

BUTTER STORAGE WITHDRAWALS IS MARKET FEATURE

PORTLAND, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Extensive withdrawals from cold storage in practically every leading marketing center of the country is the chief factor in the market for butter at this period. Withdrawals everywhere are reaching record volume with an apparent desire on the part of speculative interests to get what little profit is now in sight.

Noticeable in the local trade is the fact that the late advance of 1c on extra and 1/2c on prime first cubes, is not being generally maintained, only in spots.

Trading in the egg market continues generally of firm character here with no changes suggested in the price list. Receipts of fresh stock continue to decrease.

Attempt of big killers here to keep down the buying price on lightweight hens to 7c lb. compared with 14-14 1/2c ruling at San Francisco, has proven a failure and 8c is now being freely offered, with 10c for medium.

Market for dressed turkeys continues rather quiet with practically no change in values. The change in weather is expected to stimulate the movement both to market and into consuming channels.

Sales of Yakima peaches have reached the lowest level ever known in Portland. An entire carload was sold to one operator at 10c box, with quality good. Another lot was sold to a dealer at 6c box, the transportation charge.

Market for country-killed lambs reflects increased strength here with late price advance generally maintained. Veal and hogs are unchanged at late declines.

Notes of wholesale trading: Pickling cucumbers are lower. Potato market is weak with some price shading at the source. Onion growers are less disposed to sell, but some movement is still shown. 30-35c with sacks furnished. Tomatoes are being sold 10-20c box with receipts the greatest in record. Cooler weather is aiding the sale of California artichokes.

PROF. ENGLEHARDT ORDERED TO JAIL FOR UNPAID FINE

An order of commitment against Prof. C. Englehardt, a well-known resident of the Eagle Point district, was placed in the hands of Sheriff Ralph Jennings this morning for service. Prof. Englehardt was convicted last March by a circuit court jury of assault upon John Demogolis a neighbor, as a climax of a long standing argument over loose stock and other matters. Prof. Englehardt was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 costs and allowed time to pay. Carl Stodier, a nephew of Prof. Englehardt, was granted a parole upon conviction on the same charge.

Prof. Englehardt, according to the county clerk's office, made a payment of $10 upon his fine. The district attorney's office stated that the action was taken as a matter of routine, and that Prof. Englehardt already had been extended more leniency than customary in cases of a similar nature. The filing of the commitment order has been held in abeyance for close to six months.

The case of Prof. Englehardt was heralded during the spring primary as one of "the breakdowns of law and order in Jackson county" cases. Following his conviction, Prof. Englehardt filed charges that two members of the jury were prejudiced against him.

Under the Oregon law, unless Prof. Englehardt pays the balance of his fine and costs, he is liable to jail sentence at the rate of $2 per day. Recently, Prof. Englehardt was authentically reported as a circulator of a recall petition against Circuit Judge H. D. Norton in the Applegate district.

NEW SILENCER FOR GIANT ITALIAN GUNS

NAPLES, Italy — (AP) — A device which greatly reduces sound and smoke in the discharge of artillery has been invented by two young Italian engineers and offered to the government. It can be attached to the muzzle of any field gun and in trials before war department officials it declared that the sound of the discharge carried only a few hundred yards. Only a light puff of smoke arose, quickly disappearing.

AUSTRALIA CONSIDERS CUTTING JURIES TO 9

MELBOURNE—(AP)—Jury panels, instead of consisting of "twelve good men and true" may be reduced to 9 in Victoria.

The minister for justice says such a reduction would result in a saving to government at a time when every economy must be practiced.

"Nine men would be as just as twelve," he declares. "There is no mystery about the figure twelve."
