AUSTRALIAN FRUIT CHIEF IMPRESSED BY SYSTEM HERE

C. G. Savage, R. D. A. director of fruit culture in the department of agriculture, Sydney, New South Wales is spending today in Medford conferring with W. W. Aldrich of the federal experiment farm, and visiting the orchards and packing plants. Mr. Savage is making a journey through the western states, having been in the United States about eight weeks. He said that he had been particularly impressed by the well organized co-operation of the fruit-growers in this area. The establishment of standard packs for various fruits proved of interest to him, and he expressed the belief that the Australian growers could profit by such a practice.

There has been an especially big citrus crop in that country this year, Mr. Savage said, "but due to the decreased purchasing power of the people, the growers are not making a profit."

Most of Australia's apples and pears are shipped to Great Britain, and for this reason he was particularly interested in the shipping methods employed by Rogue River valley growers.

Mr. Savage will not have time to visit Crater Lake, as "boats won't wait for people," nor will he have an opportunity to visit the agricultural college at Corvallis. Mr. Savage is continuing his journey north tonight en route to the apple district in the Wenatchee and Yakima valleys.

BUDGET DRAFTERS NAMED THIS WEEK

Selection of a budget committee for the coming year, will be made by the county court Wednesday, and will, in all probability, be composed of Ben E. Harder, president of the First National bank, who served as chairman last year; Dr. George A. Deane, orchardist of the Central Point-West Side district, and either Henry Zanders or Louis Dodge, Ashland merchants.

Dodge has been requested to serve on the budget committee, but has requested a couple of days to "think it over." Enders served on the committee a portion of the last year, when W. H. McNair of Ashland was compelled to retire because of business reasons.

It is understood that both Harder and Dr. Deane have signified their willingness. Harder was chairman last year and is well acquainted with all phases of Jackson county finances and needs. Dr. Deane is an orchardist with a wide knowledge of farm and orchard conditions.

The budget committee is composed of the county court, the county clerk, who acts as secretary, and the budget committee.

The first session of the budget committee is scheduled for the middle of the month. Under the law the budget must be completed by early in December.

REGISTRATION TO END OCTOBER 8TH

The registration books for the general election Tuesday, November 8, will close next Saturday, October 8. A heavy rush of voters is expected the coming week by the county clerk's office. Close to 250 new registrations have been made the past three days. At present the Republicans have a lead, with a gradual increase in the number of Democrats. The independent registrations show a decrease during the spring primary. Under the Oregon law, only those registered can vote, and no votes can be sworn in on election day.

An increase is expected in the Evans Creek, Talent and Wagner Creek districts. There are a number of "squatters" in these precincts, who have settled there the past summer.

Initial Hi-Times Rates Praise For Hi School Staff

The first issue of the Medford Hi-Times, the official paper of the Associated Students of the Medford high school, was issued Friday, is one of the neatest and best edited editions ever issued by the students, and is a credit to Bill Cummings, the editor, Noel Benson, manager, and the other members of the staff, as well as to the schools.

The paper is four pages, eight columns to the page, has an artistic makeup, contains many columns of interesting news, not only for the students and faculty but for the public in general. There were 1400 copies of the initial number.

The merchants of Medford enthusiastically showed their support of the schools and the students' paper by their liberal advertising, for which John Wilkinson, advertising manager, and his staff are truly thankful.

The Hi-Times surely has a bright future for this school year. The entire staff is as follows: Editor, Bill Cummings; Manager, Noel Benson; Advertising manager, John Wilkinson; Advertising staff: John Snider, Bob Hinman, LaMorie Beck, Tom Green, Cleo Hicks.

DENY KANE CREEK MURDER REPORT

State and county authorities, and citizens of Gold Hill, today placed no credence whatever in the published rumor that a man had been killed on Kane's Creek, in the north end of the county some time last week. F. McNamee of the Gold Hill district was named as the person who brought the report to this city.

Coroner H. W. Conger today branded the report as "a hoax and nothing to it." He said he had been unable to find the slightest confirmation.

The state police investigation also netted no leads, but they were checking further today in an effort to discover what grounds, if any there were, for the report being circulated. The sheriff's office was equally in the dark.

Justice of the Peace H. D. Reed of Gold Hill, said he had not heard the rumor on the streets of that city, and accented it as "another wild story."

He said if there was any truth in the report, it would have been known in a very short time. He said he knew a man by the name of McNamee.

Marlene Dietrich In Craterian Hit

Marlene Dietrich in "Blonde Venus" which opened its three-day run at the Craterian theater yesterday, emerges triumphant in a role marked by recurrent flashes of pure acting genius. The star of "Shanghai Express," "Morocco," "Dishonored," again proves her claim to outstanding distinction in the motion realm.

"Blonde Venus," like Miss Dietrich's previous pictures, is filled with the inspiration of Josef von Sternberg, who has here taken a gripping and human character and theme and woven them into magic panorama of human love and hate. This picture gives Dietrich two important assets, a real down-to-earth story and a character to portray that is worthy of her talent. Herbert Marshall and Cary Grant give excellent support.

Selected by Dickie Moore, Without Dietrich, "Blonde Venus" would be a picture to regret missing, with Dietrich's marvelous performance, it's one of the screen achievements you must see.

ATTENTION! Citizens Of Medford and Southern Oregon! Do You Want THIS To Happen In Your Town? Here's What An Article In The Eugene Morning News Says:

Resentment against methods assertedly used by the Fox-West Coast Theatres to ENFORCE CLOSING of the Hellig theatre was voiced last night at a meeting of the merchants... Speakers pointed out that by contracting for the entire first and second run pictures of eight major companies the firm signs for... more pictures than can be shown in their two Eugene theatres under their present schedules. This means... that the remaining are NOT USED BUT SHUT OFF FROM NON-CIRCUIT THEATRES. THE HELLIG WAS CLOSED for this lack of pictures, and not for financial reasons, it was declared. The building is said leased until 1942. Legal action against the Fox chain is being undertaken in larger cities on a basis of trade restraint, the merchants said.

WORK ON HIGHWAY REROUTING NEEDED FOR UNEMPLOYED

Present Route Voted. The main object now is to have the funds expended on the present route, instead of the new survey, which is nearing completion. The state highway and federal road bureau hold the present route does not meet with government requirements, and that no change in the original program will be made.

Commissioner Bursell said today that any change would not be sanctioned, and that the letter was sent to Governor Miller when the route change opponents sent an epistle.

County Judge C. B. Iamkin said that the opposition was largely confined to service station operators and land owners.

Under the road program, the present road would be retained as a market road.

The state highway commission has given assurances that the money will be expended in Jackson county, but are taking no chances that "tax agitation" will divert the badly needed funds and work to the north end of the state.

The state highway commission is expected to make a final decision in the matter either Wednesday or Thursday.

No More Piles

How to End Painful Piles Without Salves or Cutting. It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonard's prescription—HEM-ROID—to prove how easy it is to end itching, bleeding or protruding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts and drives out the thick impure blood in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and suppositories fail. Jarman & Woods and drug stores everywhere sell HEM-ROID Tablets with guarantee of money back if they do not end all Pile misery.
