George Washington may have chopped down the cherry tree and never told a lie, but he never had a fresh fruit cherry pie at this time of the year.
Tomorrow your favorite grocer and our retail store will sell cherry pies made from fresh fruit preserved by the new frozen process which preserves the fruit in exactly the same state that it came from the orchard.
The fruit is not treated with chemicals, nor cooked, steamed or boiled. It merely is laid away in a sub-zero temperature and delivered to our bakery as we use it.
Don't miss trying this wonderful pie special. The price too, is exceptionally low.
19c each
This is an introductory price only. Regular prices will prevail after Saturday.

JOINT MISSIONARY CONVENTION HERE ATTENDED BY 100
Missionary workers of the Methodist Episcopal church, numbering approximately 100, are meeting in the city today for the joint annual convention of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the Cascade district.
The convention opened at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Miss Helen Carleton, president of the Home Missionary society, presiding.
The leading address of the morning session was given by Mrs. Paul Edwards of Portland, conference worker of the Foreign society. Reports were given by the various officers and luncheon served at noon in the church parlors.
The afternoon session opened with song service, after which Rev. Alexander G. Bennett, pastor of the local church, offered prayer.
Rev. Bennett also addressed the missionary workers this afternoon. Another speaker on the afternoon's program was Mrs. R. L. Reed of Portland, conference worker of the Home society. The program is continuing thru this afternoon with other addresses by prominent missionary workers.
At 4:30 o'clock the guests will motor to the home of Miss Carleton on the Old Stage road for tea.
A dinner will be served at the church at 6 o'clock and the evening's program will be resumed at 7:30 o'clock.
Others attending the convention, who will appear on the program, are: Ruth Field of India, Miss Mary Young of Korea, Mrs. D. J. Maple and Miss Keech, superintendent of the Manley center, and Mrs. J. J. Oender, who will speak on Alaska.
Miss Carleton will be assisted as hostess at tea this afternoon by Mrs. A. J. Geddes of Roseburg, president for this district of the Women's Foreign Missionary society.

Chandu On Craterian Screen
Edmund Lowe, in the title role of "Chandu, the Magician," radio's favorite entertainment, is appearing in the screen version of the famous mystery drama which opened its two-day engagement at the Craterian theater today.
Two splendid actors, with many achievements to their credit, Lowe and Lugosi create a pair of real-life characters entirely in keeping with the personalities of the original radio aerial upon which the stirring drama is based.
Through special arrangements with the White King Soap company, every adult attending the Craterian during the showing of "Chandu" will receive a gift, also the first 150 children attending the matinee Saturday will receive absolutely free a "Chandu" magic cone.

Tom Mix in Holly Thriller
"Rider of Death Valley," which opens at the Holly theater today, has thrills galore for all who enjoy the out-of-door drama. Tom Mix, premiere of all "western stars," is the principal character and his wonder horse, "Tony," assists him usual. The short subject program includes a John P. Medbury subject, a cartoon and news.
Melodrama is the spice of life to the theatre. In "The Last Ride," which comes to the Holly theatre Saturday, there is an example of melodramatic acting and story telling which guarantees a thrill a minute. The picture presents a striking situation in the underworld, which is as much a surprise to the audience as it is to the characters of the drama.
Mr. Talent Better—At the Sacred Heart hospital this afternoon, Charles B. Talent was reported as getting along nicely. He underwent a major operation early this week.

Catarrhal Deafness Can Be Relieved
Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness or head noises due to catarrh will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected relief after other treatments have failed.
Secure from Jarmin & Woods or your druggist one ounce of Parmitin (Double strength). Take this home and add 1/2 pint hot water and 1/2 lb. sugar. A tablespoonful four times a day should stop distressing catarrhal head noises, improve hearing, make breathing easier and dry up mucous discharge. All catarrh sufferers need Parmitin.

KLAMATH LIQUOR CASE TO JURORS THIS AFTERNOON
Instructions to the federal court jury, hearing the trial of Pat Hogue and Jerry Marcus of Klamath Falls and three youths, charged with conspiracy in the sale of liquor in that city, were given this afternoon by Federal Judge Aiger Fee, with the convening of court. Closing arguments were completed shortly before noon.
Hogue, a taxi operator of Klamath Falls, and Jerry Marcus, alleged by the government, to be his "right hand man," are charged by the government with entering into a liquor sale conspiracy, and having used three taxicab drivers, of high school age as dupes in the traffic. The sale of the liquor was admitted by three of the defendants. Marcus and Hogue denied the existence of any conspiracy. The chief evidence against them is report of conversations, overheard by, and with federal prohibition investigators.
Testimony of the special dry agents showed that liquor was purchased through Marcus, who effected delivery by calling the taxi line operated by Hogue, and having one of the drivers make delivery. Hogue denied he rented the house used as a base of supplies, but that he paid for the telephone used in filling orders for liquor.
Hogue in his own defense, claimed that he was at Lake of the Woods last August on the day that the gov-
