

EGGS UP CENT AS WEATHER CHILLS

PORTLAND, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Advances of 10 dozen forced in the selling price on medium grade fresh eggs here by E. J. Dixon, general manager of the Pacific co-op, was recognition of the seasonable influences.

Cold weather in many parts of the country is causing a big decrease in current laying. Production is falling in most sections of the country while demand for eggs is gaining. The increase in call is being easily taken care of by the storage stocks although these are decreasing at such a rapid rate that some fears are expressed that an acute shortage may be forced early next spring, or before the new laying season becomes generally effective. However those that have storage eggs for sale, are selling them while the sun is hiding.

The new advance of 10 in medium brings the price to 25c dozen. Other eggs are unchanged.

Market for butter reflects a generally steady tone locally with no change suggested in the price of either prints or cubes. Butterfat remains on a firm basis.

Lower prices are being named for spring chickens here with decreasing interest and a pileup of supplies. Sales are generally about 1 cent below former prices.

Conditions are fully steady in the market for live hens with all sorts finding favor and prices maintained as the late advance. Effort of some killers to remove this advance by stricter grading is reported.

Movement of turkeys to market continues to increase with demand just slightly better. Prices are unchanged as a rule with most sales of good birds 20-22 cents pound for dressed stock.

Further weakness has been forced in the market for country killed calves with sales generally about 1/2 cent a pound lower for all offerings. Extreme top now is around 8 cents a pound.

Market for country killed hogs and lambs is holding steady with no change in prices. Yearlings are practically off the market but some ewes are moving and selling 2-3 cents a pound.

Weakening influences are showing in the market for apples with offerings from most districts on consignment far greater than the ability of the trade to absorb. Export movement is confined mostly to consignments.

TURKEYS CHEAPER AND MORE OF THEM

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Plenty of turkeys for the holidays and at prices 8 to 10 cents lower than last year, was the prospect held up to the consuming public today by George Makina, general manager of the California Turkey Growers' association, after a survey. "Our survey," said Makina, "shows a 13.8 per cent increase in live turkeys as compared with the same date last year. The wholesale price averages about 10 cents a pound less than a year ago. That is almost 30 per cent cheaper, as fancy turkeys sold last year for 35 or 36 cents wholesale.

"Growers," said Makina, "should be warned against dealers, peddlers and independent buyers going through the country advising them that the market is going to pieces. In some instances they are persuading the farmers to sell their live turkeys as low as 16 or 17 cents a pound. That is wrong because turkeys from now on will put on about one pound of flesh per week and the market will not go to pieces."

WHEAT PRICES UP DUE TO WEATHER

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Unfavorable weather for spring crop movement northwest and for winter crop seeding and growth southwest contributed toward strengthening of wheat prices today.

Winnipeg reported arrivals of wheat amounted to only 837 cars today, compared with 3083 a week ago, and 928 at this time last year.

Wheat closed firm, 1/4 to 1 cent above yesterday's finish, corn a shade up, oats 1/4 to 1/2 advanced, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.
