land bank borrowers when in the judgment of bank directors conditions justify such action, with provisions for deferring such unpaid amounts to the end of such amortization periods.

"This partial and temporary extension will help the farmers to save their farms until they can secure a better net income through the working out of the plans which I have discussed for the solution of the general farm program."

He charged that some of the joint stock land banks "have pursued a policy of destructive selfishness contrary to the spirit and purpose of the farm loan act."

Saying President Hoover in his Des Moines address "took occasion to disclaim responsibility for the policies of these joint stock land banks," he asserted that "for this failure to enforce the law, the president and his administration are to blame."

"I propose," he said, "that these powers of the federal farm board (to exercise general supervisory authority over the federal land banks, national farm associations and joint stock land banks) shall be fully exercised to the end that this distressing situation shall be immediately remedied and to the end that the enlightened purposes of the democratic created farm loan act shall be fully carried out."

President Hoover at Des Moines, he said, made "a grudging and hastily improved attempt to hang onto the cottails of the (farm mortgage) policy enunciated by the democratic party this year."

that the president will go home to California to vote, but it is a receding possibility.

During the coming week the mid-west will have its last opportunity to see the major figures of the campaign. While the Republican nominee travels to Detroit, and possibly makes one later trip to that section, Governor Roosevelt will be heading back eastward and southward from St. Louis.

The final episode will take place in the east. Both candidates and some of their principal supporters will be heard during the first week of November in New York and New England. And the burden of their speeches will be the depression and the way out of it.

COOKIES—NEW AND OLD

In comparing the "old" cookies with the "new" cookies, it seems to me that the old cookie jar and the new bright enamel tin boxes come into the picture representing just about the difference in the cookies of our memories and those of the present fashion. The "old" cookies seem to have been large and soft, kept so in the old earthen jar perhaps, and the "new" cookies are small, thin and crisp usually. Both kinds are good, so let us make some of each kind from time to time and, from now to spring, see that the jar or the box where cookies should be shall never disappoint any member of the family who is looking around for a "bite" between times. And, don't forget that fresh cookies may be made in just a few minutes if you have the dough stored in your electric refrigerator, rolled into shape, ready for slicing and slip into the oven at a minute's notice.

Old Fashioned Oatmeal Cookies

1/2 cup shortening,
1 1/2 cups brown sugar,
2 eggs,
1 teaspoon vanilla,
1 cup sour milk,
1 teaspoon soda,
1 1/2 cups flour,
1/2 teaspoon salt,
2 cups oatmeal.

Cream the shortening and sugar together, add the eggs and vanilla and mix until smooth. Add the milk in which the soda has been dissolved, then the flour, salt and oatmeal. Mix thoroughly and drop by spoonfuls on cookie sheet to bake at 425 degrees from 8 to 10 minutes (depending upon size).

Sour Cream Cookies

1 cup shortening,
2 cups sugar,
2 eggs,
1 cup sour cream,
1 teaspoon soda,
4 cups flour,
1 teaspoon lemon extract,
1/2 teaspoon salt.

Cream the shortening, add sugar and cream again. Add beaten eggs. Dissolve the soda in the sour cream and all salt to the flour then add the cream and flour alternately to the creamed mixture. Chill, then roll about 1/8 inch thick and bake at 425 degrees.

Soft Molasses Cookies

1 cup shortening,
2 cups brown sugar,
1 cup light molasses,
1 egg,

PROFITABLE HOUR FOR MEN SUNDAY

The Everyman's Bible class had a very good attendance and a fine program at their initial meeting last Sunday in the auditorium of the new court house.

The class invites every man in Medford and vicinity to attend this class every Sunday morning at 9:30 sharp.

The men's chorus will sing again Sunday morning and there will be inspirational songs by the class. W. H. Baird, a man among men and an entertaining speaker, will have a real message for men.

You are sure of spending a profitable hour at this class meeting.

LONELY OLD MAN TAKES OWN LIFE

CATTLE ROCK, Wash., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Despondent and lonely Dan C. Johnson, 71, former resident of Coos county, Oregon, ended his life last night by hanging himself from a rafter in a wood shed at the rear of the apartment house where he had resided since last spring. Coroner Cecil C. Hallin pronounced it suicide.

On a table in Johnson's room, was a note scrawled on an empty envelope. It read: "This is for Grace. Goodbye to all. I am in the wood shed." "Grace" is a daughter, Mrs. Grace Burrill of Arago, Ore. Another note attached to a box contained papers and personal effects and read: "Grace, goodbye. I am only in the way."

Johnson's body will be buried beside that of his first wife here. He was separated from his second wife, Mrs. Kate Johnson of Portland.

University Women Meet

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The state-wide annual conference of the American Association of University Women will convene here this afternoon for a two-day session. Mrs. G. A. Johnson of Portland, state president, will preside at a banquet tonight at which Dr. Edward O. Sisson will be the principal speaker. Following tonight's banquet a formal reception will be given and a full program is scheduled for tomorrow.

LONGVIEW REPORT

LONGVIEW, Wash., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Deputies under Sheriff O. H. Gray today were seeking E. T. Sherwood of Los Angeles, who yesterday secured a license at Kelso to wed Sylvia E. Wilson of Seattle, in the belief that Sherwood may be E. B. Thomas, missing Redondo, Cal. school superintendent for whom California authorities have been conducting an extensive search since Tuesday night when he disappeared.

Sherwood is thought to have been married at Kalama last night. Officers are checking this phase of the case now. If Sherwood is Thomas, and if he was married to Miss Wilson, California officers have said they would wire a warrant of arrest on a bigamy charge.

Thomas, at first believed to be the victim of kidnapers, was last seen at his home in Redondo Monday.

DOG FAILS TO SAVE
MASTER FROM BULL

LATAH, Wash., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The story of a German shepherd dog's unsuccessful fight to save his master from death on the horns of a bull was told here today.

George Miller, 78, one of the earliest settlers of this region, was driving cows on his farm here yesterday afternoon when the bull charged him. The dog, following the aged man, sprang to his defense, but not before the animal gored him. The dog drove the animal away, holding him at bay until Mrs. Miller and a son, who witnessed the tragedy from a distance, summoned help. Miller died 12 hours later.

Miller, who came to this region from Oregon more than 50 years ago, had been prominent in public affairs, having held numerous school district and county offices. His widow, three sons and four daughters survive him.
