

YOUNG FOLKS TALK LIQUOR CONTROL

Young folks of the First Methodist church tonight continue the discussion of the use and control of alcoholic liquors at 8:30 o'clock. Much interest has been shown in the matter.

"What Methods of Control of the Liquor Traffic Have Been Tried, and With What Results?" is the question for consideration. Hugh Shurtleff is the leader.

Carl E. Grant, district manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, will be guest speaker, and address the attendants on "Liquor and Long Life," from the standpoint of life insurance.

Several of the young folks will take part in the discussion and one of the methods of control of liquor, including local option, the Canadian system, the Bratt or Swedish system, and national prohibition.

Special musical numbers will be given by Mrs. L. M. Crain, pianist, and Mrs. Crain and George Bennett, vocal duet. Miss Mary Roseberry leads the opening song program. Young folks cordially invited.

Obituary

Eleanor Ann Bailey, formerly of Eagle Point, but recently of Phoenix, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. T. Morgan. She is survived by one son, James W. Bailey of Harlan, Iowa, and a daughter, Lois McMahan of Wapato, Wash., also two sisters and two brothers in the east.

Funeral arrangements, in charge of Conger's funeral parlors, will be announced later.

Husband Found Guilty
Fred Stimson was today found guilty of assault and battery charges filed by his wife, Lydia Stimson, and was fined $25. In Judge Glenn O. Taylor's court. The sentence was suspended by the judge with the understanding that Stimson cease such assaults, and support his wife and two children.

AWARD DENIED IN HEART BALM SUIT

A verdict favoring the defendant and denying Miss Marguerite Kirk-Smith of Seattle heart balm in her breach of promise suit for $25,000 against Robt. W. Frame of Central Point and Phoenix, was returned by the circuit court jury and opened by Judge H. D. Norton this morning.

The jury went out at 7:30 o'clock last night and brought in a sealed verdict at 10:30. Testimony in the case was completed yesterday afternoon, following a two-day session of the court, and the arguments, completed at 3:30 o'clock. The jurors were asked to return after dinner to receive the judge's instructions. The courtroom was filled for the trial both days. Miss Kirk-Smith was represented by Attorney Ralph Hammer of Seattle and A. P. Johnson of Portland, and the defendant by Don Newbury of this city.

CHECK TRUCK ON COAST HIGHWAY

State highway department, assisted by state police, yesterday conducted a 24-hour check at the Redwood Junction, stopping all cars in each direction. The highway department had man obtaining information concerning truck operations, with the state police stopping the vehicles, and checking on licenses.

Mr. Breaker of Salem, in charge of the department at Salem in Medford yesterday and conducted the count.

COMMUNITY CHEST PLANS FOR FUTURE

The Community Chest board, although the organization will not carry on an active campaign this year, will remain intact and ready for service. It was announced today, following a meeting of the board last night.

The organization will be ready for work if an emergency arises and will be ready to carry on next year, it was stated, when it is felt the need for the chest will again be realized. Special effort will be made to collect outstanding pledges in order to meet obligations already contracted. Those owing the Chest are urged to pay as soon as possible. The decision made to abandon the campaign this season is expected to set as a year's moratorium, the board members stated, and not as a permanent closing of the Chest program.
