

Burghermeisters Meet Grants Pass With Injury Weakened Line-Up

TOMORROW'S GAME MAY DECIDE TITLE; VISITORS HEFTIER

Fichtner To Play Half With Greaves At Full—Galinski On Bench.

KLAMATH FALLS, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Corvallis high school's football team was here today ready to meet Klamath Union high school's Peicans on Modoc field this afternoon.

(By Claude Mank.) A badly mauled and depleted Tiger team will mix with their traditional foemen, the Grants Pass Bears, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at Van Scoyoc field. This will probably be the deciding tilt for the district title. Since Grants Pass upset all advance dope by their sensational upset of the heavy Pelican title-claiming team, two weeks ago, they have been preparing for the Medford mix-up with joy in their hearts—a chance to grab the title from the Bengals. The reports issuing from the northern city show that Coach Beers' boys figure on a tough but successful equalizing of the locals, and the players have predicted that lots of blood will run.

Sickness, and other things, have left a number of holes in the Burgher lineup, and it has been necessary to juggle the players around to fill in. Don Greaves, who for several years has been a stalwart of the line, has been shifted into the backfield and in the game with the Cavemen will appear in the fullback position. Fichtner, who was scheduled to warm the bench, will be back in, playing at half. White, who was out of the last game, will also be playing. It is very doubtful whether Lewis, shifty back, will see action, except from the bench, for the flu got him, along with most of the other regulars. Galinsky will not start the game.

The Cavemen, who have about a seven-pound advantage over the locals, are pinning their scoring hopes on McGuire, end, and Prady, fullback. The line, centering around Fredericks, all-around star who is stationed at tackle, is expected to turn back any line plays the Medford squad can pull.

Medford, last year's district champs, blanked their northern brothers by a heavy score, but the year before the Cavemen squeezed the Tigers out, 7-6, for the title, and so naturally the boys look at this game as the one which will decide the supremacy between the two teams. Some team is going to lose its scalp. It will be a battle of hard-hitting brawn and quick-thinking brain.

Nothing definite has been decided about the lineups but they will probably be:
Medford— Grants Pass—
Bennett—E—Cook
Lindley—E—McGuire
Shaw—T—Jacquette
Kindred—T—Thompson
Minear—G—Johnson

Geim—G—Fredericks
Wammack—C—Palmer
White—Q—Strack
Fichtner—HB—Neely
Knips—HB—Wyatt
Greaves—FB—Prady
The admission prices will be: General admission, adults 50c; grandstand 25c extra, and grade pupils 15c.

LONGVIEW, Wash., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Mistaking her husband for a deer, Mrs. William Bertz yesterday shot and killed him as the two were hunting north of Longview.

The man and woman had separated while hunting in the underbrush. When Bertz returned to the starting place his wife saw his gray cap through the brush and fired. He died at once.

TROJAN-STANFORD GAME TOMORROW DRAW 80,000 FANS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Heading important Pacific Coast conference football games tomorrow, University of Southern California Trojans and Stanford University Cardinals, rivals in many years of bitter grid competition, will meet at Palo Alto.

An almost-capacity crowd of approximately 80,000 fans is expected to watch "Pop" Warner's red and white warriors take the field as favorites to defeat their southern opponents for the first time since 1926.

The game is regarded here as probably the football "natural" of the coast this season. Both teams are unbeaten this year. U. S. C. is last year's defending champion, and Stanford, with a list of increasingly impressive showings, appears to be headed toward the top. The outcome of the contest may be a critical point in the conference race.

Three other well-matched conference games are also listed on the week-end slate. At Seattle, "Navy Bill" Ingram's University of California Bears will try their luck with Jimmy Phelan's University of Washington Huskies. In view of the Bears' "off again-on again" propensities this year, the outcome of the game is dangerous to predict. Ingram, however, regards the Washington trip as a unifying influence for his squad and a possible starting point for a good showing later in the season.

Fresh from their 7-to-12 victory over California last week, "Babe" Hollingbery's Washington State Cougars meet the Oregon State Beavers in another more or less "traditional rival" battle. Comparative scores against U. S. C. favor Oregon State, but the dope bucket has it otherwise.

The University of Idaho Vandals, stronger this season than for a number of years, are nevertheless underdogs by a slight margin in their contest at Moscow against the strong Oregon University Webfeet. The Oregon eleven, however, will be handicapped by the absence, due to injuries, of several stars.

The two other conference members, U. C. L. A. and Montana, will engage non-conference opponents. The Uclans will meet California Tech at Los Angeles, and the Montanans tackle Montana State at Bozeman.

FROSH-ROOK FEUD RE-OPENS TONIGHT

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The annual Oregon Frosh-Oregon State rook feud will be resumed here tonight in the first of a two-game series to decide the freshman championship of the state. The second game will be played at Eugene November 4. Little is known of the comparative strength of the two teams. Both

STATERS IN SHAPE FOR W. S. C. BATTLE

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Just a light workout today, then the Orangemen of Oregon State college will retire to rest until tomorrow afternoon, when they will meet the Washington State Cougars in a Pacific Coast conference football game on Bell field here.

Coach Paul J. Schisler cast an appraising eye over his men today and found them all in the best of condition, with the exception of the veteran center, Curtin, injured last Sunday in an automobile accident in Portland.

Local fans were let in for a little surprise when Coach Schisler announced today the lineup he will start against the Cougars. Joelin was given the play at fullback instead of Little, and Blacone was switched from quarter to left half.

The struggle Saturday will be the 22nd game between the two schools. Oregon State has won 11 victories, Washington State 9, and one game was a tie.

SCHAAF DEFEATED BY NEGRO UNKNOWN

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The flat-toboggan slide appears well greased for Ernie Schaff.

This once-promising youngster took a long rest after a disastrous summer season, during which he was beaten by Stanley Poreda and Max Baer, and last night he tried to get back into his winning stride against unknown Winston, a negro battler from Hartford.

Schaff weighed 206 pounds, 23 more than Winston, but put on such a sorry showing that he finished on the short end of a divided decision.

The Boston Viking was slow and sluggish. He fought without the advice of Champion Jack Sharkey, his co-manager, who was unwilling to give up a Nova Scotia hunting trip to second his protégé, thus lending credence to the reports that he and Ernie are on unfriendly terms. There were many times during the bruising struggle against Winston when a verbal lash might have whipped Schaff into point-winning action.

This battle, which drew a capacity crowd of 12,000 to the arena, was a return engagement. Early in the summer Schaff clashed with Winston at Springfield and gained a technical knockout verdict after being outboxed in the early rounds.

NO GREEN FEES ON COURSE SUNDAY

Big news for golfers, who are longing to get out and make the most of Indian summer, while it lasts, was announced today by F. W. Chausse, owner of the new Medford Public Golf course. He issued an invitation this morning to all golfers to play the course Sunday, October 23. No green fees will be charged that day, all members of the golfing party to be guests of the management.

All those who have previously played the course, are asked to call again and note the improvements, which have been accomplished since the early fall rains. Mr. Chausse says he has a grand layout for winter golf, as the grounds drain and dry quickly after rains, and that the regular greens will hold up for winter play.

Prizes will be awarded Sunday for the nearest "hole in one" shot at 75 yards; the longest drive on No. 7 fairway; best approach shot at 25 yards; the best score made during the day and also to each member of the foresome teeing off first Sunday morning.

Week's Fatalities. SALEM, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Four fatalities resulted during the past week from industrial accidents, the state commission announced today. Accidents during the period resulted in 510 injuries.
