Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS
ATTENDANCE at the state fair this year, we read in the papers, is good, averaging up with other years. The Pendleton Round-up was well attended. And the Lakeview Round-up established a new record.

People seem to go to see what they want to see in bad years as well as good.

HERE is a story told to this writer the other day by a man who was in the grocery business back in the Middle West in the depression of the early nineties:

"The circus came to our town that year, and on the day before it was due a man whom I'd been carrying on my books for all his groceries for nearly a year, came in and bought a sack of flour, charging it as usual. 'I learned later that he sold the flour for cash and used the cash to buy circus tickets.'"

AND HERE is an incident that occurred right here in Oregon within the past month:

The Red Cross organization in one of our own Southern Oregon communities had been carrying along a destitute family for some time, and finally got an opportunity to place this family on a homestead.

The first thing the head of this family did after getting placed on his new homestead was to hire a crew of men to cut his winter's wood!

IT TAKES all kinds of people to make a world, and some of these people are sadly lacking in judgment. Others are actually lazy. Many are shiftless.

But DON'T get the idea that all, or even a considerable part, of the people who are receiving help in these difficult times are unworthy. That isn't true.

It is this writer's belief that the greater part of those who are receiving help in this community are worthy people, who are out of work through no fault of their own, and who would much rather work for what they get. If work were obtainable, than to receive outright assistance.

THERE are exceptions, of course. No one who gets around much can fail to believe that these depression years are building up a class of itinerants, who fit from place to place, secure in the knowledge that they will be taken care of somehow, and greatly preferring this happy-go-lucky existence to the "work for what you get" condition that exists in normal times.

These itinerants will probably be sorry to see prosperity return, for it will mean that they will have to go back to work. But these good-for-nothings make up only a very small part of the needy population.

They are just a part of the bad that we always have to take along with the good in this life.

A LITTLE way back in these rambling remarks, the opinion was ventured that this year, as in other years, people seem to be going to see what they want to see.

You may be interested to know that they are still going to see the walkathon mentioned in these chronicles a few weeks ago—going in shoals, packing cars in around the dance hall in which it is being held so tightly that parking space is at a distinct premium; paying good money to sit on a hard bench and watch a few tired, dragged out couples, who have been going for weeks on eleven minutes sleep out of each hour, stagger around the little arena in the center of the benches.

40 LOSE LIVES AS CLOUDBURST HITS TEHACHAPI PASS

Twelve Bodies Recovered—Deluge Wrecks Trains—Nine Bridges Washed Out—Six Towns Flooded.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Twelve bodies had been recovered tonight in the mountainous Tehachapi pass region where upwards of 40 persons are believed to have perished in last night's cloudburst.

The deluge overflowed canyons and streams, wrecked two freight trains at Woodford, hurled a 45-foot wall of water down the pass, tore up hundreds of yards of railroad track, washed out at least nine bridges and flooded at least half a dozen villages.

The bodies were taken from the wreckage of a Southern Pacific freight train, six cars and the locomotive of which fell through a trestle at Woodford. The victims are believed to have been itinerant men and boys riding the train. As many as 60 were reported to have been on it.

Bodies Seen in Water
 Other bodies were visible in the water and highway patrol officials estimated that possibly 30 plunged to their deaths.

Other persons are reported dead include A. H. Ross of Bakersfield, brakeman of the wrecked train.

Other others are the Peter Kaad family of four at Woodford; Mrs. Nell Cooper, telegraph operator at Callente and a two-year old niece; three patients at the Kern county tuberculosis hospital; and two unidentified men.

Communication Cut
 The body of one of the two Kaad sons, Peter Jr., was recovered today. It was the only one identified.

Reports available here indicated that possibly seven villages were flooded—Woodford, Arvin, Mojave, Caliente, Monolith, Keene, and Tehachapi—with loss of life being confined, as far as known to Woodford, Keene and Caliente.

Harry W. McKee, United Air Lines pilot, arriving at United airport, Burbank, reported that Tehachapi seemed to have been inundated. He flew over the village enroute from San Francisco.

Fichtner and Glinesky played their usual games, line-crushing and end-runs being their specialties, and were the Tiger's chief ground gainers. Two second string men took the opportunity to build up the reputation they gained last week against Weed, Ghelardi, light quarter, made a sensational return of a punt from Scheel to run 55 yards, across the goal-line. Scheel appeared in his old backfield berth but was hurt during the latter part of the game, whether he will be back in play soon is not known.

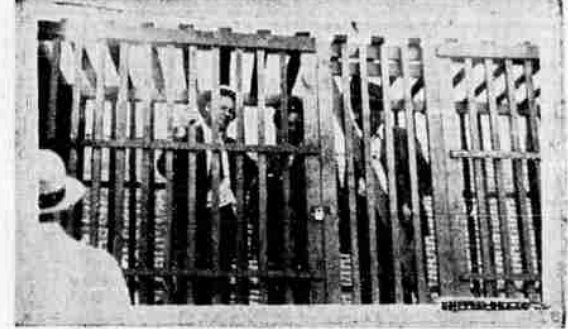

The Medford men played practically unchallenged and fought most of the game in Yreka territory. Fichtner made the first score soon after the opening and from then on the locals scored steadily, even with the second and third strings in. Fichtner was high point man, scoring three times.

The line-ups were:
 Medford (5) Yreka (6)
 Rae E. Hoising
 Bennett E. Zarotta
 Shaw T. Lange
 Minear T. West
 Geim G. D. Favero
 Greaves G. McCoy
 Latham G. Sawyer
 Glinesky QB Smith
 White HB Brazil
 Knips HB J. Favero
 Fichtner FB Bresolin

Substitutions for Medford: Lindsey, Scheel, Kindred, Kinnman, Ghelardi, Thurman, Knox, Baker, Prentice, Brown, Grove, Lewis, Sled, and third team.

Substitutions for Yreka: Temple, Kenney, Jones, Calkins, McBain, Jorgenson, Philip, Brown, Hunt, B. Favero.

Whiskers Or Jail in Yreka

It's gold rush time in Yreka, Calif., and all the town males whose chins are not adorned with "curtains," or old-fashioned whiskers, are being arrested, as shown above. These culprits are, left to right: William "Bill" Kleaver, rural supervisor of schools; Sheriff A. S. Calkins, and Police Chief Charles Dorsett. They're waiting for the judge, charged with falling to observe Mayor Al Herzog's whiskers proclamation. The gold rush, sponsored by the Yreka Miners, starts October 7.

GATES TO LEAVE MUD HURLING IN HANDS OF FOES

C. E. (Pop) Gates, independent candidate for county judge, by nominating petitions signed by 1100 residents of Jackson county, addressed the Table Rock Community club, at the Table Rock school house Friday night. The significant feature of Gates' address was that "I will conduct my campaign for this office, I did not seek, without indulging in personalities, and there will be no mudslinging on my part. My platform is harmony and normalcy, and economy consistent with good business."

The speaker declared that the county was "lorn with needless dissension that is costing money," and "the sooner we get back to a neighborly basis, the better for all of us."

At the conclusion of Gates' address, M. O. Wilkins of Ashland, independent candidate for district attorney, who was in the audience was asked to speak. He said he had "come to see how an old-line Republican could run on an independent ticket," and said he too was an "old line Republican."

Wilkins said something about Andrew Jackson, and the criminal laws having teeth, and would like to address the Community club when he had more time. Attorney Wilkins said he was also for "harmony in the county."

At the conclusion of Attorney Wilkins' short remarks, Mrs. Nellie Angie, chairman of the committee, said: "I am a sister of William Briggs, Republican candidate for district attorney. I want to say that my brother has done nothing to be ashamed of, and does nothing to apologize for." Attorney Briggs was unable to accept an invitation to speak at the meeting.

Marion Nealon of Table Rock then suggested to the meeting that "just for the sake of curiosity we have a straw vote on the presidency."

The result of the balloting was:
 Hoover 9
 Roosevelt 7
 Undecided 7
 Norman Thomas 1

When the count was announced Mr. Nealon said "that's just what I thought. She's a horse race."

Before the main speech by Gates, there was an election of officers, and "Pop" also explained the measures on the November ballot.

Gates told the audience, which was composed of more women than men, that "Jackson county needs to get back to the reputation she once had for peace and harmony, and quit fighting among ourselves about nothing. The bickering is getting us no place, and they're laughing about it upstate."

The speaker stressed his declaration that he was going to "engage in personalities, but will make said to me on my qualifications, as you see them. If I lose, there will be no hard feelings on my part. If I win, I will do my very best."

Gates declared that "what Oregon needs is more people to help share the tax burden, but people will not come as long as community bitterness prevails, to the eclipse of everything." He further declared "that at per cent of the land in Jackson county bore the tax burden, with 65 per cent of the land off the tax rolls, and this should be changed."

Gates' plea for normalcy and peace in the county was well received. He said he intended to speak in every school house in the county during the month of October.

Charles H. Powell, resident of Appleton where he is well known in mining circles, having followed this occupation for more than 50 years and for the last seven years, has mined at Jackson county, passed away at a local hospital at 2:30 p. m. Friday following a brief illness.

Mr. Powell was born in Illinois June 3, 1852, and was 80 years of age. He leaves six children, they are, Charles J. Powell, Mrs. Fred Crabb, Mrs. Joseph Brown, Mrs. Sidney Crabb, Mrs. George Brown of Montana and George D. Powell of Medford.

RUTH AND GEHRIG EACH HOME TWO FOR 7-5 VICTORY

Long Range Barrage Blasts Cub Hopes in Third Game of World Series—Pipgras Pulled Out in Ninth Inning

Broadcast Today
 The fourth game of the world series between the Yankees and Cubs will start at 11:30 a. m. (P. S. T.) today and will be broadcast over KMEM by remote control from the Mail Tribune. The service will also be available for fans in front of the Tribune office over the public address system.

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig smashed out a pair of home runs apiece today to crush the Cubs for the third straight time, 7 to 5, and give Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and a capacity crowd of over 60,000 one of the greatest demonstrations of long distance hitting in world series history. Kid Cuyler and Gabby Hartnett hit homers for the Cubs in the thrilling battle, to the rescue of the faltering right hander, George Pipgras, in the ninth inning and checked the last gallant surge of the Bruins.

The total of six home runs for both clubs set a new series mark, one more than the record set by the Yankees alone in a game against the Cardinals in 1928. Ruth's pair boosted his own record total.

Dr. C. I. Drummond, county physician, told the association of the clinic for crippled and handicapped children to be held in the near future at the Alex Sparrow memorial clinic, and asked the aid of the association in locating children, who are most in need of this examination and care.

Mr. Whitehouse thanked the association for the suggestions and assured the membership that he would carry the suggestions back to his club.

Chieftain to Be Held
 Dr. C. I. Drummond, county physician, told the association of the clinic for crippled and handicapped children to be held in the near future at the Alex Sparrow memorial clinic, and asked the aid of the association in locating children, who are most in need of this examination and care.

Reports for Girl Scouts
 Mrs. E. R. Green as representative of the Girl Scouts, stated that her organization is one which is not without funds, but one which has carefully guarded its treasury, employing every possible economy and that the camp of the closing summer was the largest and best in the history of the local council.

Mrs. Edwina Weishaar, representing the Business and Professional Women's club, stated that her organization has volunteered to aid the projects of the relief council and that she was sure under the direction of Mrs. Reames, the members would find plenty of worthwhile work to do.

Mrs. Jack Heyland, from the Parent-Teacher association, described the hot lunches and other projects to be undertaken this year to add health and happiness to the school year for all children.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE WILL OPEN ON OCTOBER 24TH

Co-operation of All Groups Asked To Make Campaign Success—Need of Relief Funds Is Emphasized.

The annual drive of the Medford Community Chest will open the last week in October, it was announced Friday at the meeting of the Allied Welfare association at the Hotel Medford. And the cooperation of all groups is requested to make the drive a success this year, when funds for relief and character building are more needed than during any previous period.

The demands of this year's chest were emphasized at the Friday luncheon by John C. Mann, president of the Allied Welfare association, and by Hamilton Patton, who stressed the claim that more relief must come from public funds, and that character building must be maintained during times of stress.

Groups Tell Needs
 The luncheon hour Friday was filled with reports from representatives of the various organizations, who were asked by Mr. Mann to voice the needs of their groups.

Mrs. J. C. S. Wells, representing the Jackson County Public Health Association in the absence of Miss Mildred Carlton, president, stated that the health association is concentrating all effort this year in a program to finance the second county nurse. The county budget failed to provide for maintaining her, so the health association has taken over the project.

Information had previously been received that horticultural interests of the state were not represented on the directorate of the new organization, designed to facilitate the making of reconstruction finance corporation loans for crop production, and it was the belief of the organizations represented at Friday's meeting that this important industry should be fully represented, particularly since this district will undoubtedly make application for loans under the Portland branch Agricultural Credit corporation, for the purposes of crop production in 1933.

The Portland branch agricultural credit corporation is being organized under the provisions of the reconstruction finance act, to facilitate loans for production, and its board of directors is appointive and will have jurisdiction over the granting of crop loans. Local business leaders and growers feel that it is important to have horticulture represented on this board for the purpose of safeguarding the interests of this industry.

Hood River interests, it was associated yesterday, will concur with the local groups in recommending Colonel Voorhies, who is a well-known fruit grower of this district, with ample banking and business experience to fully qualify for a position on the board, was the opinion expressed at the committee session.

Pairings for today's play in the service club tournament at the Rogue River Valley Golf course were announced yesterday by Jack Hueston, professional, and include:
 First flight—Dr. B. L. Lagerson vs. C. J. Semon at 9 o'clock.
 Second flight—O. C. Boggs vs. J. Verne Shangle at 9:30.
 Third flight—Dr. S. R. Dippel vs. A. S. Rosenbaum, on last nine at 9 o'clock.

 Kiwanis—O. C. Boggs, A. F. West, A. S. Rosenbaum, C. C. Lemmon and C. M. Kidd.

Each club will be represented by a team of four to be chosen from the men listed.

The presentation of prizes will follow immediately after the matches. The teams will start at 9:30 and everyone, planning to participate in the tournament is urged to be on time.

Starting today and running through to Saturday, golfers will qualify for the P. A. T. trophy with 32 to qualify on net score. The first matches will start today and the men will have until Saturday night, October 8, to qualify.

BOOST VOORHIES FOR DIRECTOR IN FARM LOAN BANK

Recommendations for the appointment of Col. Gordon Voorhies of Medford on the board of directors of the Portland branch Agricultural Credit corporation, now in the process of formation, were forwarded to the authorities in charge of the appointment by the agricultural finance committee of the Medford chamber of commerce Friday evening, following a meeting at which representatives of the chamber, the Fruit-growers League, and the Traffic association were present, according to J. C. Thompson, chairman of the committee.

Information had previously been received that horticultural interests of the state were not represented on the directorate of the new organization, designed to facilitate the making of reconstruction finance corporation loans for crop production, and it was the belief of the organizations represented at Friday's meeting that this important industry should be fully represented, particularly since this district will undoubtedly make application for loans under the Portland branch Agricultural Credit corporation, for the purposes of crop production in 1933.

OREGON UPSETS DOPE WITH 7-0 WIN O'ER BRONCS

Callison Crew Balked Twice By Gun With Ball In Scoring Territory—Stanford Tramples O. S. C. 27-0.

By Clayton V. Bernhard
 (Associated Press Staff Writer)
HAYWARD FIELD, Eugene, Ore., Oct. 1.—(AP)—A powerful and smart University of Oregon football team today rode "Clipper" Smith's Bronchos successfully, by a score of 7 to 0, in a contest which was all Oregon's from the opening gun.

Santa Clara threatened the Websters goal but once in the last quarter when a pass from the 28 yard line was completed behind the backfield line.

So powerful did Oregon's line prove that Santa Clara made but four first downs to 13 for Prink Callison's lemon yellow squad. Complete yardage also told the story with 267 against 109. The gun closing the two half periods saved two more sure-looking touchdowns, one from the nine yard line and the other from the four yard line.

Gagnon Blocks Kick
 A blocked kick by Gagnon, Oregon guard, brought the more than six thousand fans to their feet. The ball stopped on the Santa Clara one-yard line, rolling out of bounds there with but a minute to play. An offside penalty cost Oregon five yards and the game ended after one line plunge from this point.

Koska, playing right half for Oregon, starred in the feature plays, making several long runs for important gains. Mikulak, powerful full back, backed up the line, while the entire backfield was effective in checking. Sobers on his passes and runs outside "Diamond Joe" Paglia in today's game.

Prink Callison's introduction to coast football upset the dope when his eleven made such an outstanding showing against the team which held the California Bear's scoreless last week while putting over two touchdowns. He takes his team to Portland next week to tackle the Washington Huskies.

Oregon's score came in the start of the second period when Koska took the ball through right tackle to Santa Clara's 8-yard line, a run of 37 yards. Following straight football tactics throughout, Oregon took the ball to the three yard line on the third down. Mikulak doing the plunging. Koska on the last down took the ball around his own left end for the score. Geiscke, substituted by Callison to do the kicking, converted.

WILL ROGERS says:
 BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Oct. 1.—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig chased both candidates and all their accomplices right off all the pages again Thursday.

See there is some chance of going back to 2 cents postage. Every time we get a good law, we change it. The post office loses millions a year just because the politicians are afraid to charge a voter as much as it costs to carry all the unnecessary letters and folders and junk that goes through the mail.

There ought to be a law that the post office could open a letter and if it's important it should be sent for nothing, and if it's like 99 per cent of the letters that everybody gets the postage should be a dollar and not a necessity.
