to advance the Democratic cause and to acquaint the state with the existence of a Southern Oregon branch of the national organization. The Young Democratic official bulletin of the Young Democratic League of Oregon is received by the local members and brings cheering news of progress in the northern end of the state, the local leaders state.

FUND FOR CLINIC IN REMEMBRANCE

A beautiful expression of sympathy and a remembrance of a departed friend, in keeping with a custom long established in the east, was recently presented the Jackson County Health association by a friend of the late Charles M. English of this city. The friend, instead of sending flowers to the funeral sent a donation to the Sparrow Memorial clinic of Medford's most beloved citizens. The donation will be added to the memorial fund, which will be used to bring health and happiness to children, who would otherwise be deprived of the necessary medical attention. In connection with the donation, a card, expressing sympathy, was sent to Mrs. English. The method was chosen as a more practical way of expressing sympathy and one especially appropriate this year, when money is so badly needed to aid the unfortunate children of the community.

California Women Not For McAdoo
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(Sp.)—Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, national chairman of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, announced today the California division would not endorse William G. McAdoo's senatorial campaign. The announcement was in the form of a denial of a statement she said had been published in Baltimore.

FOREST GRAZING CUT WILL HOLD

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 28.—(Sp.)—Belief that the 50 per cent reduction in grazing fees on national forests will be continued for 1933 was expressed by Senator Reed Smoot in a telegram from Washington today to James A. Hooper, secretary of the Utah Woolgrowers' association. Senator Smoot said he had conferred with Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, about the matter, and said the "reduction undoubtedly will be ordered. Hooper said he will leave October 14 with representatives of other western wool-growers states, to make a study of market conditions in large eastern cities, as guests of large packers.
