

SOUTHERN OREGON MUST FIGHT HARD TO SAVE NORMAL

While some indications are that the fight against the Zorn-McPherson school juggling bill, which would mean the immediate conversion of the Southern Oregon Normal School into a junior college—with the junior college abandoned entirely within a short time, in our firm opinion—has been very favorable so far, a careful check of conditions in Portland and in other parts of the state show clearly that we of southern Oregon, who feel a pride in the splendid accomplishments of Southern Oregon Normal School, must not go to sleep, but must continue unabated our campaign to defeat this measure as emphatically as possible. G. M. Green, chairman of the SAVE S. O. N. S. association of Ashland stated upon his return from Portland, where he conferred with those interested in the fight against the bill.

"Southern Oregon Normal has given the advantages of efficient two-year teacher training to more than 300 prospective students each year since its organization at a minimum cost of about $350 a year. If the normal school is moved to Eugene, these 300 prospective teachers would have to go to Eugene, where cold statistics prove that the minimum cost is approximately $570 a year. This alone would be an increase in cost of approximately $22,000 if the same number of Southern Oregon students were to the Eugene teacher school as come to Ashland now," Mr. Green continued.

"It is our opinion that there would be a much smaller number of southern Oregon youth take advantage of the teacher training if it is removed from southern Oregon. We maintain, without compromise that statistics disprove any claim that the enrollment of junior college students under the proposed arrangement would be any more at the Ashland school than at present—approximately 60 a year. Two schools in the northern part of the state, with the vast center of population to attract enrollment—never had more than an average of 60 junior college enrollment—and had to abandon the junior college plan, one becoming a college and the other a clerical school. The same would happen here, with the ultimate abandonment of the school entirely at Ashland, with the heavy loss to southern Oregon, both in educational opportunity and in the income that Southern Oregon Normal school is to Ashland and Medford today," Mr. Green continued.

It was emphasized by Mr. Green that the next several weeks are the critical ones in the campaign of the Save S. O. N. S. association. Proponents of the bill have not as yet disclosed the real nature of their campaign and "friends of Southern Oregon Normal must continue to the very last minute before election to give their whole-hearted support to the Save S. O. N. S. association, which is fighting for the retention of Southern Oregon Normal and to maintain the present high standard of the entire state educational system, which is in jeopardy," Mr. Green added.

ADDED TAX CLAIM IN ROAD PROJECT IS SMOKE SCREEN

deep. The road work would mean that the cement plant of the Beaver-Portland company at Gold Hill would operate steadily throughout the winter and spring, with a steady payroll of between 150 and 200 men. The plant has been operating spasmodically the past two years, and is the main source of employment for many families of the district. Manager W. H. (Moose) Multhead has stated that the winter operation of the plant depended upon the road work being started.

"It is just a question, whether our own people have work or not," said Commissioner Victor Bursell. "It has been explained time and time again, that the taxes will not be raised or lowered one cent by Jackson county using the funds for the aid of its jobless. The tax talk is just a smoke screen sent out to deceive with half-truths. If Jackson county don't take the money, Multnomah county will, and they want it. All this ranting has left a false impression in some quarters upstate, but the governor and state highway commission understand the local situation and will act accordingly. Our people need the work, and it will take a heavy charity burden off the shoulders of the county and citizens. I don't believe we should starve and the rest of the state benefit by our needless agitation and propaganda."

Commissioner John Barneburg and County Judge C. B. Lamkin concurred in the views of Commissioner Bursell. Business men of the county generally felt that the expending of $450,000 of federal funds in southern Oregon, would tone up conditions by increasing the buying powers of the county and benefit country merchants who have for months been extending credit to worthy workers, in their bills when employment was provided. Labor and new money were held vital to lessening unhappy conditions the coming winter.

STIMSON SPEECH ROUSES JAPANESE

TOKYO, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Japanese newspapers quoted a spokesman for the foreign office today as saying Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson's speech at Philadelphia last Saturday, in which he recounted the high spots of the foreign relations record of President Hoover's administration, was a menace to the good relations between Japan and the United States.

By again "speaking against Japan," the spokesman was quoted as saying, Mr. Stimson offered further provocation, which was described as "a serious matter."

The Japanese saw a close connection, he said, between Mr. Stimson's speech, the publication of the Lytton report as Geneva Sunday, inferentially condemning Japan's military activities in Manchuria, and continued concentration of the United States navy in the Pacific.

REGISTRATION BY PARTIES HOLDING NEAR EVEN TOTAL

Up to and including October 1, new registrations in Jackson county for the general election November 8 total 546, divided by party, are as follows:

Republicans	255
Democrats	252
Miscellaneous	39

The above figures do not include who either moved from the county, changed precincts or political faiths since the primary. More than 100 Republicans who were "mad at Hoover" in the spring and went Democratic, have recovered their political poise and returned to the G. O. P. fold.

The county clerk reports that many of the new Democratic registrations are newcomers and that Oklahoma is the favorite native state, with Texas a close second.

The registration by party for the county now is:

Republican	11,450
Democrats	5,845
Miscellaneous	369

The registration by party for the county is now 17,207, the largest in the history of the county. It is expected to pass the 18,000 mark when the registrations are closed next Saturday.

The balance of this week is expected to see a rush of voters to register. All must be registered to vote. Voters who have changed their precincts since the primary, those who have been in the state but six months and county thirty days, and voters who have reached their majority are required to register.

Oregon Onions Going To China

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Oregon onions for China continue to go in increasing volume as prevailing low prices continue and brokers talk additional supplies. In addition to the supplies recently reported sold to Hongkong by one operator, H. I. Anderson, prominent onion shipper, today reported the sale of an even greater volume. The Philippines, too, are purchasing Oregon onions, four carloads having recently been shipped to Manila.

Henry Jones Wins From Barrackman

SALEM, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Henry Jones of Provo, Utah, took two out of three falls from Mervin Barrackman of Seattle, in their wrestling match here last night. In the preliminary, Jack Brenano of McMinnville won the odd fall from Prof. Newton of Oregon City. All the contestants were welterweights.

These tiny tender leaves of "spicy" Turkish tobaccos —and just enough of them!

Turkish tobacco sometimes runs hundreds of little leaves to the pound. In cigarettes it is used much as seasoning is in food, for flavor and better taste.

You know that seasoning has to be used right... just enough of it, not too much.

Chesterfield puts in just the right amount of Turkish tobacco—the best kinds—Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun. These are not merely blended, but cross-blended with ripe, mellow Domestic tobaccos.

Enough Turkish, not too much—that's one reason why Chesterfields taste better—why they have a delicacy of aroma you do not find in other cigarettes.
