These things have made Mr. Roose-velt much more of a figure in the campaign than he was when he left Albany. They have marked his real advent to party leadership on a na-tional scale, and in that sense they have moved the struggle for the marked they dency along to new ground.

A Coincidence.

From the standpoint of political generalship, the coincidence of the Maine election with the start of the governor's western trip is most into figure out a complete revision of campaign plans.

Whether foreseen or not, the result has been that exactly at the time of this Republican reforming of lines, the Democrats have been under continued attinuing to hold their own lines against the new attack. Daily the partys nomines has had a major place in the news, and repeatedly his words have been carried to the far corners of the country, exhorting to battle.

No "Radicalism" Charge.
It is no secret that some Republican strategists, at least, have been surprised by the Roosevelt western of friends. She left Tuesday for Washington to vist relatives.
