

4-SQUARE CHURCH ENLARGES RELIEF TO CARE FOR ALL

The Foursquare Gospel Lighthouse today announced it would expand its relief activities and enlarge its staff until such time as organizations that had depended on funds from the Community Chest should be able to begin their relief work.

Dr. Estelle Jones, pastor, said her institution was prepared to handle all applications for family relief, meals, clothing and money and that the Lighthouse now is in a position to take care of all relief cases in Medford or in the nearby county. To meet the emergency, she said, the relief department would remain open day and night, new workers would be added to the home visitation department, and new supplies bought for the commissary.

The soup kitchen which the Lighthouse opened two weeks ago will be continued until such time as the Salvation Army or some other responsible organization obtains funds for such a work and soon this kitchen will open two hours earlier in the morning. The present opening hour is 8:30 a. m.

"We are now in such a strong position, owing to the kindness of many of Medford's leading business men and financial institutions, that we can take care of the entire relief work of this community indefinitely," Dr. Jones said. "For some time we have been performing virtually all the emergency relief work here and we opened our kitchen as a part of the operation. In the two weeks of operation it has been instrumental in inducing many of the transients who were hanging around town to leave.

"Our policy is to act first and ask questions afterwards, when people come to us for help. We do not believe that any ragged and hungry person is unworthy and we do not care what the morals or previous records of those applying to us for assistance may be, as far as giving them help they need is concerned. We do not believe in making charity a matter in which human beings are treated merely as names for card indexes and case records.

"Inasmuch as we finance ourselves we feel that what we do in the way of helping needy people is nobody's business but our own, and we are prepared to continue our work as long as the need exists.

"We do not contemplate any drive for funds. We are being helped by some citizens interested in our work and we are praying that this will continue.

"We will be open day and night and will turn away no one who comes to us for help. But we do not want to create the impression that we are easy marks. We have a woodpile and we also have a quick means of determining just what kind of aid we should grant. But we do not browbeat and insult people who ask us to help them."

Tonight at 7:15 o'clock Dr. Jones will discuss the charity and welfare program in an address over station KAMED during the weekly broadcast of her organization. She will voice her position on the proposed county welfare agency, she said.

The report of Dr. Jones' institution for September showed that 415 articles of clothing were given away, 64 boxes of wood distributed to Medford families, 44 pairs of shoes presented to persons applying for them, 200 gallons of milk given to Medford children and 43 meals furnished individuals applying at the Lighthouse. The soup kitchen opened October 1. Since its opening meals have been served to 219 persons.

FRATRICIDE FREED BY GRAND JURY

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Melvin Sorrell, formerly of Aberdeen, Wash., confessed slayer of his father, told grand jurors: "You will never have cause to regret what you have done," after they returned a not true bill late yesterday which freed him without trial.

The 19-year-old youth added that he would make good. Business men of Salem have offered help to the family and promised the young "breadwinner" employment.

Sorrell shot his father, Leon D. Sorrell, 45, the night of September 2 in front of the family residence here, he said, to put an end to cruelties and threats which had marred family life. Sorrell and all members of the family threatened said that the father had often threatened their lives and had been cruel to them.
