

KELLY AND NEFF DISCUSS ISSUES AT ROUSING MEET

A rousing meeting of the local Democracy was held at the county courthouse auditorium last night, when more than 100 Democrats gathered for the meeting of the Young Democratic club, featuring addresses by Colonel E. E. Kelly and Attorney Porter J. Neff, who are stumping the county for promotion of the success of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket.

Edward C. Kelly, candidate for the Oregon legislature from this district, also addressed the audience, listing his qualifications for the position and emphasizing the growth of bureaucracies in the United States and the dangers involved.

Candidates for county offices on the Democratic ticket were also seated on the platform and were introduced to the audience by Moore Hamilton, president of the Young Democratic club, who presided.

Colonel Kelly, in his address, reviewed the success of the 1916 campaign of the Democratic party, for which he stumped the county with Attorney Neff, and assured the crowd that he expects Roosevelt to go into office with a greater majority than was awarded Woodrow Wilson.

He spent much time on the prohibition question as an economic issue, listing the tremendous costs of attempted enforcement of the law and the increase in deaths from alcoholism each year.

"The tremendous sums going into the coffers of the bootleggers should be returning to the people. We have discarded a source of revenue," Colonel Kelly declared, "which all other civilized nations of the world are taking advantage of. The federal courts, who formerly devoted their time to momentous questions, are now trying to decide who owns a pint of moonshine whiskey."

"Repeal of the eighteenth amendment, however," Colonel Kelly added, "is not an issue in this campaign. Both parties admit the failure of the amendment predicted by Woodrow Wilson when he opposed its passage."

Costs of the upkeep of the White House during the administration of Woodrow Wilson, at war prices, were compared with the costs of President Hoover's upkeep of the presidential dwelling, by Colonel Kelly, who listed the recent costs as five times the total of Wilson's administration.

Attorney Neff, in advancing the campaign of Governor Roosevelt, dealt almost exclusively with the financial problem, laying the cause of depression at "big business" door. Since the close of the World war, he pointed out, big business has been in control in the United States. Not one humanitarian measure has been advanced or passed by the administration. The cabinet is filled with big business men, he added, describing the present period as outstanding in world history for its concentration of wealth and the control of government by big business men.

This excessive accumulation of capital, permitted and encouraged under the Republican administration, he held responsible for the recent depression, and closed his address with a plea to the people to vote for Governor Roosevelt, who has a thought "for the ordinary man."

Sheriff Ralph Jennings was then called upon by the club president to contribute a few words to the Democratic cause. He stated that the ground had been so completely covered by Kelly and Neff that he could think of nothing to add except his positive agreement.

Mr. Bryan, a new resident in Medford, attending with his daughter, Mary Virginia, added a sparkling Democratic story from Will Rogers' story to the meeting.

James Stevens, the Democrats' favorite and official soloist, was unable to be present, because of a severe cold, but sent greetings and promises to attend the next meeting.

An optimistic looking orange donkey contributed by Mrs. Kelly, appeared on the platform as mascot of the party. He will visit Jacksonville with Kelly and Neff tonight.

BONUS WAR POLICE CHIEF QUILTS POST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of Washington police, who was at odds with administration members over the calling of troops to evict the bonus army, has tendered his resignation to the District of Columbia commissioners.

Glassford, a retired brigadier-general, disputed statements by his supporters that he had said troops were necessary to restore order, following clashes between veterans and police.

His resignation, however, grew out of official opposition to changes in personnel he wished to make in the police department.

Criticized because of the manner in which he handled the bonus army, Glassford replied by declaring that the situation was never out of control of the police. He contended that the calling of the troops who drove the veterans from government property on July 29 with tear gas and bayonet was unnecessary.

EARLY RE-OPENING WHEAT BELT BANKS

LA GRANDE, Ore., Oct. 20.—(AP)—"Business as usual" was the slogan in La Grande today, although without immediate banking facilities and with a serious curtailment of currency in circulation. Activities were continuing unabated with the Elks' Days of '49 show enjoying a fair-sized crowd last night and with a large department store beginning a large merchandising event today.

Although the First National bank of La Grande did not open yesterday because of voluntary action on the part of the directors to protect depositors, estimates today were that several hundred thousand dollars were held by La Grande either in cash or in accounts in other depositories.

A statement issued by the bank today said that from March 7, when the bank was organized, to October 18, shrinkage in deposits amounted to $65,847.90. The statement was repeated that depositors were not expected to lose in the process of liquidation.

Some La Grande business men continued financial transactions yesterday and today through deposits made at the First National bank at Union, a neighboring town.

The statement from the directors indicated the possibility of reopening of the bank provided "a united public effort" was forthcoming. "But the effort must be whole-hearted and universal," the statement said.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The First National Bank of Idaho and affiliated banks in Idaho and eastern Oregon are expected to open within the next few days, the Boise Statesman said today in a dispatch from Washington, D. C.

This dispatch stated that the reconstruction finance corporation yesterday voted to make an advance in cash which, added to the liquid assets of the bank group, would permit all the affiliated institutions to reopen. The banks closed August 31, with deposits amounting at that time to about $10,000,000. The reconstruction finance corporation voted a cash advance after being informed that the banks' 300,000 stock issue had been oversubscribed and depositors' waivers were being signed.

BORAH PLEADS FOR DISARMAMENT IN HOME STATE TALK

SHELLEY, Ida., Oct. 20.—(AP)—With an impassioned appeal for international reduction of armaments and relief of the farmer debt burden, Senator William E. Borah, in an address to 1500 people at a potato day celebration here today, continued his campaign which he said is in behalf of neither party.

He warned his audience, which packed the Latter Day Saints church stake tabernacle, that policies he advocated were found in the platform of neither party and that he assumed full responsibility for them.

Picturing the world situation in which 75 per cent of the gold is held by the United States and France, he said other nations were powerless to buy American goods because of this situation and because of the demonization of silver, which he termed the "primary money of over half the world."

He warned that until the farmer is relieved of his present burden of indebtedness, the country is powerless to escape the depression, and said some acts of farm loan banks "would make Shylock look like a gentleman."

In an emphatic conclusion, he declared: "We are in too large a measure, in my judgment, victims of the crime which began in 1914."

He ended his speech of a little over an hour with an appeal for a time when the "human race gets back to a place where it can devote brain and brawn for the benefit of mankind, and not for the murder of fellowmen."

JAY GOULD COUNT TO FINAL AWARD

PARIS, France, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Marquis Boni De Castellane, for many years "arbiter of elegance," bon vivant and Beau Brummel of the Paris boulevards, died today, aged 64. The end came after a week's serious illness in which the results of a paralytic stroke were complicated by bronchitis.

Formerly the husband of Anna Gould, American heiress and daughter of Jay Gould, his marriage to the rail king's daughter made it possible for him to realize the dream of supremacy in the world he loved—a world of thoroughbred horses, marble palaces, the opera, society and the company of brilliant women.

LEADERSHIP, NOT DISCONTENT, MAIN AIM, SAYS MELLON

MANCHESTER, Eng., Oct. 20.—(AP)—United States Ambassador Andrew Mellon gave his complete endorsement to the record of the Hoover administration today in an address before the English-speaking union.

He endorsed the measures taken by the administration to meet the economic crisis; he denied that the American tariff has had the adverse effect on trade with which it sometimes has been credited, and he expressed regret that the American election is not to be decided on the merits of important policy, "but rather on the vague and general issue of discontent with existing conditions."

"There is a disposition on the part of many people which is not unnatural perhaps, however unfair it may be, to blame the president and his administration for the calamities which have overtaken America and the world," he said.

"It would be just as unreasonable to blame the governor of Massachusetts for the low prices of textiles, or the governor of Minnesota for world conditions which have resulted in a low price for wheat."

"In the case of President Hoover, it is particularly unfair, for no one has worked harder—and, I think, more intelligently and with more courage and vision—than has the president both in his efforts to avoid impending calamities and to minimize their effects when they came."

Mr. Mellon's support or President Hoover echoed throughout the speech. "In the final analysis," he said, "the real question is one of leadership rather than of issues. . . . It is a solemn decision."

CANBERRA, Australia, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The 1932 Australian wheat crop was estimated by the government today at 200,000,000 bushels.

Recovery Will Stop If Hoover Out Of White House

If you are a farmer and are hard-up or a workman and out of a job, you are probably mad at the President. You know in your heart he did not cause the depression and if you look the situation squarely in the face, you know that his hard, thankless work has kept the country from sliding down further into calamity than it has gone.

Now then, here is this pleasant, agreeable Democratic presidential candidate, with a smile that won't come off. Suppose he is elected. He will have his second term to try for; he will have to compromise with every Democrat greedy for patronage who will hold up Roosevelt for every righteous measure which Roosevelt might ask. His first term will see America passing through the valley of the shadow of catastrophe.

For with Hoover out of the White House, recovery is bound to stop—

Why not elect a man who wouldn't have to give in to this crowd or battle and barter with that crowd to get a renomination—or a re-election? Isn't it common sense to give this man a second term and a second chance where he will be free? Gov. Roosevelt will be hog-tied by his party's interests.

Think over these things. Forget your grouches, take a deep breath and summon your common sense. Don't be so mad that you will bite off your own nose to spite your face.—William Allen White, on Emporia Gazette.

School "Juggling" Bill

WARNING

Don't be MISLED!

Destructive Expansion is proposed under the guise of Economy and Consolidation, by the Zorn-Macpherson School "Juggling" Bill, which actually . . .

- DOES NOT REDUCE BY A SINGLE PENNY the basic State tax you now pay for higher education.
- ESTABLISHES 4 NEW SCHOOLS, at Ashland, La Grande, Eugene and Salem.
- CREATES 2 NEW TYPES OF SCHOOLS—Junior Colleges and Teachers' College, of questionable value to Oregon.
- ESTABLISHES STATE SUPPORT for Junior Colleges in every Oregon city or town.
- JUNKS AND DISCARDS OVER $4,000,000.00 of taxpayer-owned buildings and land.
- NECESSITATES NEW BUILDING PROGRAM and triples costly equipment now at University or State College.
- INCREASES INSTRUCTION COSTS 25 per cent for University and Oregon State students.
- DECREASES WORKING STUDENTS' CHANCES 40 per cent, depriving hundreds of an opportunity for higher education.
- WRECKS PRESENT UNIFICATION PLAN—This plan is saving taxpayers $900,000.00 per year compared with previous costs for State schools.
- DEPRIVES OREGON STATE COLLEGE of its high rank as a technical school by submerging of agricultural courses.

Voters, Think! The above facts overwhelm the half-truths and partial statements, made by the proponents of this school "juggling" scheme.

Briggs Explains Attitude Toward Conduct District Attorney's Office

TO THE PEOPLE OF JACKSON COUNTY:

As the Republican nominee for the office of District Attorney of Jackson County, I believe the people are entitled to know my attitude toward the conduct of that office—in other words, what my platform is. Briefly, I would state same as follows:

1. That every citizen of Jackson County coming in contact with my office will receive a square deal, with the idea in mind that the District Attorney's office is for the purpose, not only of prosecuting and bringing to justice the wrong-doer, but of protecting the innocent.
2. I believe in the observance of the law safeguarding the issuance of search warrants, and that every citizen is entitled to his constitutional rights regarding search and seizure. I do not believe in the issuance of so-called "blanket" search warrants, and shall approve only the issuance of search warrants based upon proper affidavits showing "probable cause".
3. I pledge myself to give efficient and prompt attention to the duties required of the District Attorney under the law.
4. I believe information can be obtained by properly deputized officers, operating under the direction of the Sheriff and state police. You cannot have a high type of enforcement without a high type of men engaged in such work.
5. I agree to conduct the office with as much economy as is consistent with efficiency.
6. I believe in the enforcement and observance of the law. I believe that law was intended to meet the ends of justice, and it follows therefrom that reason, and a consideration of surrounding circumstances, must be intermingled with its enforcement.

In stating the above pledges and beliefs, I am not to be construed, directly or indirectly, as making inference against my Democratic opponent; I am simply stating what I, personally, stand for. I am conducting my campaign on my own beliefs and merits, and criticism of an opponent will not enhance my own qualifications.

THE STRIPED TIGER
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great animal artist, Paul Bransom . . . inspired by the savage ferocity of the striped tiger, known throughout the world as the terror of the jungle. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
