Frank Ohrt Speaks at Tea Tomorrow Afternoon

Many social groups of Medford are looking forward to a very pleasant afternoon tomorrow, when Frank Ohrt, journalist of international experience, will speak at a tea at the Hotel Holland, to be sponsored by the Women's association of the Presbyterian church.

Much interest in the event has been expressed by those anxious to learn more of South Africa, with which Mr. Ohrt is especially familiar, having spent four years in the territory of the Zulus, of whom he will speak tomorrow. Tales of the medicine man and the really important influence he exerts in the villages, description of the landscape, the perpetual pageant carried on by the Zulus, and the laws by which they live, promise to form a fascinating pattern from which the journalist's lectures will evolve.

Mr. Ohrt, who has traveled much since the world war, in which he received injuries in an airplane crash behind the lines which let him in for a year in the German prisons, is very much in love with the Southern Oregon country. He is here visiting his brother at his ranch home near Medford and says that much of the color and other characteristics of this section remind him of Africa.

In speaking of cities of England and the United States during his visit here, he expressed one outstanding regret as to their makeup, a lack of pageantry, he called it, and compared the English and American cafes and other haunts with the sidewalk cafes of France, the balcony restaurants and tea rooms of the tropics, where life is perpetually moving by, adding much to the meal and the te-te-a-tete that goes with the hour for tea.

Even if umbrellas and awnings were necessitated for protection, Mr. Ohrt added, America should have outdoor cafes in order to let people enjoy the beauty of her scenery during the little time they steal from business.

In his talk here tomorrow he will bring to Medford folk a more vivid picture of the countries and the peoples he has known and studied, ranging in location from Switzerland, where he edited a newspaper, to South Africa, where he played and forgot what he could of war.

Tickets for the lecture, which will begin at 2 o'clock, will be on sale at the hotel and those who wish to obtain them in advance may do so by calling Mrs. Harry Prentice and Mrs. Frederick Johnson. An added feature of the program will be musical numbers by Miss Dorothy Reynolds, well known local pianist.

To Wed Chaplin? No, She Says; Paulett's Going to Tahiti

She may have been seen with Charlie Chaplin in public numerous times and he did kiss her when she left the coast for New York, but Paulett Goddard says they're not engaged. The two are shown here as they appeared together at a Hollywood premiere.

NEW YORK (AP)—Paulett Goddard, young platinum blond of the film, is a bit weary, and why not? It's all because of the hullabaloo that surrounded her when she reached New York from the coast with a kiss of Charlie Chaplin still fresh on her lips.

So now she says she plans to go to Tahiti where perhaps she thinks no reporters will bother her asking if it's true she's engaged to the film comedian.

Miss Goddard denies reports of the betrothal and says she's rather tired of being cross-examined with all the intensity of a defendant on the witness stand. First she refused to confirm the engagement report. When the inquisitors persisted, "Will you deny it, then?" she weakened and said "Yes."

Chaplin had kissed her goodbye at a west coast airport when she left for New York, home and mother.

"There's nothing to a Hollywood kiss," Miss Goddard said upon her arrival here. However, she kept the news quiet for a couple of days with the coy retort, "One simply doesn't discuss such things." Meaning engagements.

In Tahiti Miss Goddard plans to let her hair grow out of its bob and let the platinum wear away from her naturally chestnut locks. She also will study English diction during her two or three months there.

Thus changed and tutored, she will return to Hollywood, where she is under contract to continue her picture work for Samuel Goldwyn.

Mesdames Irvine and Holman Greeted

Several events were arranged here to their entertainment.

Amaizo syrup is more nourishing, more appetizing and more economical than many other brands of syrup, according to the claim of the American Maize-Products company. It is also accepted by the American Medical association for babies' milk.

All officers, team captains and workers in the Southern Oregon branch of the Civic Music association are urged to be at the senior high school on South Oakdale this evening at 7:45 o'clock for a special meeting called by Wm. F. Isaacs, president of the local association. Preliminary plans for enrollment week, which will open with a banquet at the Hotel Medford Monday evening, October 3, will be made tonight.

It is important that all workers attend, Mr. Isaacs stated this morning. Arthur W. Manuel, Pacific coast representative of the Chicago Concert service, will be present to meet the workers tonight. He arrived in Medford several days ago and stated this morning that he has never encountered so much co-operation as he has found in Medford and is very favorably impressed with this city's appreciation of good music.
