By now, perhaps British sport men may be sorry that America ever brought up the subject of competi-tion for the Walker cup in amateur golf or the Harmsworth cup in speed-boas recip oat racing.

The jing pursuing British chalngers in these two affairs is among lengers in these two affairs is among the most persistent on record any-where. Seven straight times, in each contest, the British Lion has been beaten off until popular interest has reached the point of diminishing. Sympathy undoubtedly was with Kaye Don and his Miss England III
