

NORMAL BENEFITS BY CHANGE OREGON COLLEGE CONTROL

The new system of higher education in Oregon is described as one University of the State of Oregon with units located at La Grande, Ashland, Corvallis, Eugene, Monmouth, and Portland. It is operated and controlled by the board of higher education, which is a department of the state government created by the state legislature in 1929 and is made up of nine members appointed by the governor. This board is assigned all the duties of the former boards of regents of the different institutions. This new board was given full authority beginning July 1, 1931, to conduct and revise each different school according to a program of higher educational development adapted to the needs of the state.

It was under this board that Dr. Kerr, former president of O. S. U., was appointed chancellor over all the institutions of higher learning in Oregon. Also Mr. Churchill, ex-head of S. O. N. S., was selected to fill the position of leader for the normal schools of this state.

A new feature of the state system is the extension of lower and upper divisions organization to the Corvallis campus as well as at Eugene, where this plan has been in constant operation for a great many years. This new plan has the effect of establishing junior college rights on both campuses.

As the Southern Oregon Normal school local students who do not intend to become teachers, will be admitted, at least for the present, along with the regular normal school students. The reason for making this concession is to distribute the benefits of general college studies which are fundamentals in the teaching curriculum, are able to secure lower division credits which may be used at either Eugene or Corvallis. It is due to this concession that the attendance at S. O. N. S. has been increased a great deal.

GIRL SCOUTS MOVE TO CLIP EXPENSES

In order to accomplish an important economy the local Girl Scout headquarters are being moved this week from the Medford National Bank building to the Boy Scout headquarters on East Main Street near Bear Creek bridge. It was announced today. Space in the Boy Scout building has been granted the girls' organization, which will occupy a room in the back section of the building, now being arranged for the transfer.

NORMAL SCRIBES PRODUCE PAPER

In the first issue of "The Siskiyou," school publication of the Southern Oregon Normal school, only the special positions on the editorial and business staffs were announced. This was because the abilities of the different people who applied for positions have not yet been fully discovered. People who worked on the first issue and who do commendable work on the next will be chosen to fill the various positions. It is felt that this new system will give all students who are interested in newspaper work an equal chance to show their talents.

ASK CANDIDATES TO TALENT MEET

There will be a prohibition program at the Talent M. E. church Friday evening at 7:30, sponsored by the Men's Bible class at which this issue will be discussed. Four phases of the subject will be presented by four speakers: E. Peterson and R. C. Logan of Talent, A. W. Shephard of Phoenix and Rev. S. W. Hall of Ashland. The musical numbers will be a piano solo by Miss Esther Holdridge, a vocal solo by Miss Dorothy Baughman and a selection by the Talent school orchestra. Everybody is invited, especially all candidates for office. There will be no charge, and no offering will be taken.

Christian Endeavorers To Present Play

After much practice the Christian Endeavorers of the First Christian church are presenting the play, "Squaring It With the Boss," at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, October 19, at the church on Ninth and Oakdale. A silver offering will be taken. The play is a clever comedy, and it is hoped that the ones seeing it will have many a laugh before the play and the evening entertainment is over. The cast is chosen from the members of the Endeavor society, also special numbers are given by persons from the young people's group.

The play gives a vivid picture of family life after the return from vacation. After a month's absence they return to find that their two aunts and a Mr. Dunne (Mr. Greening's boss), is coming for dinner. This makes it necessary for certain complications to be solved. Mr. Greening, Norman Fraley; Mrs. Greening, Lois Carter; Clarissa Shonta, Leneve Stimpkins; Hortense Luden, Marjorie Gregory; Johnnie Bender, Price Shafer; Mr. Dunne, Jerry Latham; Mrs. Bender, Katherine Chaney; Mr. Baird as the advisor; Adrian Fraley, director, and Alice Pahl, assistant director.

IMMATURE TURKS KEEP PRICE DOWN EGG TONE STRONG

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 18.—(AP)—Market for butter is practically featureless along the coast. No price changes were reflected locally either for prints or for cubes and along the coast a similar trading trend is noted. Portland market continues one of the best in point of trading undertone. Storage stocks here are not, and have been in point, burdensome the current season.

Butterfat continues to show strength at practically all points along the coast. Market for eggs continues to reflect strong tone for practically all offerings locally and with prices well maintained. However, values at some points are clearly above a selling basis and are boosted simply to sell more storage goods.

There is more than passing weakness in the market for spring chickens and especially the white sorts. Prices are extremely low but receivers are unable to clean up promptly. Other sorts are firmer.

With some carryover from the previous week, the market for country killed calves appears a trifle weaker and even lower priced. Hogs are steady and fairly active as are lambs. While reports indicate negotiations for further supplies of onions to go to China, no deals have been confirmed. The orient is not inclined to pay more and growers appear tired of selling so low. Country trading too limited to consider.

With local potatoes scarce there is an increasing demand for Deschutes potatoes here with more or less pep infused into selling organizations of the Redmond country. The trade here is being supplied and its wants are increasing. Yakima stock dragging.

There is a rather good local movement of comb honey and prices are being held steady as a rule. Poor dressed turkeys are hurting the sale not only of this class of stuff, but even of the better offerings. Immature new crop birds are finding little favor even no higher generally than 16-18c lb.

NO TRACE HERE OF RUNAWAY MAID

Officers have been unable to find a trace of Leona Bena, 15, of Yakima, Wash., who ran away from her home in that city October 11, en route to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Laura Watkins of Butte Falls. The information was turned over to the state police who visited the Watkins residence late yesterday, and found that the girl had not arrived there. Mrs. Watkins told the officer she received a letter yesterday from Mrs. Bena that the girl was coming here for a visit.

The girl was described as having long-hobbed brown curly hair, brown eyes, weighs 120 pounds, and was said to be wearing a leopard coat and low-heeled shoes at the time of leaving home. She also carried a suitcase and an Indian blanket.
